Republicans Rout Democrats In Maine

Mrs. Smith Has 5 To 1 Margin In Senate Race

Trends Are Sought; Seven States Hold Primaries Today

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 13 (AP)—Maine Republicans captured all top offices in today's general election—the first in the nation. It was the GOP's seventh straight "clean sweep" in that state.

By The Associated Press

Returns late last night gave the Republicans a top-heavy margin in Maine's election, the country's first in this presidential year.

The state traditionally is Republican but political leaders watched nevertheless the size of the vote for a possible indication of trends.

Unofficial counts showed GOP candidates for United States senator and representative as well as for governor running well ahead of Democratic opponents.

Among the leaders was Rep. Margaret Chase Smith, seeking election as the state's first woman senator. She had a lead of five to one over Dr. Adrian H. Scolten (D) in 151 of 621 precincts.

In the same number of precincts, Frederick G. Payne (R) was running far ahead of Louis B. Lausier (D) for governor.

The vote was Mrs. Smith 15,114, Scolten 3,356, Payne 14,249, Lausier 3,971.

Seven States Vote Today

Republicans also were ahead in three congressional races. Rep. Robert Hale had 4,887 votes to 1,487 for James A. McVicar (D) in 30 of 152 precincts in the First District.

In the Second, Charles P. Nelson (R) had 7,993 to 1,666 for Benjamin J. Arena (D) in 66 of 210 precincts. Rep. Frank Fellows (R) had 6,295 to 2,027 for F. Davis Clark (D) in

Johnson Scores Over Stevenson In Texas Battle

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 13—The Texas State Democratic Executive Committee tonight voted to certify Lyndon B. Johnson as the state's Democratic candidate for the United States Senate. The vote was 29 to 28.

The vote came after speeches by attorneys representing Johnson and his opponent, Coke Stevenson, arguing pro and con the validity of the vote in precinct 13 in Jim Wells County.

Stevenson refused to concede defeat. Asked what he considered the last authority in his contest, he said:

"I am thinking about the United States Senate."

Diplomat's Daughter Is Given Suspended Sentence

NEW YORK, Sept. 13—(AP)—A diplomat's beautiful daughter was given a suspended sentence today on vice charges by a magistrate who said she didn't need anyone standing over her "with a horsewhip."

As he suspended a three-month sentence against Mrs. Nancy Fletcher Choremi, 27, and two other women on charges relating to prostitution, Magistrate Arthur Markewich commented:

"The problem of prostitution is not solved in a criminal court. It is a social, economic and moral problem."

The two others, found guilty with Mrs. Choremi on evidence police obtained by wire-tapping telephone conversations, were Madeleine Blavier, 33, and Mrs. Margaret Starr, 30. All had pleaded innocent.

Mrs. Choremi is the daughter of C. Paul Fletcher, American consul general at Casablanca.

Truman Hits "Politicians" Who "Smear" Scientists

'Smears' Led Top Scientist To Quit Post

NEW YORK, Sept. 13—(AP)—The New York Star says Dr. Philip M. Morse has quit as director of the Brookhaven National Laboratory because of "irresponsible smears" at scientists by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The Star said in a copyrighted story that Morse also told it that actions of the committee have made it "increasingly difficult" to work at the experimental project where peacetime possibilities of atomic energy are being studied.

Morse resigned as director of Brookhaven last June 21.

He could not be reached tonight for confirmation of the Star's story.

The paper quoted Morse as saying:

"I had said a number of times that the job at the laboratory was a difficult one. It was a long uphill struggle in getting the staff together. But the committee did make it increasingly difficult in getting scientists to work there. x x x Many men preferred to take poorer paying jobs in universities x x x."

Morse was quoted as saying that atomic research at the project, at Brookhaven, N. Y., was being retarded.

He asserted, however, that "If conditions were to become better I and a number of other scientists would return immediately to government service."

The Star said Morse has returned to his post as physics professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He originally had been loaned to the project by M.I.T. in 1940.

Continuous Research Is Key To Security, President Asserts

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — President Truman tonight accused "some politicians" with "axes to grind and red herrings to drag around" of endangering the nation's security by "smears" against scientists.

Mr. Truman did not mention the House Un-American Activities Committee or another committee in the Senate inquiring into loyalty of government personnel by name in his speech but he left no doubt as to whom he had in mind.

Addressing the opening session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Constitution Hall, the President said that scientists "want to work in an atmosphere free from suspicion, personal insult or politically motivated attacks."

Americans' "Obligation"

He added: "All Americans have a solemn obligation to avoid those methods and procedures which are impeding scientific research — whether adopted mistakenly with good intent or advocated in the name of security by men with other axes to grind and red herrings to drag around."

Mr. Truman has twice at news conferences described Communist spy inquiries by the House committee and a special Senate committee headed by Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) as a "red herring" to divert attention from the need for action on high prices.

Members of the association and visitors—Constitution Hall officials estimated the crowd around 2,000—applauded the President at his introduction and at the conclusion of his address.

He made frequent departures from his prepared manuscript adding the phrase "red herrings to drag around."

He was accompanied to the hall by his Army, Navy and Air Forces aides for what he described as a "non-political speech."

He said he had to hurry back to the White House to resume work on his political speeches for his western campaign starting from Washington Friday.

Mr. Truman gave his support to the advocacy of a program devoting at least $2,000,000,000 yearly to scientific research and developments.

Hurricane Hits Bermuda No Lives Reported Lost

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 13 (AP) — A severe Atlantic hurricane raked the honeymoon and vacation resort of Bermuda today with winds of 100 miles an hour but no loss of life was reported.

The storm moving almost due north at 16 miles per hour, was centered at 4 p. m. (EST) about 50 miles northwest of Bermuda.

Chief Storm Forecaster Grady Norton said the hurricane apparently had begun a slow recurve to the north and northeast that will take it out to sea without any effects being felt along the United States coastline.

Strongest winds near the center of the hurricane were estimated by the Weather Bureau at 140 miles per hour, with hurricane winds (75 miles an hour and upward) covering an area of 60 to 80 miles around the center. Gales extend outward 200 miles.

Bermuda, a group of British islands about 600 miles off the South Carolina coast, was buffeted by winds that reached 123 miles an hour in gusts but there was no extensive property damage.

Main highways were blocked by debris, roads flooded and electric power cut off. Telephone service failed and commercial radio stations fell silent.

Power lines were blown down and streets were strewn with fallen tree limbs. The Eastern Steamships liner Evangeline was reported snug in the harbor at Hamilton.

Heavy rain swirled with the wind, and the city barricaded itself against the blow. Stores opened briefly to permit residents to stock up, then closed again. Buses stopped, and tourists and residents holed up in hotels and homes.

Army To Hire Men To Handle Pacific Cargo

Employers Balk; Pre-Strike Wages Will Be In Effect

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Army announced tonight that since most West Coast shipping and stevedoring interests have declined or failed to meet contracts to handle Army cargoes, it will hire its own stevedores.

The unions headed by Harry Bridges have offered to load military cargoes at the pre-strike wage and working conditions.

But employers have said they would not handle Army cargo "if it requires dealing with Communist Party line labor leaders.

Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall said that all but one of the West Coast stevedore contractors and charter vessel operators "have declined or have failed within the time prescribed" (4 p. m. Pacific Time, today) to indicate their intentions to carry out their current contracts to load and transport army cargo."

Pre-Strike Pay Rates

"Under the circumstances," Royall added, "the Army will undertake to employ at its regular West Coast port employment offices such stevedores and associated personnel as are needed to handle essential Army cargo."

The pay rates, Royall said, will be those in effect on the West Coast before the strike.

All those employed by the Army, Royall said, will be required to sign the usual Army loyalty affidavits.

The one company which had not made up its mind yet on whether to handle Army cargo under present conditions, Royall said, is the Pacific Far East Lines.

That organization asked for a 48-hour extension of time in which to reach a decision.

Must Sign Affidavits

Most of the West Coast employers have said they would not open contract negotiations with the striking CIO longshoremen unless Bridges and other leaders sign affidavits saying whether or not they are Communists.

The Army affidavits which stevedores will have to sign requires them to attest this way:

"I do swear (or affirm) that I do not advocate, nor am I a member of any political party or organization that advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence; and that during such time as I am employed I will not advocate nor become a member of any political party or organization that advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence."

"Gas" Rain Falls On Volcano Isle

MANILA, Tuesday, Sept. 14 (AP)—A misty, chemically-active rain is adding to the misery of some 5,000 Filipinos remaining on volcano-ravished Camiguin Island in the Southern Philippines.

Father Arthur Shea, American parish priest on the island, reported the rain had fallen on Mambajao, on the small island's northern coast. It smelled of chlorine gas, which Mount Hibokhibok has been belching since last week.

The mile-high volcano started erupting September 1 after sleeping 77 years. Of Camiguin's estimated 50,000 Filipino inhabitants, some 45,000 have been removed—mostly to nearby Mindanao.

Hibokhibok's temper continued grimly unpredictable. After two days of comparative calm over the weekend, the volcano rumbled to "renewed and worse activity." Relief workers renewed evacuation of the island.

Father Shea, in a message to the Associated Press, described the gas-tainted rain as causing "extreme irritation and smarting of the eyes."

American Naval Attache Aboard Missing Plane

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 13 (AP)—A United States Navy plane carrying the American naval attache in Ottawa and four other persons was missing today in Northern Manitoba.

The United States Embassy in Ottawa said its naval attache, Capt. Benjamin Scott Custer, Chevy Chase, Md., and Capt. Sir Robert Stirling-Hamilton, naval advisor to the British High Commissioner in Ottawa, both were aboard the missing plane. The plane, a two-motor Beechcraft, left Churchill, Man., Sunday morning for the Pas and Ottawa and has been unreported since then.

Berlin "X-Day" Reported Set By Reds; President Truman, Marshall Confer

State Dept. Rejects Russian Complaints Over Teachers' Cases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — President Truman checked the temperature of the boiling international situation today in a conference with Secretary of State Marshall.

They met at the White House shortly after the State Department had announced rejection of Soviet complaints over the cases of two Russian school teachers who say they do not want to be sent home.

Nobody doubted that the Berlin crisis and the delicate negotiations with the Russians there and in Moscow occupied nearly all of the time in the Truman-Marshall meeting. The participants, however, stuck tight to a policy of silence stated earlier at the State Department.

White House Silent

At the department, Press Officer Michael McDermott said at his news conference that he could not say anything at all about the Berlin and Moscow dealings.

The White House meeting between the President and the Secretary of State followed a luncheon session with the Cabinet.

Today Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters in advance that the Secretary would stay after the Cabinet luncheon to confer with Mr. Truman.

Afterward the White House would not discuss what might have gone on at the meeting. Officials would not even say how long he was there. They dismissed the talk as one of the conferences the President hold with the head of the State Department each week.

Presumably Studied U. S. Course

This country has been variously reported as planning with Britain and France to seek new meetings with Premier Stalin or Foreign Minister Molotov on the Berlin blockade and the dispute over German currency as planning a "white paper" to show who is to blame for the impasse in the former German capital, and as making ready to refer the affair to the United Nations.

Soviet-Provoked Wrangle Marks Paris Conference

Delegates Disagree On Meeting's Status

PARIS, Sept. 13 (AP)—Delegates of the Big Four powers disagreed today on whether they constitute a foreign ministers' council, leaving scant hope they can work out an accord on the future of Italy's pre-war colonies before a September 15 deadline.

After the fruitless first session, Etienne Burin Des Robiers, French colonial expert, said only that the four nations might agree on one of the colonies, Italian Somaliland. A British spokesman said he saw little chance of any agreement.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky accused the United States and Britain of violating the Italian peace by failing to send the foreign ministers to the conference.

He got a quick answer from Louis Douglas, United States ambassador to Britain, and Hector McNeil, British Minister of State. They told Vishinsky they were fully authorized to take decisions on the colonial issues in the name of their respective governments.

Schuman Backs U. S. Britain

Vishinsky said he did not have that authority. He said he could only discuss settlement of the questions.

Most of today's meeting therefore became a lengthy argument as to whether or not it was in fact a foreign ministers' council as established by the Potsdam pact.

Vishinsky said it was only a conference of "representatives" of the Big Four Powers to discuss the Italian colonial question.

French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman supported Douglas and McNeil.

Without reaching a decision on the point the conferees adjourned until 11 a. m. tomorow (5 a. m. Eastern Standard Time) when the report on the Italian colonies will be considered.

Today's session in the French Foreign Ministery with Schuman presiding broke up after four and a half hours of discussion.

Wednesday Is Deadline

Unless an agreement on disposition of the colonies is reached by Wednesday the subject wil be given to the United Nations Asembly, which convenes here September 21.

The colonies are Libia, Italian Somaliland and Eritrea.

Planned To Follow Elections In U. S., German Paper Says

BERLIN, Sept. 13—(AP)—The anti-Soviet German press reported today that the Russians had fixed "X-Day" for achieving Communist rule in Berlin.

An American government official said he had nothing to confirm the report, but he did not discount it.

The German newspaper Montags' Echo, a Liberal Democrat (conservative) Party organ, said "X-Day" was set for sometime after the November presidential elections in the United States.

Meanwhile, it added, the Russians had given the Communists orders to step up demonstrations because Moscow wanted no four-power settlement of the blockade crisis.

Airlift Record Broken

Montags' Echo said the date for the Communist seizure was fixed at a meeting of leaders of the Communist-dominated Socialist Unity Party (SED) who had instructions from the Soviet occupation chiefs.

The newspaper said also that the Russians promised to "interfere with the air supply shuttle by increasing their own plane maneuvers over Berlin."

The United States Air Force set a new record for the airlift today by flying 3,608.8 tons of supplies in 466 flights.

The Soviet war memorial was projected into the battle for Berlin again today by a shot fired by an unknown sniper last midnight.

The memorial, built by the Red army to immortalize the conquest of Berlin, lies just inside the British sector. Russian authorities told the British the shot apparently came from across the street, and a Soviet sentry fired two answering bullets at a shadow lurking there.

"Small Chipped Indentation"

The incident occurred only a day after an anti-Soviet German newspaper advised the Russians that if they don't tear down the monument the Germans some day would do it for them.

Germans hurled stones at the monument last Thursday and also attacked a jeepload of Russians driving toward it. This led to bloody street fighting in which shots were fired by Russian soldiers and their German police. A boy was killed and more than a score of Germans injured.

Reece Predicts Dewey Will Carry Tennessee

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—A prediction that Thomas E. Dewey will carry traditionally Democratic Tennessee in the presidential election came today from the former national chairman of the Republican Party.

Carroll Reece, GOP candidate for the Senate from Tennessee, made the forecast after conferring here with the New York Governor.

Reece also expressed belief that he would defeat his own Democratic opponent for the Senate, Rep. Estes Kefauver. And he predicted election of the Republican nominee for Governor of Tennessee, Roy Acuff.

Princely State Says Air-Land Drive Checked

Dominion Force Is Reported Within 60 Miles Of Capital

NEW DELHI, Sept. 13 (AP)—Indian troops with air and tank support swept into Hyderabad from all four sides today and in one thrust were reported possibly within 60 miles of the capital of the rich princely state.

Forces jumping off from Bezwada near the southeast border of the predominantly Hindu state advanced 40 miles across the frontier in a drive toward the capital city of Hyderbad and adjoining Secunderbad, site of army installations and ammunition dumps, Madras dispatches said.

(The Hyderbad government issued a communique tonight saying Indian forces had been checked on all fronts. It gave no details other than saying the Indian troops had been able to make no headway. The communique was received in Karachi, Pakistan.

(In Hyderbad, Karachi dispatches said, the India agent-general was confined under guard and all Indian military personnel in the India office and the all-Indian staff of the post and telegraph department, operated by the Indian government, were arrested.)

Telephone Line Cut

A late report from Madras said Hyderabad has been cut off from all outside communication. The trunk telephone line between Hyderabad and Bezwada reportedly was closed by Hyderabad authorities. Officials confirmed that the phone line between Bombay and Hyderabad had been closed. All telegraph communications between the princely state and Indian points have been cut off.

India said the invasion was ordered to prevent anarchy in the state controlled by a wealthy Moslem Nizam.

Dominion forces generally met little initial opposition. The first Indian communique tonight reported "steady progress in all sectors." It said several columns had penetrated Hyderabad territory since the march began at 4 a. m.

(In Karachi, word of the invasion touched off demonstrations demanding that Moslem Pakistan Declare war on India.)

The drive was spearheaded with tanks and armored cars and covered with air support. Telephoned messages from inside Hyderabad quoted official sources as saying the Indian Air Force raided air-

The communique said Naldrug on the western border, fell after "severe fighting and considerable casualties" for the defending forces.

Other columns were reported driving into the state from across quickly-seized bridges on the Tungsbdra River in the south in the Hospet sectors; from Bezwada on the east and in the Aurangabad and Balharshah sectors on, the north.

The state—about the size of Minnesota—is a land island surrounded by Indian territory. India claims disorder is rife in Hyderabad and that the fabulously rich Nizam

Validity Of Patterson Will Attacked In Court

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP)—A court fight over the $16,500,000 estate of Mrs. Eleanor Medill Patterson began today with an allegation that she was not of sound mind when she made her will.

Mrs. Patterson owned, edited and published the Washington Times-Herald. She bequeathed the paper to seven of its veteran executives. Her only child, Countess Felicia Gizycka, New York, had local attorneys file the document attacking validity of the will in Federal Court.

The daughter was willed a $25,000 life annuity, most of Mrs. Patterson's personal effects and considerable real estate, including a Long Island residence. Her holdings included a large share in the McCormick-Patterson trust which controls the Chicago Tribune and the New York Daily News.

Titanium, Completely New Metal, Is Light And Strong

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 13 (AP)—Titanium metal, something completely new in the world, one of the basic chemical elements, a metal that rivals steel and aluminum, was announced today by the duPont Company.

This new metal is silver-white and when polished feels like silk. It is about half the weight of steel, less than twice the weight of aluminum, but much stronger than aluminum. It is as strong as stainless steel.

Titanium, because of difficulty of extraction from its minerals, never has been available except as a powder. This powder makes the white paint that hides best what lies underneath. It makes the wartime smoke screens. If you look up at the milky way at night, the dark patches are gas clouds, and these clouds are rich in titanium.

This new metal is seventh most common among all the metals in the earth. There is more titanium than copper, silver or lead. Yet a few years ago it was considered rare. It is one of the impurities in iron, and removing that impurity gave titanium its start for paints and smokes. The powder also is used in enamel, linoleum and paper. The duPont Company was able to make the metal by discovering a new and cheaper process of extracting it.

A small pilot plant makes 100 pounds a day. It is offered to industry at $5 a pound. This price is low for a completely new metal, and the manufacturers expect that after industry finds out what titanium metal can do, the cost will go down to make it one of the plentiful structural materials. The present production is in ingots of sponge metal, which are porous, but hard.

American Naval Attache Aboard Missing Plane

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 13 (AP)—A United States Navy plane carrying the American naval attache in Ottawa and four other persons was missing today in Northern Manitoba.

The United States Embassy in Ottawa said its naval attache, Capt. Benjamin Scott Custer, Chevy Chase, Md., and Capt. Sir Robert Stirling-Hamilton, naval advisor to the British High Commissioner in Ottawa, both were aboard the missing plane. The plane, a two-motor Beechcraft, left Churchill, Man., Sunday morning for the Pas and Ottawa and has been unreported since then.

Army To Hire Men To Handle Pacific Cargo

Employers Balk; Pre-Strike Wages Will Be In Effect

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Army announced tonight that since most West Coast shipping and stevedoring interests have declined or failed to meet contracts to handle Army cargoes, it will hire its own stevedores.

The unions headed by Harry Bridges have offered to load military cargoes at the pre-strike wage and working conditions.

But employers have said they would not handle Army cargo "if it requires dealing with Communist Party line labor leaders.

Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall said that all but one of the West Coast stevedore contractors and charter vessel operators "have declined or have failed within the time prescribed" (4 p. m. Pacific Time, today) to indicate their intentions to carry out their current contracts to load and transport army cargo."

Pre-Strike Pay Rates

"Under the circumstances," Royall added, "the Army will undertake to employ at its regular West Coast port employment offices such stevedores and associated personnel as are needed to handle essential Army cargo."

The pay rates, Royall said, will be those in effect on the West Coast before the strike.

All those employed by the Army, Royall said, will be required to sign the usual Army loyalty affidavits.

The one company which had not made up its mind yet on whether to handle Army cargo under present conditions, Royall said, is the Pacific Far East Lines.

That organization asked for a 48-hour extension of time in which to reach a decision.

Must Sign Affidavits

Most of the West Coast employers have said they would not open contract negotiations with the striking CIO longshoremen unless Bridges and other leaders sign affidavits saying whether or not they are Communists.

The Army affidavits which stevedores will have to sign requires them to attest this way:

"I do swear (or affirm) that I do not advocate, nor am I a member of any political party or organization that advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence; and that during such time as I am employed I will not advocate nor become a member of any political party or organization that advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence."

"Gas" Rain Falls On Volcano Isle

MANILA, Tuesday, Sept. 14 (AP)—A misty, chemically-active rain is adding to the misery of some 5,000 Filipinos remaining on volcano-ravished Camiguin Island in the Southern Philippines.

Father Arthur Shea, American parish priest on the island, reported the rain had fallen on Mambajao, on the small island's northern coast. It smelled of chlorine gas, which Mount Hibokhibok has been belching since last week.

The mile-high volcano started erupting September 1 after sleeping 77 years. Of Camiguin's estimated 50,000 Filipino inhabitants, some 45,000 have been removed—mostly to nearby Mindanao.

Hibokhibok's temper continued grimly unpredictable. After two days of comparative calm over the weekend, the volcano rumbled to "renewed and worse activity." Relief workers renewed evacuation of the island.

Father Shea, in a message to the Associated Press, described the gas-tainted rain as causing "extreme irritation and smarting of the eyes."

Berlin "X-Day" Reported Set By Reds; President Truman, Marshall Confer

State Dept. Rejects Russian Complaints Over Teachers' Cases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — President Truman checked the temperature of the boiling international situation today in a conference with Secretary of State Marshall.

They met at the White House shortly after the State Department had announced rejection of Soviet complaints over the cases of two Russian school teachers who say they do not want to be sent home.

Nobody doubted that the Berlin crisis and the delicate negotiations with the Russians there and in Moscow occupied nearly all of the time in the Truman-Marshall meeting. The participants, however, stuck tight to a policy of silence stated earlier at the State Department.

White House Silent

At the department, Press Officer Michael McDermott said at his news conference that he could not say anything at all about the Berlin and Moscow dealings.

The White House meeting between the President and the Secretary of State followed a luncheon session with the Cabinet.

Today Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters in advance that the Secretary would stay after the Cabinet luncheon to confer with Mr. Truman.

Afterward the White House would not discuss what might have gone on at the meeting. Officials would not even say how long he was there. They dismissed the talk as one of the conferences the President hold with the head of the State Department each week.

Presumably Studied U. S. Course

This country has been variously reported as planning with Britain and France to seek new meetings with Premier Stalin or Foreign Minister Molotov on the Berlin blockade and the dispute over German currency as planning a "white paper" to show who is to blame for the impasse in the former German capital, and as making ready to refer the affair to the United Nations.

Soviet-Provoked Wrangle Marks Paris Conference

Delegates Disagree On Meeting's Status

PARIS, Sept. 13 (AP)—Delegates of the Big Four powers disagreed today on whether they constitute a foreign ministers' council, leaving scant hope they can work out an accord on the future of Italy's pre-war colonies before a September 15 deadline.

After the fruitless first session, Etienne Burin Des Robiers, French colonial expert, said only that the four nations might agree on one of the colonies, Italian Somaliland. A British spokesman said he saw little chance of any agreement.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky accused the United States and Britain of violating the Italian peace by failing to send the foreign ministers to the conference.

He got a quick answer from Louis Douglas, United States ambassador to Britain, and Hector McNeil, British Minister of State. They told Vishinsky they were fully authorized to take decisions on the colonial issues in the name of their respective governments.

Schuman Backs U. S. Britain

Vishinsky said he did not have that authority. He said he could only discuss settlement of the questions.

Most of today's meeting therefore became a lengthy argument as to whether or not it was in fact a foreign ministers' council as established by the Potsdam pact.

Vishinsky said it was only a conference of "representatives" of the Big Four Powers to discuss the Italian colonial question.

French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman supported Douglas and McNeil.

Without reaching a decision on the point the conferees adjourned until 11 a. m. tomorow (5 a. m. Eastern Standard Time) when the report on the Italian colonies will be considered.

Today's session in the French Foreign Ministery with Schuman presiding broke up after four and a half hours of discussion.

Wednesday Is Deadline

Unless an agreement on disposition of the colonies is reached by Wednesday the subject wil be given to the United Nations Asembly, which convenes here September 21.

The colonies are Libia, Italian Somaliland and Eritrea.

Planned To Follow Elections In U. S., German Paper Says

BERLIN, Sept. 13—(AP)—The anti-Soviet German press reported today that the Russians had fixed "X-Day" for achieving Communist rule in Berlin.

An American government official said he had nothing to confirm the report, but he did not discount it.

The German newspaper Montags' Echo, a Liberal Democrat (conservative) Party organ, said "X-Day" was set for sometime after the November presidential elections in the United States.

Meanwhile, it added, the Russians had given the Communists orders to step up demonstrations because Moscow wanted no four-power settlement of the blockade crisis.

Airlift Record Broken

Montags' Echo said the date for the Communist seizure was fixed at a meeting of leaders of the Communist-dominated Socialist Unity Party (SED) who had instructions from the Soviet occupation chiefs.

The newspaper said also that the Russians promised to "interfere with the air supply shuttle by increasing their own plane maneuvers over Berlin."

The United States Air Force set a new record for the airlift today by flying 3,606.8 tons of supplies in 466 flights.

The Soviet war memorial was projected into the battle for Berlin again today by a shot fired by an unknown sniper last midnight.

The memorial, built by the Red army to immortalize the conquest of Berlin, lies just inside the British sector. Russian authorities told the British the shot apparently came from across the street, and a Soviet sentry fired two answering bullets at a shadow lurking there.

"Small Chipped Indentation"

The incident occurred only a day after an anti-Soviet German newspaper advised the Russians that if they don't tear down the monument the Germans some day would do it for them.

Germans hurled stones at the monument last Thursday and also attacked a jeepload of Russians driving toward it. This led to bloody street fighting in which shots were fired by Russian soldiers and their German police. A boy was killed and more than a score of Germans injured.

Reece Predicts Dewey Will Carry Tennessee

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—A prediction that Thomas E. Dewey will carry traditionally Democratic Tennessee in the presidential election came today from the former national chairman of the Republican Party.

Carroll Reece, GOP candidate for the Senate from Tennessee, made the forecast after conferring here with the New York Governor.

Reece also expressed belief that he would defeat his own Democratic opponent for the Senate, Rep. Estes Kefauver. And he predicted election of the Republican nominee for Governor of Tennessee, Roy Acuff.

Princely State Says Air-Land Drive Checked

Dominion Force Is Reported Within 60 Miles Of Capital

NEW DELHI, Sept. 13 (AP)—Indian troops with air and tank support swept into Hyderabad from all four sides today and in one thrust were reported possibly within 60 miles of the capital of the rich princely state.

Forces jumping off from Bezwada near the southeast border of the predominantly Hindu state advanced 40 miles across the frontier in a drive toward the capital city of Hyderbad and adjoining Secunderbad, site of army installations and ammunition dumps, Madras dispatches said.

(The Hyderbad government issued a communique tonight saying Indian forces had been checked on all fronts. It gave no details other than saying the Indian troops had been able to make no headway. The communique was received in Karachi, Pakistan.

(In Hyderbad, Karachi dispatches said, the India agent-general was confined under guard and all Indian military personnel in the India office and the all-Indian staff of the post and telegraph department, operated by the Indian government, were arrested.)

Telephone Line Cut

A late report from Madras said Hyderabad has been cut off from all outside communication. The trunk telephone line between Hyderabad and Bezwada reportedly was closed by Hyderabad authorities. Officials confirmed that the phone line between Bombay and Hyderabad had been closed. All telegraph communications between the princely state and Indian points have been cut off.

India said the invasion was ordered to prevent anarchy in the state controlled by a wealthy Moslem Nizam.

Dominion forces generally met little initial opposition. The first Indian communique tonight reported "steady progress in all sectors." It said several columns had penetrated Hyderabad territory since the march began at 4 a. m.

(In Karachi, word of the invasion touched off demonstrations demanding that Moslem Pakistan Declare war on India.)

The drive was spearheaded with tanks and armored cars and covered with air support. Telephoned messages from inside Hyderabad quoted official sources as saying the Indian Air Force raided air-

The communique said Naldrug on the western border, fell after "severe fighting and considerable casualties" for the defending forces.

Other columns were reported driving into the state from across quickly-seized bridges on the Tungsbdra River in the south in the Hospet sectors; from Bezwada on the east and in the Aurangabad and Balharshah sectors on, the north.

The state—about the size of Minnesota—is a land island surrounded by Indian territory. India claims disorder is rife in Hyderabad and that the fabulously rich Nizam

Validity Of Patterson Will Attacked In Court

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP)—A court fight over the $16,500,000 estate of Mrs. Eleanor Medill Patterson began today with an allegation that she was not of sound mind when she made her will.

Mrs. Patterson owned, edited and published the Washington Times-Herald. She bequeathed the paper to seven of its veteran executives. Her only child, Countess Felicia Gizycka, New York, had local attorneys file the document attacking validity of the will in Federal Court.

The daughter was willed a $25,000 life annuity, most of Mrs. Patterson's personal effects and considerable real estate, including a Long Island residence. Her holdings included a large share in the McCormick-Patterson trust which controls the Chicago Tribune and the New York Daily News.

Titanium, Completely New Metal, Is Light And Strong

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 13 (AP)—Titanium metal, something completely new in the world, one of the basic chemical elements, a metal that rivals steel and aluminum, was announced today by the duPont Company.

This new metal is silver-white and when polished feels like silk. It is about half the weight of steel, less than twice the weight of aluminum, but much stronger than aluminum. It is as strong as stainless steel.

Titanium, because of difficulty of extraction from its minerals, never has been available except as a powder. This powder makes the white paint that hides best what lies underneath. It makes the wartime smoke screens. If you look up at the milky way at night, the dark patches are gas clouds, and these clouds are rich in titanium.

This new metal is seventh most common among all the metals in the earth. There is more titanium than copper, silver or lead. Yet a few years ago it was considered rare. It is one of the impurities in iron, and removing that impurity gave titanium its start for paints and smokes. The powder also is used in enamel, linoelum and paper. The duPont Company was able to make the metal by discovering a new and cheaper process of extracting it.

A small pilot plant makes 100 pounds a day. It is offered to industry at $5 a pound. This price is low for a completely new metal, and the manufacturers expect that after industry finds out what titanium metal can do, the cost will go down to make it one of the plentiful structural materials. The present production is in ingots of sponge metal, which are porous, but hard.

I. J. Fox Manager Has Closed Shop

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—A plant manager for the I. J. Fox Company said today that he never hires non-union fur workers because he knows "the shop would be pulled out on strike."

He told a House Labor Subcommittee that he takes this stand despite the fact that the Taft-Hartley Act forbids a closed shop, in which only union members may be hired.

The firm official, Morris Farber, New York, appeared in the subcommittee's investigation of complaints that the CIO Fur Workers Union is run roughshod by Communists.

"There is no sense in me putting on a non-union man" Farber said when reminded that a closed shop is illegal.

He said that on May Day, celebrated in Russia and some other countries as Labor Day, the union orders the workers out of the shops "and there is nothing you can do about it."

"You're just supine," commented Rep. Lucas (D-Texas), a committee member. "You let that union run over you any way it likes."

Meantime, the House Un-American Activities Committee went on with its closed doors investigation of whether Russian spies got United States atomic secrets during the war.

Western Europe Unity Urged By King George

LONDON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Britain's third Labor-dominated session of Parliament closed today with a plea from King George VI for "an increasing degree of union" among Western European countries.

The traditional King's speech—written by labor ministers as a declaration of policy—praised American aid to Western Europe as "far sighted and generous."

The King was absent from today's ceremony, but tomorrow he will drive in state to open a special 10-day session of Parliament called to speed up the government's program to limit the powers of the House of Lords.

Arrest Reveals Man Kept Two Homes, Two Wives

UPLAND, Calif., Sept. 13 (AP) —Arrest of a Covina truck line operator who, Police Chief Eugene L. Mueller said, has maintained two homes and two wives with three children by each, was announced today.

William B. Bonstein, 35, of nearby Covina, was arrested there today on his return from a vacation trip, brought here and booked on suspicion of bigamy and suspicion of failure to provide for his family in Upland.

Chief Mueller said State Department of Public Health records show that Bonstein married Bernice Kirk in Nevada in 1937, and had three children by her, and married Sybil Hill in 1941 and had three children by her.

The chief said Bonstein lived with Bernice and the children in Covina, and visited Sybil and her children in Upland periodically.

With the Maine election out of the way, politicians today will get a chance to see how the political winds are blowing in seven other states.

These seven, in New England and the West, hold primaries today to name candidates for five Senate, 53 House and seven governor seats.

Sens. Ball (R-Minn) and Johnson (D-Colo) are opposed for renomination. Without any opposition are Sens. Bridges (R-NH), Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Ferguson (R-Mich).

Dewey Eyes Results

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, the Republican presidential nominee, kept an eye on the Maine election yesterday. Associates said he believes the outcome there would be a reliable baromter of his own prospects.

The size of the Republican victory was the only thing to watch for, party leaders said in advance of the complete returns. The record GOP majority in the past was 83,000.

Another Democratic quarrel in Texas may come today. There was a possibility of a floor flight in the party's state convention over the state executive committee's report on the vote count in the close race between Coke Stevenson and Lyndon B. Johnson for nomination to the Senate.

With the Maine election out of the way, politicians today will get a chance to see how the political winds are blowing in seven other states.

These seven, in New England and the West, hold primaries today to name candidates for five Senate, 53 House and seven governor seats.

Sens. Ball (R-Minn) and Johnson (D-Colo) are opposed for renomination. Without any opposition are Sens. Bridges (R-NH), Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Ferguson (R-Mich).

Dewey Eyes Results

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, the Republican presidential nominee, kept an eye on the Maine election yesterday. Associates said he believes the outcome there would be a reliable barometer of his own prospects.

The size of the Republican victory was the only thing to watch for, party leaders said in advance of the complete returns. The record GOP majority in the past was 83,000.

Another Democratic quarrel in Texas may come today. There was a possibility of a floor flight in the party's state convention over the state executive committee's report on the vote count in the close race between Coke Stevenson and Lyndon B. Johnson for nomination to the Senate.

The Hundred Days is a name given to the period between Napoleon's arival in France on March 1, 1815, after escaping from Elba, until his defeat at Waterloo on June 18 of the same year.

SOUND BANKING PRINCIPLES never go out of style . . .

The years bring transitions of all kinds to practically all forms of business and to our individual lives. While the First National Bank has kept pace with the faster tempo and changes of operation required by modern banking and the constantly increasing amount of business which it handles in all its departments, it has never deviated from the fundamentally sound banking practices which were pledged in the last century by its founders. In great measure it is this adherence to principle which is responsible for the confidence reposed in it by not only its old but also its new customers.

If Your Crowd Is Cool To Your Companion Find Out Why

By NANCY MOTTRAM

(Q) "Dear Nancy: My friends are causing me a lot of unhappiness. They refuse to accept the boy with whom I am keeping company, and they don't know him at all well. When we're in a group, they're polite—but cool. They don't like his manners, or his clothes, or anything else, and they've been trying to talk me into breaking up with him. I've tried to ignore them, but I can't any longer. And he knows that they're not fond of him. What shall I do about this?"

Nancy Mottram

(A) They're making a lot of hasty judgments without giving him a chance to prove himself. How can they know he's not a regular guy if they don't bother to talk to him or even be friendly? You'd better have a private talk with them, and ask them why they've formed a committee against him. It most certainly isn't fair, so try your best to straighten it out right now. Once everyone puts his cards on the table instead of refusing to give any adult reasons, you'll be able to work this thing out.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I have quite a few of my best friends over to my house about once a week. We sit around and talk and discuss practically everything under the sun. But several of us have noticed lately that no matter what subject comes up, one certain girl in our crowd tries to start an argument. She immediately becomes the opposition, just so she'll have a chance to try to prove someone else wrong. We can't understand what's gotten into her, but we're getting pretty tired of it. What would you suggest we do?"

(A) You can try to overrule her and tell her that it isn't a debate, nor is an orator necessary to the evening. If she doesn't take the hint, try having a little chat with her and explain the girls' attitude towards her latest habit. Should it fail, and she still can't control her impulse to sound off, leave her out of a few of your meetings until she comes to order.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: My fiance is going away to continue his college studies this fall, and I will be staying at home. We became engaged about a month ago, and before that, I'd always dated a lot. I know he expects me to stay home while he's away, but I'd like to work out an arrangement with him so that I could go out once in a while. I'm sure he wouldn't approve of this idea, though, and I've hesitated to ask him. What do you think I should do?"

(A) You're engaged to him, and you're planning to marry him some day. If you're not willing to accept all the restrictions that being engaged means you should get your relationship straightened out right away. If you're serious about him, you'll accept those conditions, and one of them is: no other fellows. You can find plenty to do during his absence. There'll be lots of letters to write to him, occasional movies with the girls, and your time can be well spent by planning and preparing for your marriage.

Nancy will answer as many questions as possible in her column. Write her care of this newspaper.

Judge William A. Huster Retires To Private Life

Judge William A. Huster has entered upon a well-deserved period of freedom from the public responsibilities which have been his for more than a quarter of a century. Not since he entered upon the duties as City Attorney 27 years ago until he laid aside the gavel with which he presided as Chief Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit has he had a day he could really call his very own.

Judge Huster began his active public career when he was appointed city solicitor in 1921. Less than two years later he was elected State's Attorney. He was prosecutor for Allegany county two years, resigning that position when appointed associate judge by Governor Harry W. Nice to fill the unexpired term of the late David A. Robb. A year later, he submitted himself to the people of this judicial circuit, which is comprised of Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties, and he was honored by them with his election to the full judgeship term of 15 years. Although about two years remain of that term his retirement Sunday was mandatory under the law permitting a judge to serve only until he is 70 years of age.

As was recently pointed out in this newspaper, Judge Huster leaves behind a record of being a fair and just jurist, a staunch champion of the home as the foundation of American civilization and of being an able interpreter of the law. While there are those who are of the opinion that he was wont to be far too lenient in dealing with some types of persons brought before him, it is generally agreed that those acts of leniency did little, if any, injustice to society, and few abused the "second chance" privilege granted.

In leaving the bench, Judge Huster takes with him the good wishes of the people of the Judicial circuit he served and of Allegany county in particular. He has earned their gratitude for distinguished service.

Seeking solution for the high cost of meat a Washington bureaucrat declares if no one eats meat there will be plenty.

Not All Of Labor Is Supporting Harry Truman

The leaders of organized labor are striving desperately to give the impression that the unions of the country are solidly behind the Democratic ticket in the coming campaign and election. The impression is based on pure wishful thinking, as subsequent events are proving.

The American Federation of Labor itself has taken no direct action. However, its president, William Green, and a committee are working for Mr. Truman's election. The Congress of Industrial Organization executive board has openly indorsed the President. But now along comes the American Federation of Labor Building Service Employes' International Union, claiming 175,000 members, whose executive committee has pledged its support to Governor Dewey.

The first break in the so-called solidarity of labor is significant. The building service employes supported Roosevelt four years ago but the union, as shown by its resolution on behalf of Dewey, is tired of "indecision and jittery irresolution in governmental affairs." That kind of indictment might have been written by a Republican campaign manager.

The first swallow, of course, does not make a summer, and one union supporting Governor Dewey does not indicate a major defection. Yet the president of the building service employes states that other American Federation of Labor unions will back the Republican nominee for President.

Apparently neither the building service employes nor the others have been taken in by the black talk about the terrible fate labor will suffer if Governor Dewey wins. President Truman's threats in his Labor Day speech obviously have fallen on a lot more deaf ears than the many who heard him little more than a week ago and cheered so feebly.

As a matter of fact, everybody knows that labor's vote is going to be split between both parties. No labor leader in this country can yet deliver the bloc votes of his union members. The rank and file of labor will vote according to conscience. But the fact that one large union has seen fit to disregard the indicated policy of the federation shows which way the wind is blowing.

According to Russia, America is a nation of savages. But with plenty of wampum.

"Red Herring" And How It Came Into Common Usage

It seems to have been a British sporting custom to throw hounds off the scent by drawing a fish across the trail of a fugitive fox or hare. Why anybody should care to do this we do not know, but it has brought the Red Herring into common usage, and right now into the speeches composed, or at least delivered, by Harry Truman. The phrase made its first appearance in literature in the line, "She is neither fish or flesh, nor good red herring," John Heywood, English dramatist, emitting it early in the sixteenth century.

Since the presidential references tend to bring the herring into some disfavor, we turn to Webster's Unabridged for its rehabilitation: "Herring, a very valuable food fish which reaches a length of about one foot and is extraordinarily abundant in the temperate and colder parts of the North Atlantic, swimming in schools which sometimes contain hundreds of millions . . . enormous numbers of them are caught in nets, the adults being preserved by smoking or salting." Turning now to history, we learn that the herring fishery was the basis of the Hanseatic League, which embraced 90 towns in Germany and Holland, and "attaining a high political importance in the fourteenth century, gave rise to the development of that commercial policy which has since become connected with all political relations."

Turning next to your own supper table, we suggest that what you eat as sardines are probably small herring. In a word, this fish is far more serviceable to mankind than to the confused rhetonic of Mr. Truman. In his own Kansas City, don't they advertise River catfish as "Alaska salmon, warranted not to turn pink in the can?"

Most unique of all the New Deal reminiscences is the report of an individual who said he was paid by the government but doesn't recall what for.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Control Of Epilepsy

Dr. Van Dellen

There is nothing more pathetic to witness than an epileptic convulsion, especially when it occurs to a youngster. The victim is helpless and, during the attack, makes grotesque and jerking movements of the arms and head, which frighten those who are unfamiliar with the manifestations of the disease. Furthermore, not much can be done for the sufferer except to place a stick or clothespin between the teeth and wait several minutes until consciousness returns.

If epilepsy were rare there would be little need to paint such a distressing picture of the disorder but it is so common that the more we know about it, the more helpful we can be in aiding such unfortunates. This was stressed recently while I was passing through a small town in Wisconsin. We had stopped to eat and, after lunch decided to window shop along the main street. Nearby two women and a girl were talking when suddenly one of the ladies grabbed the youngster and said, "What are you doing, Elsie?" The girl was just beginning to have a convulsion and the mother was trying to hold her up in order to avoid a spectacle. This obviously was not the thing to do and within a few moments she realized the hopelessness of the situation and with help, lowered her daughter to the ground. People gathered, as usual.

I found that the girl had encountered several such attacks. The parents considered the situation irremediable and did not try to assist the child in overcoming her difficultes. They were surprised to learn of the progress which had been made in the past few years and decided to do something about it.

At the present time, there is no scarcity of effective remedies. The newer drugs like dilantin, mesantoin, and diphenylene diimide are doing wonders; in addition, tridione is valuable in petit mal (milder form of epilepsy). Preparations of this type have made advantages over the older treatment with sedatives except that they may prove toxic unless used properly; for this reason, they must be taken under the supervision of a doctor who understands their action. In some patients, the attacks can be controlled entirely whereas in others the number of spells are reduced materially. There are always a few who cannot tolerate them at all or in whom they become ineffective. But fortunately, such individuals are in the minority. The drugs are not habitforming and do not dull the mind permanently nor injure the body. As a rule, they are started as soon as the diagnosis is made so that the disturbance can be brought under control as quickly as possible.

•—•—•

Many other studies have been done on epilepsy. Recent research has refuted the old notion that epileptics are retarded mentally. The majority are normal in this respect and many are above average. Heredity has also been subjected to considerable research. Inheritance does not play a role in all types of epilepsy but is more likely to be a factor in those in whom the seizures are noted early in life and more so if mental abnormalities exist. It has also been said that offspring of an average epileptic has about 39 chances out of 40 of escaping the affliction.

OVERDOING IT

N. J. writes: I belong to a men's club whose members are between the ages of 57 and 60. We all participate in sports like baseball, handbal, swimming, and foot racing. Are these too strenuous for us?

Reply

In my opinion they are, since undoubtedly most of you live a sedentary existence and then proceed to outdo yourselves for half an hour on one or two occasions a week. Furthermore there is no evidence to show that those who exercise live longer but innumerable examples of the opposite are common.

EAR TROUBLES

M. F. writes: Is ringing in the ear a sign of deafness?

Reply

Not always but many victims have an associated deafness and the two may be difficult to distinguish. In fact, some never realized that the hearing was affected until the fact was demonstrated by tests.

And when you were in Paris on leave what was your poor old commander doing? He was kissing French generals between the whiskers.

Army Improves Its Top Commanders; Gen. Omar Bradley Brings New Deal To Brasshatism; G.I.'s Staunch Defender Is Now Chief of Staff

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's note—Today the brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, goes to Gen. Omar Bradley, U. S. Army Chief of Staff.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—If war should come to beleaguered Berlin, the men at the top of the U. S. Army today are among the most competent, human, and civilian-minded that this newsman has seen around the War Department in many a year.

This appraisal, by the way, comes from a long-time and vigorous critic of the brass hats.

Responsible for this new deal around the Pentagon Building are General Eisenhower and his successor, modest Omar Bradley.

It is important for the American public to know that when the daredevil boys of the Air Forces and the drop-the-bomb-now men of the Navy gather at joint Chiefs of Staff meetings, there is always present one calm conscience who never forgets the 300,000 G.I.'s buried under white crosses from Guadalcanal to Sicily.

Take off his uniform and Omar Bradley looks like a college professor. He is quiet, gracious, generous, good-natured and basically a very plain person. Everybody who ever worked with Bradley remarks on his simplicity. His mess sergeant in France had orders never to use Bradley's name to wangle food for headquarters. Once during the historic landing at Normandy, Bradley, then a 3-star general, took off his fleece-lined jacket and handed it to a shivering corporal.

"Here, son," he said. "It will be easier for me to get another than it will be for you."

Bradley Studies Like G. I.

Bradley has so monotonously plugged away for the little guy both in war and peace that he is almost taken for granted.

Typical of his quiet manner is the fact that, after being appointed Chief of Staff, but while waiting to be sworn in, he took two months of refresher courses at the Pentagon side by side with other officers. They report that Bradley was never late for class, took careful notes, shamed many a colonel or one-star general by his promptness and interest, compared with their casual attitude.

It may have been because Omar Bradley was from Moberly, Missouri, that President Truman picked him to be Veterans Administrator, later Chief of Staff. If so, this geographical coincidence was the good luck of the American people. However, it was not luck which put Bradley at the top.

When a youngster he worked for the Wabash Railroad; being poor yet anxious for a college education he applied to his Congressman for a West Point apointment. To take the examination in St. Louis, he had to promote a pass on the Wabash.

Eisenhower's Class Mate

Bradley was graduated from West Point in the class of 1915. Another famous member of that class was Dwight Eisenhower of Kansas. Ike ranked 100th. Bradley ranked 44th. Perhaps this rather low rating should not be cited in the month of September, when several million American youngsters are reluctantly going back to school; so, in passing, it might be noted that General MacArthur graduated No. 1 in his class of 1903.

Bradley's start in the recent war was none too happy. He commanded the 28th Division, officered in part by Republican politicians from Pennsylvania. Senator Ed Martin was commanding general, later relieved (for age) by Bradley, while Jay Cooke, one of Stassen's hot supporters, was a battalion commander.

After various difficulties with the 28th Division, Bradley stepped up to command a corps under General Patton in Sicily, later became top commander of the European Theatre, entrusted with carrying out the strategy of General Eisenhower and the Allied Chiefs of Staff. He faced some tough problems.

Battle Of The Bulge

One of them was getting along with temperamental, grandstanding Field Marshall Montgomery. Bradley had no regard for Monty's lack of nerve and reluctance to advance But realizing Montgomery was a symbol to the British people, he said no word against him.

Bradley got part of the blame for the Battle of The Bulge, and toward the end of this battle Montgomery, his rival, was given command of part of Bradley's forces. However, the inside fact is that it was Montgomery's stooge, General Strong, who served as Bradley's chief intelligence officer, plus Gen. Eddie Siebert, an American, who claimed the Germans could not possibly attack in the Ardennes.

Only his close friends know it, but Bradley himself was worried before the attack, took a trip down to the Saar to talk it over with "Old Blood and Guts" Patton. His explanation to Patton was that "topside" had ordered him to leave the Ardennes woods exposed, since the Germans could not possibly attack. After it was all over, Bradley, like the soldier that he is, took the blame for the Battle of The Bulge on his own shoulders.

Helping The Veterans

But the toughest job Bradley ever faced came after Potsdam, when Truman asked him to unravel the moddled Veterans Administration. The V. A. is the world's largest social-welfare agency, the world's biggest dispenser of pensions, the world's biggest operator of hospitals and one of the world's biggest banks.

Running it is one of the most thankless jobs in the United States. Unfortunately, when men in government do a good job they get little applause. Bradley did so well that he attracted scant attention until he took on the gentleman who is supposed to be able to do no wrong — the Commander of the American Legion — and publicly whipped him.

When Bradley first became Chief of Staff, Secretary Forrestal kept him so busy on strategic problems that he had little time to revamp the administrative side of the Army. In addition, various hangers - on, who should have had the good grace to retire, continued their chair-warming.

However, Bradley has now begun to move with some of his own men, including Gen. Bryant Moore, former commander at Trieste, Gen. "Buck" Lanham, formerly in charge of the Army's education program, and various others.

Bradley believes that one way to avoid war is to take all the profits out of war. And at staff conferences you will hear his nasal Missouri drawl formulating plans for training green troops, outlining strategy in case the worst happens in Berlin —yet at the same time hoping against hope that nothing will happen and "we can all go fishin'."

Roper's Prediction Of Victory For Dewey And His Reasoning

By MARK SULLIVAN

An almost sensational statement was made last week by a leading conductor of public opinion polls, Mr. Elmo Roper of Fortune Magazine and the New York Herald Tribune. Mr. Roper said that during the Presidential campaign he will not publish polls of the standings of the candidates, such as ordinarily he would give out from time to time. His reason, he said, is that polls already taken statistics gathered convinced him that Republican candidate Dewey will win by an overwhelming majority. Holding this conviction, Mr. Roper wishes not to seem to be reporting a race when actually there is no real race at all.

Mr. Roper's conclusion about the outcome of this campaign is based on presently current polls, statistics and signs. The same conclusion is indicated by history, both short-term and long-term. If the Democrats are defeated as overwhelmingly as is now expected, it is because they have been in power longer than history intended. Their defeat will be the cumulative sum of forces which should have defeated them in 1940 and again in 1944, but on both occasions were frustrated by the war.

To put it in terms of the Republican Party, it was defeated in 1932, was worse defeated in the Congressional elections of 1934, and still worse defeated in both the Presidential and Congressional elections of 1936. In that 1936 Presidential election the Republicans carried only states, Maine and Vermont. Similarly spectacular was their defeat in the Congressional elections the same year, they elected a smaller proportion of members of the House than any major party in recent history, 89 out of 435.

Sentiment Changed In 1937

The turn in popular sentiment came in 1937, due in part to Roosevelt's unsuccessful attempt to change the Supreme Court, but in larger part to a broad public disaffection toward Roosevelt and the New Deal. Proof of the turn, and of the strength of the new public feeling, came in the Congressional elections of 1938, when the Republicans almost doubled their number in the House, rising from 89 to 169.

By every precedent and rule of political trends, that rise of Republican strength in the House in 1938 should have gone on to Republican victory in the Presidential election of 1940; the Democratic tenure should have ended normally with the end of Roosevelt's second term. But the war had begun in Europe in 1939 and by 1940 there was fear that America might be involved. That fear, evoking a sentiment which frequently said "Don't change horses in the middle of the stream," frustrated the normal political trend and gave Roosevelt a third term. By 1944 we were far out in the stream, actually at war, and again Roosevelt was elected. What today makes victory for Republican candidate Dewey so highly probably, and so likely to be spectacular, is the cumulative strength of a trend that was twice frustrated.

Evidence of Two-Party System

That is the lesson of history in the short term. In the long term the lesson is the same. This is a two-party country. The fact that we remain so is itself a sign of the strength of conservatism and tradition now apparent in many ways. In 1936, when the Democrats carried every state except two, there were many who said this was going to be a one-party country, the Republican Party would disappear. The present prospect of Republican victory is evidence of the continued vitality of the two-party system.

In countries with the two-party political system, one tends to be conservative, the other liberal or radical. Between the two there is always the alternation of which we are about to see an example. In America during the past fifty years the lengths of tenure have been: Republicans, 16 years under McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and Taft; Democrats, 8 years under Wilson; Republicans, 12 years under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover; Demcrats, 16 years under Franklin Roosevelt and Truman.

The Democrats are at the end of the longest teure either party has had in more than 60 years. In addition, they suffer serious disruption within themselves. There are two new parties both of them subtractions from Democratic strength. The Wallace Progressive Party has, in the most recent Roper poll, 3.6 per cent of the total vote. The other group of dissident Democrats, the States' Rights Party with Governor Thurmond as its candidate, has 4.4 per cent.

The sum of these two dissents from Democratic strength is 8 per cent—and 8 per cent of the total vote is 16 per cent of the normal Democratic vote. Such a dissent would alone justify prediction of calamitous defeat next November.

Truman Gives To Individual Data He Refuses To Congress

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 — If a committee of Congress suddenly asked President Truman to publish copies of all the telegraphic reports he had received from American diplomatic representatives in Moscow during the last three years, so that the American people could know the truth about what has really been happening back of the scenes, Mr. Truman would probably decline to do so. He probably would say confidential matters of diplomacy could not be revealed.

Yet in Collier's Weekly there has been appearing from week to week a series of articles entitled "The Secret Papers Of Harry Hopkins" in which, in the final article, a paraphrase is given of what Hopkins said in reporting to President Truman on conversations with Marshal Stalin in Moscow.

The most intimate aspects of American and Russian policy are revealed from documents which are actually the property of the government of the United States. Mr. Hopkins went to Moscow on an official mission and his expenses were paid by the taxpayers of America. The President's business with Stalin was not personal but a part of the business of the government of the United States. These reports are, therefore, the property of the government and should not be utilized for anyone's personal benefit.

Truman's Attitude Questioned

The initiative and enterprise of Collier's weekly in getting these documents is not open to question, as it is customary for the press to try to get copies of government proceedings whether confidential or not. But the wisdom of President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall in allowing any private persons to utilize government files for general publication without furnishing these same documents to the entire press is certainly open to question.

It may be argued that Harry Hopkins had a property right to the papers in question and that his heirs have therefore a right to sell them. But the same point arose when the diaries of former Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau were under public discussion. Secretary Snyder, on instructions from President Truman, asked that material that should be in treasury files be returned, and arrangements were made to re-examine the papers with Mr. Morgenthau's cooperation.

The point today, however, is a somewhat different one. Robert Sherwood, who has been editing the Hopkins papers, has no doubt in his possession lots more information on what happened as between Truman and Stalin and between the American government and the Russian government. Even at this late date, it still is in the public interest for the details of those secret conversations to be given to the press.

Inconsistency Of Truman

It is inconsistent for Mr. Truman to argue that he cannot be compelled to give up to Congress papers or records in the executive agencies of the government and at the same time permit private individuals to publish data which belongs to the executive agencies of the American government.

There seems to be need for a statute to protect the confidential documents of the American government from misuse by private individuals. Even the former secretary of war, Henry L. Stimson, did not observe the properties when, after his resignation, he wrote an article for Harper's magazine last year giving facts about the number of atomic bombs available in 1945—information which never before had been published and which he learned only in his official capacity. At that time this correspondent wrote that Mr. Stimson probably stipulated that the text of his article was to be given to the press in full but the editor of Harper's magazine promptly advised this correspondent that the right to republish it in full was granted on the initiative of Harper's.

On the Hopkins papers, Collier's Weekly does not permit the press to republish the material in full but limits quotation to 400 words per article. Thus do private publishing companies decide how much of the secret papers of the United States government shall be revealed to the public. This situation could not have arisen without the tacit or implied consent of President Truman or his Secretary of State.

Ads & Taft-Hartley

THE Paper Box Makers Union, Local 299, International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, A. F. of L., published what is meant to be a sarcastic advertisement against the Taft-Hartley Act. I do not choose to read it in the tone of serio-comedy with which its authors gild it. Rather I prefer to take it seriously, which is perhaps not so pleasant for its authors.

This is what they say to Senator Taft and Congressman Hartley:

"We're grateful to you because your law inspired such unanimity of conviction and brought out the true strength of our Union. It enabled us to overcome the vigorous and continuous opposition of many employers in our industry to the establishment of an industry - wide HEALTH and WELFARE FUND, for which our new contract provides. This Fund, paid for solely by our employers, will provide us with sickness and disability aid, hospitalization, surgical care, life insurance and other benefits."

Quite so. It was under the Taft-Hartley Act that an election was held by the union and that 99½ percent of its members voted for the union. There is nothing in the Taft-Hartley Act that discourages such action by union members; all that the Act requires is that provision shall be made for an honest election in which the members are not coerced by professional labor barons who have come to regard the labor unions as their private businesses, if not as personal rackets.

The Paper Box Makers, in their advertisement, go further:

"1937 A great portion of the New York Paper Box Industry (unorganized) paid most of its workers $10 to $12, with a substantial number paying $6 to $8 a week.

"1941 In over 50% of the industry (unorganized) the over-all average was $17.20. In union plants the over-all average was $22.40.

"1948 WAGE increases under the new industry-wide agreement (95% organized), effective September 1, will establish an over-all weekly average of about $47, plus a Welfare Plan, 8 paid holidays, and extended vacation provisions.

"Our new agreement establishes minimum standards of $36 for semi-skilled, and grades up to $63 for skilled workers. Many workers are paid in varying sums above their required minimums, and in the higher brackets a fair number reach $75 to $85 a week. Peak wages reach as high as $100."

These increases, the 1948 ones, were arranged during the existence of the Taft-Hartley Act. Every item during the year 1948 was arranged under the law which this advertisement means to treat sarcastically. Nothing in the law prevents unions and employers from making such arrangements, provided the negotiations do not degenerate into economic blackmail. The law does not oppose trade unionism; it does oppose economic blackmail.

The Taft-Hartley Act is, as a matter of objective fact, a greater protective to the working man than the Wagner Act, because while it safeguards collective bargaining, it also protects the worker against exploitation of professional labor careerists and from such Communists as have invaded the labor movement and who use it not in the interest of the American worker but for such purposes as the Kremlin may determine upon. No matter what the opponents of the Taft-Hartley bill may have said about it, James Carey, Secretary of the C. I. O., has established the infiltration of Communists into American trade unionism and the fact that they put the Kremlin before the United States and even the interests of union members.

Senator Taft and Congressman Hartley should be grateful for the Paper Box Makers Union advertisement. It explains how beneficial the Taft-Hartley Act has been. Yet, after proving by the facts the value of the Taft-Hartley Act to this union and its members, it states in its advertisement:

> ". . . In the end this cost ALL the people of these unfortunate lands their freedom, their liberty and their democracy. WE CAN'T LET THAT HAPPEN HERE. Even though the scheme of the N.A.M., aided and abetted by you, miscarried this time, we can't take chances. We, of Organized Labor, are therefore actively participating in this unceasing struggle to repeal your UNFAIR and UNDEMOCRATIC legislation. On this coming Labor Day we pledge ourselves to do all in our power to bring about the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law."

It Says Here

Last Saturday night Hollywood blew its big top.

Yes, sir, the star-studded premiere of the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey circus was really the greatest show on earth. If I listed all the stars who were there this column would run right into Dagwood Bumstead.

The benefit earned nearly $250,000 for St. John's hospital here in Los Angeles. I've never seen so many actors donate their services so wholeheartedly since the Academy Award dinner.

Ronald Reagan, George Murphy and Kay Kyser acted as the ringmasters. I couldn't understand why they didn't get Artie Shaw.

There were so many putty noses and floppy shoes there I thought I was back in vaudeville. In fact, when it was time to go on I kept waiting for my cue from Fink's mules.

Burt Lancaster wrestled Gorgeous George and I acted as George's second. I'm happy to report that neither of them got hurt and I'll be out of the hospital in a few days.

P. S. The visiting hours at St. John's are from 5 to 7.

Judge William A. Huster Retires To Private Life

Judge William A. Huster has entered upon a well-deserved period of freedom from the public responsibilities which have been his for more than a quarter of a century. Not since he entered upon the duties as City Attorney 27 years ago until he laid aside the gavel with which he presided as Chief Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit has he had a day he could really call his very own.

Judge Huster began his active public career when he was appointed city solicitor in 1921. Less than two years later he was elected State's Attorney. He was prosecutor for Allegany county two years, resigning that position when appointed associate judge by Governor Harry W. Nice to fill the unexpired term of the late David A. Robb. A year later, he submitted himself to the people of this judicial circuit, which is comprised of Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties, and he was honored by them with his election to the full judgeship term of 15 years. Although about two years remain of that term his retirement Sunday was mandatory under the law permitting a judge to serve only until he is 70 years of age.

As was recently pointed out in this newspaper, Judge Huster leaves behind a record of being a fair and just jurist, a staunch champion of the home as the foundation of American civilization and of being an able interpreter of the law. While there are those who are of the opinion that he was wont to be far too lenient in dealing with some types of persons brought before him, it is generally agreed that those acts of leniency did little, if any, injustice to society, and few abused the "second chance" privilege granted.

In leaving the bench, Judge Huster takes with him the good wishes of the people of the Judicial circuit he served and of Allegany county in particular. He has earned their gratitude for distinguished service.

Seeking solution for the high cost of meat a Washington bureaucrat declares if no one eats meat there will be plenty.

Not All Of Labor Is Supporting Harry Truman

The leaders of organized labor are striving desperately to give the impression that the unions of the country are solidly behind the Democratic ticket in the coming campaign and election. The impression is based on pure wishful thinking, as subsequent events are proving.

The American Federation of Labor itself has taken no direct action. However, its president, William Green, and a committee are working for Mr. Truman's election. The Congress of Industrial Organization executive board has openly indorsed the President. But now along comes the American Federation of Labor Building Service Employes' International Union, claiming 175,000 members, whose executive committee has pledged its support to Governor Dewey.

The first break in the so-called solidarity of labor is significant. The building service employes supported Roosevelt four years ago but the union, as shown by its resolution on behalf of Dewey, is tired of "indecision and jittery irresolution in governmental affairs." That kind of indictment might have been written by a Republican campaign manager.

The first swallow, of course, does not make a summer, and one union supporting Governor Dewey does not indicate a major defection. Yet the president of the building service employes states that other American Federation of Labor unions will back the Republican nominee for President.

Apparently neither the building service employes nor the others have been taken in by the black talk about the terrible fate labor will suffer if Governor Dewey wins. President Truman's threats in his Labor Day speech obviously have fallen on a lot more deaf ears than the many who heard him little more than a week ago and cheered so feebly.

As a matter of fact, everybody knows that labor's vote is going to be split between both parties. No labor leader in this country can yet deliver the bloc votes of his union members. The rank and file of labor will vote according to conscience. But the fact that one large union has seen fit to disregard the indicated policy of the federation shows which way the wind is blowing.

According to Russia, America is a nation of savages. But with plenty of wampum.

"Red Herring" And How It Came Into Common Usage

It seems to have been a British sporting custom to throw hounds off the scent by drawing a fish across the trail of a fugitive fox or hare. Why anybody should care to do this we do not know, but it has brought the Red Herring into common usage, and right now into the speeches composed, or at least delivered, by Harry Truman. The phrase made its first appearance in literature in the line, "She is neither fish or flesh, nor good red herring," John Heywood, English dramatist, emitting it early in the sixteenth century.

Since the presidential references tend to bring the herring into some disfavor, we turn to Webster's Unabridged for its rehabilitation: "Herring, a very valuable food fish which reaches a length of about one foot and is extraordinarily abundant in the temperate and colder parts of the North Atlantic, swimming in schools which sometimes contain hundreds of millions . . . enormous numbers of them are caught in nets, the adults being preserved by smoking or salting." Turning now to history, we learn that the herring fishery was the basis of the Hanseatic League, which embraced 90 towns in Germany and Holland, and "attaining a high political importance in the fourteenth century, gave rise to the development of that commercial policy which has since become connected with all political relations."

Turning next to your own supper table, we suggest that what you eat as sardines are probably small herring. In a word, this fish is far more serviceable to mankind than to the confused rhetonic of Mr. Truman. In his own Kansas City, don't they advertise River catfish as "Alaska salmon, warranted not to turn pink in the can?"

Most unique of all the New Deal reminiscences is the report of an individual who said he was paid by the government but doesn't recall what for.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Dr. Van Dellen

There is nothing more pathetic to witness than an epileptic convulsion, especially when it occurs to a youngster. The victim is helpless and, during the attack, makes grotesque and jerking movements of the arms and head, which frighten those who are unfamiliar with the manifestations of the disease. Furthermore, not much can be done for the sufferer except to place a stick or clothespin between the teeth and wait several minutes until consciousness returns.

If epilepsy were rare there would be little need to paint such a distressing picture of the disorder but it is so common that the more we know about it, the more helpful we can be in aiding such unfortunates. This was stressed recently while I was passing through a small town in Wisconsin. We had stopped to eat and, after lunch decided to window shop along the main street. Nearby two women and a girl were talking when suddenly one of the ladies grabbed the youngster and said, "What are you doing, Elsie?" The girl was just beginning to have a convulsion and the mother was trying to hold her up in order to avoid a spectacle. This obviously was not the thing to do and within a few moments she realized the hopelessness of the situation and with help, lowered her daughter to the ground. People gathered, as usual.

I found that the girl had encountered several such attacks. The parents considered the situation irremediable and did not try to assist the child in overcoming her difficulties. They were surprised to learn of the progress which had been made in the past few years and decided to do something about it.

At the present time, there is no scarcity of effective remedies. The newer drugs like dilantin, mesantoin, and diphenylene diimide are doing wonders; in addition, tridione is valuable in petit mal (milder form of epilepsy). Preparations of this type have made advantages over the older treatment with sedatives except that they may prove toxic unless used properly; for this reason, they must be taken under the supervision of a doctor who understands their action. In some patients, the attacks can be controlled entirely whereas in others the number of spells are reduced materially. There are always a few who cannot tolerate them at all or in whom they become ineffective. But fortunately, such individuals are in the minority. The drugs are not habitforming and do not dull the mind permanently nor injure the body. As a rule, they are started as soon as the diagnosis is made so that the disturbance can be brought under control as quickly as possible.

•—•—•

Many other studies have been done on epilepsy. Recent research has refuted the old notion that epileptics are retarded mentally. The majority are normal in this respect and many are above average. Heredity has also been subjected to considerable research. Inheritance does not play a role in all types of epilepsy but is more likely to be a factor in those in whom the seizures are noted early in life and more so if mental abnormalities exist. It has also been said that offspring of an average epileptic has about 39 chances out of 40 of escaping the affliction.

Not always but many victims have an associated deafness and the two may be difficult to distinguish. In fact, some never realized that the hearing was affected until the fact was demonstrated by tests.

Army Improves Its Top Commanders; Gen. Omar Bradley Brings New Deal To Brasshatism; G.I.'s Staunch Defender Is Now Chief of Staff

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's note—Today the brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, goes to Gen. Omar Bradley, U. S. Army Chief of Staff.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—If war should come to beleaguered Berlin, the men at the top of the U. S. Army today are among the most competent, human, and civilian-minded that this newsman has seen around the War Department in many a year.

This appraisal, by the way, comes from a long-time and vigorous critic of the brass hats.

Responsible for this new deal around the Pentagon Building are General Eisenhower and his successor, modest Omar Bradley.

It is important for the American public to know that when the daredevil boys of the Air Forces and the drop-the-bomb-now men of the Navy gather at joint Chiefs of Staff meetings, there is always present one calm conscience who never forgets the 300,000 G.I.'s buried under white crosses from Guadalcanal to Sicily.

Take off his uniform and Omar Bradley looks like a college professor. He is quiet, gracious, generous, good-natured and basically a very plain person. Everybody who ever worked with Bradley remarks on his simplicity. His mess sergeant in France had orders never to use Bradley's name to wangle food for headquarters. Once during the historic landing at Normandy, Bradley, then a 3-star general, took off his fleece-lined jacket and handed it to a shivering corporal.

"Here, son," he said. "It will be easier for me to get another than it will be for you."

Bradley Studies Like G. I.

Bradley has so monotonously plugged away for the little guy both in war and peace that he is almost taken for granted.

Typical of his quiet manner is the fact that, after being appointed Chief of Staff, but while waiting to be sworn in, he took two months of refresher courses at the Pentagon side by side with other officers. They report that Bradley was never late for class, took careful notes, shamed many a colonel or one-star general by his promptness and interest, compared with their casual attitude.

It may have been because Omar Bradley was from Moberly, Missouri, that President Truman picked him to be Veterans Administrator, later Chief of Staff. If so, this geographical coincidence was the good luck of the American people. However, it was not luck which put Bradley at the top.

When a youngster he worked for the Wabash Railroad; being poor yet anxious for a college education he applied to his Congressman for a West Point apointment. To take the examination in St. Louis, he had to promote a pass on the Wabash.

Eisenhower's Class Mate

Bradley was graduated from West Point in the class of 1915. Another famous member of that class was Dwight Eisenhower of Kansas. Ike ranked 100th. Bradley ranked 44th. Perhaps this rather low rating should not be cited in the month of September, when several million American youngsters are reluctantly going back to school; so, in passing, it might be noted that General MacArthur graduated No. 1 in his class of 1903.

Bradley's start in the recent war was none too happy. He commanded the 28th Division, officered in part by Republican politicians from Pennsylvania. Senator Ed Martin was commanding general, later relieved (for age) by Bradley, while Jay Cooke, one of Stassen's hot supporters, was a battalion commander.

After various difficulties with the 28th Division, Bradley stepped up to command a corps under General Patton in Sicily, later became top commander of the European Theatre, entrusted with carrying out the strategy of General Eisenhower and the Allied Chiefs of Staff. He faced some tough problems.

Battle Of The Bulge

One of them was getting along with temperamental, grandstanding Field Marshall Montgomery. Bradley had no regard for Monty's lack of nerve and reluctance to advance But realizing Montgomery was a symbol to the British people, he said no word against him.

Bradley got part of the blame for the Battle of The Bulge, and toward the end of this battle Montgomery, his rival, was given command of part of Bradley's forces. However, the inside fact is that it was Montgomery's stooge, General Strong, who served as Bradley's chief intelligence officer, plus Gen. Eddie Siebert, an American, who claimed the Germans could not possibly attack in the Ardennes.

Only his close friends know it, but Bradley himself was worried before the attack, took a trip down to the Saar to talk it over with "Old Blood and Guts" Patton. His explanation to Patton was that "topside" had ordered him to leave the Ardennes woods exposed, since the Germans could not possibly attack. After it was all over, Bradley, like the soldier that he is, took the blame for the Battle of The Bulge on his own shoulders.

Helping The Veterans

But the toughest job Bradley ever faced came after Potsdam, when Truman asked him to unravel the moddled Veterans Administration. The V. A. is the world's largest social-welfare agency, the world's biggest dispenser of pensions, the world's biggest operator of hospitals and one of the world's biggest banks.

Running it is one of the most thankless jobs in the United States. Unfortunately, when men in government do a good job they get little applause. Bradley did so well that he attracted scant attention until he took on the gentleman who is supposed to be able to do no wrong — the Commander of the American Legion — and publicly whipped him.

When Bradley first became Chief of Staff, Secretary Forrestal kept him so busy on strategic problems that he had little time to revamp the administrative side of the Army. In addition, various hangers - on, who should have had the good grace to retire, continued their chair-warming.

However, Bradley has now begun to move with some of his own men, including Gen. Bryant Moore, former commander at Trieste, Gen. "Buck" Lanham, formerly in charge of the Army's education program, and various others.

Bradley believes that one way to avoid war is to take all the profits out of war. And at staff conferences you will hear his nasal Missouri drawl formulating plans for training green troops, outlining strategy in case the worst happens in Berlin —yet at the same time hoping against hope that nothing will happen and "we can all go fishin'."

Roper's Prediction Of Victory For Dewey And His Reasoning

By MARK SULLIVAN

An almost sensational statement was made last week by a leading conductor of public opinion polls, Mr. Elmo Roper of Fortune Magazine and the New York Herald Tribune. Mr. Roper said that during the Presidential campaign he will not publish polls of the standings of the candidates, such as ordinarily he would give out from time to time. His reason, he said, is that polls already taken statistics gathered convinced him that Republican candidate Dewey will win by an overwhelming majority. Holding this conviction, Mr. Roper wishes not to seem to be reporting a race when actually there is no real race at all.

Mr. Roper's conclusion about the outcome of this campaign is based on presently current polls, statistics and signs. The same conclusion is indicated by history, both short-term and long-term. If the Democrats are defeated as overwhelmingly as is now expected, it is because they have been in power longer than history intended. Their defeat will be the cumulative sum of forces which should have defeated them in 1940 and again in 1944, but on both occasions were frustrated by the war.

To put it in terms of the Republican Party, it was defeated in 1932, was worse defeated in the Congressional elections of 1934, and still worse defeated in both the Presidential and Congressional elections of 1936. In that 1936 Presidential election the Republicans carried only states, Maine and Vermont. Similarly spectacular was their defeat in the Congressional elections the same year, they elected a smaller proportion of members of the House than any major party in recent history, 89 out of 435.

Sentiment Changed In 1937

The turn in popular sentiment came in 1937, due in part to Roosevelt's unsuccessful attempt to change the Supreme Court, but in larger part to a broad public disaffection toward Roosevelt and the New Deal. Proof of the turn, and of the strength of the new public feeling, came in the Congressional elections of 1938, when the Republicans almost doubled their number in the House, rising from 89 to 169.

By every precedent and rule of political trends, that rise of Republican strength in the House in 1938 should have gone on to Republican victory in the Presidential election of 1940; the Democratic tenure should have ended normally with the end of Roosevelt's second term. But the war had begun in Europe in 1939 and by 1940 there was fear that America might be involved. That fear, evoking a sentiment which frequently said "Don't change horses in the middle of the stream," frustrated the normal political trend and gave Roosevelt a third term. By 1944 we were far out in the stream, actually at war, and again Roosevelt was elected. What today makes victory for Republican candidate Dewey so highly probably, and so likely to be spectacular, is the cumulative strength of a trend that was twice frustrated.

Evidence of Two-Party System

That is the lesson of history in the short term. In the long term the lesson is the same. This is a two-party country. The fact that we remain so is itself a sign of the strength of conservatism and tradition now apparent in many ways. In 1936, when the Democrats carried every state except two, there were many who said this was going to be a one-party country, the Republican Party would disappear. The present prospect of Republican victory is evidence of the continued vitality of the two-party system.

In countries with the two-party political system, one tends to be conservative, the other liberal or radical. Between the two there is always the alternation of which we are about to see an example. In America during the past fifty years the lengths of tenure have been: Republicans, 16 years under McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and Taft; Democrats, 8 years under Wilson; Republicans, 12 years under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover; Demcrats, 16 years under Franklin Roosevelt and Truman.

The Democrats are at the end of the longest teure either party has had in more than 60 years. In addition, they suffer serious disruption within themselves. There are two new parties both of them subtractions from Democratic strength. The Wallace Progressive Party has, in the most recent Roper poll, 3.6 per cent of the total vote. The other group of dissident Democrats, the States' Rights Party with Governor Thurmond as its candidate, has 4.4 per cent.

The sum of these two dissents from Democratic strength is 8 per cent—and 8 per cent of the total vote is 16 per cent of the normal Democratic vote. Such a dissent would alone justify prediction of calamitous defeat next November.

Truman Gives To Individual Data He Refuses To Congress

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 — If a committee of Congress suddenly asked President Truman to publish copies of all the telegraphic reports he had received from American diplomatic representatives in Moscow during the last three years, so that the American people could know the truth about what has really been happening back of the scenes, Mr. Truman would probably decline to do so. He probably would say confidential matters of diplomacy could not be revealed.

Yet in Collier's Weekly there has been appearing from week to week a series of articles entitled "The Secret Papers Of Harry Hopkins" in which, in the final article, a paraphrase is given of what Hopkins said in reporting to President Truman on conversations with Marshal Stalin in Moscow.

The most intimate aspects of American and Russian policy are revealed from documents which are actually the property of the government of the United States. Mr. Hopkins went to Moscow on an official mission and his expenses were paid by the taxpayers of America. The President's business with Stalin was not personal but a part of the business of the government of the United States. These reports are, therefore, the property of the government and should not be utilized for anyone's personal benefit.

Truman's Attitude Questioned

The initiative and enterprise of Collier's weekly in getting these documents is not open to question, as it is customary for the press to try to get copies of government proceedings whether confidential or not. But the wisdom of President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall in allowing any private persons to utilize government files for general publication without furnishing these same documents to the entire press is certainly open to question.

It may be argued that Harry Hopkins had a property right to the papers in question and that his heirs have therefore a right to sell them. But the same point arose when the diaries of former Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau were under public discussion. Secretary Snyder, on instructions from President Truman, asked that material that should be in treasury files be returned, and arrangements were made to re-examine the papers with Mr. Morgenthau's cooperation.

The point today, however, is a somewhat different one. Robert Sherwood, who has been editing the Hopkins papers, has no doubt in his possession lots more information on what happened as between Truman and Stalin and between the American government and the Russian government. Even at this late date, it still is in the public interest for the details of those secret conversations to be given to the press.

Inconsistency Of Truman

It is inconsistent for Mr. Truman to argue that he cannot be compelled to give up to Congress papers or records in the executive agencies of the government and at the same time permit private individuals to publish data which belongs to the executive agencies of the American government.

There seems to be need for a statute to protect the confidential documents of the American government from misuse by private individuals. Even the former secretary of war, Henry L. Stimson, did not observe the properties when, after his resignation, he wrote an article for Harper's magazine last year giving facts about the number of atomic bombs available in 1945—information which never before had been published and which he learned only in his official capacity. At that time this correspondent wrote that Mr. Stimson probably stipulated that the text of his article was to be given to the press in full but the editor of Harper's magazine promptly advised this correspondent that the right to republish it in full was granted on the initiative of Harper's.

On the Hopkins papers, Collier's Weekly does not permit the press to republish the material in full but limits quotation to 400 words per article. Thus do private publishing companies decide how much of the secret papers of the United States government shall be revealed to the public. This situation could not have arisen without the tacit or implied consent of President Truman or his Secretary of State.

Ads & Taft-Hartley

THE Paper Box Makers Union, Local 299, International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, A. F. of L., published what is meant to be a sarcastic advertisement against the Taft-Hartley Act. I do not choose to read it in the tone of serio-comedy with which its authors gild it. Rather I prefer to take it seriously, which is perhaps not so pleasant for its authors.

This is what they say to Senator Taft and Congressman Hartley:

"We're grateful to you because your law inspired such unanimity of conviction and brought out the true strength of our Union. It enabled us to overcome the vigorous and continuous opposition of many employers in our industry to the establishment of an industry - wide HEALTH and WELFARE FUND, for which our new contract provides. This Fund, paid for solely by our employers, will provide us with sickness and disability aid, hospitalization, surgical care, life insurance and other benefits."

Quite so. It was under the Taft-Hartley Act that an election was held by the union and that 99½ percent of its members voted for the union. There is nothing in the Taft-Hartley Act that discourages such action by union members; all that the Act requires is that provision shall be made for an honest election in which the members are not coerced by professional labor barons who have come to regard the labor unions as their private businesses, if not as personal rackets.

The Paper Box Makers, in their advertisement, go further:

"1937 A great portion of the New York Paper Box Industry (unorganized) paid most of its workers $10 to $12, with a substantial number paying $6 to $8 a week.

"1941 In over 50% of the industry (unorganized) the over-all average was $17.20. In union plants the over-all average was $22.40.

"1948 WAGE increases under the new industry-wide agreement (95% organized), effective September 1, will establish an over-all weekly average of about $47, plus a Welfare Plan, 8 paid holidays, and extended vacation provisions.

"Our new agreement establishes minimum standards of $36 for semi-skilled, and grades up to $63 for skilled workers. Many workers are paid in varying sums above their required minimums, and in the higher brackets a fair number reach $75 to $85 a week. Peak wages reach as high as $100."

These increases, the 1948 ones, were arranged during the existence of the Taft-Hartley Act. Every item during the year 1948 was arranged under the law which this advertisement means to treat sarcastically. Nothing in the law prevents unions and employers from making such arrangements, provided the negotiations do not degenerate into economic blackmail. The law does not oppose trade unionism: it does oppose economic blackmail.

The Taft-Hartley Act is, as a matter of objective fact, a greater protective to the working man than the Wagner Act, because while it safeguards collective bargaining, it also protects the worker against exploitation of professional labor careerists and from such Communists as have invaded the labor movement and who use it not in the interest of the American worker but for such purposes as the Kremlin may determine upon. No matter what the opponents of the Taft-Hartley bill may have said about it, James Carey, Secretary of the C. I. O., has established the infiltration of Communists into American trade unionism and the fact that they put the Kremlin before the United States and even the interests of union members.

Senator Taft and Congressman Hartley should be grateful for the Paper Box Makers Union advertisement. It explains how beneficial the Taft-Hartley Act has been. Yet, after proving by the facts the value of the Taft-Hartley Act to this union and its members, it states in its advertisement:

". . . In the end this cost ALL the people of these unfortunate lands their freedom, their liberty and their democracy. WE CAN'T LET THAT HAPPEN HERE. Even though the scheme of the N.A.M., aided and abetted by you, miscarried this time, we can't take chances. We, of Organized Labor, are therefore actively participating in this unceasing struggle to repeal your UNFAIR and UNDEMOCRATIC legislation. On this coming Labor Day we pledge ourselves to do all in our power to bring about the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law."

Consistency—the lost art!

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Last Saturday night Hollywood blew its big top.

Yes, sir, the star-studded premiere of the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey circus was really the greatest show on earth. If I listed all the stars who were there this column would run right into Dagwood Bumstead.

The benefit earned nearly $250,000 for St. John's hospital here in Los Angeles. I've never seen so many actors donate their services so wholeheartedly since the Academy Award dinner.

Ronald Reagan, George Murphy and Kay Kyser acted as the ringmasters. I couldn't understand why they didn't get Artie Shaw.

There were so many putty noses and floppy shoes there I thought I was back in vaudeville. In fact, when it was time to go on I kept waiting for my cue from Pink's mules.

Burt Lancaster wrestled Gorgeous George and I acted as George's second. I'm happy to report that neither of them got hurt and I'll be out of the hospital in a few days.

P. S. The visiting hours at St. John's are from 5 to 7.

Brown Is Granted Right To Build In Johnson Heights

Zoning Board Had Dismissed Appeal

Chief Judge William A. Huster, in an opinion filed yesterday in Circuit Court, granted an appeal by which Angus W. Brown will be allowed a permit to erect a two-story building at the intersection of Warwick and Ridgewood Avenues to house a garage and five apartments.

The appeal, originally filed with the Board of Zoning Appeals several weeks ago, was dismissed by that group without a ruling.

The board refused to consider the case because under a ruling passed in December, 1947, it does not consider any appeals where the property involved is covered by deed restrictions.

In his opinion Judge Huster brought out that the lot on which the building is to be erected was purchased by Brown in 1941 for the purpose of expanding his business. He operates a painting business nearby and has been using the lot on which the new building will be erected to store and paint trucks.

Judge Huster stated that if Brown had bought the lot in 1941 for the purpose of expanding his business, then the present city ordinance on zoning does not apply as the ordinance was passed after the purchase of the lot.

In connection with the restrictions in the deed for the Johnson Heights property, Judge Huster ruled that all restrictions had been complied with as Brown had obtained written permission to start a business on Lot 18 of Block 27 at the intersection of the two streets.

The court also ruled that a property owned by Mrs. Adam Weber in the rear of the lot could not be considered as part of the lot, as it had been purchased in 1926 and was not intended to be included in the section under which the restrictions applied.

The lot adjoining the proposed site of the building housing the apartments and garage is owned by Willis Brown and he had given permission for the erection of the structure.

Angus W. Brown was represented by William L. Wilson, Jr., and the court based its opinion on testimony taken at a hearing during the July term of court.

The section where the new building will be erected is in a Residential B area and ordinarily would not allow such businesses to be started under terms of a city ordinance.

Hike In Outlying Water Rates Asked

Mayor Thomas S. Post recommended yesterday that water rates to out-of-city users be raised 50 per cent because of the costs of the new water line from Lake Gordon and resulting higher maintenance expense.

The mayor, in a statement before the Council, said that filtration facilities at the dam must be improved and the capacity increased at once. Currently, he said, the city uses 12,000,000 gallons a day, and that is capacity.

"We must prepare for an emergency now," he said, "instead of waiting for the new line to be completed.

The mayor, in asking for an increase in the out-of-city rates, said that other municipalities have started the practice and found it brings in more revenue. He also asked that Water Commissioner William J. Edwards have a survey made on the dam filtration looking to increasing the facilities.

Harold Clayton, Wills Creek Avenue, commented before the council that he has found where meters are used exclusively, the waste of water is less or practically nothing.

Mayor Post agreed, but said that the city has been forced to continue its flat rates because it is unable to get meters.

Members of council voiced individual recognition of the need for more filtration facilities. No definite action was taken, however.

Water consumption during the week was 87,823,000 gallons as compared to 85,300,000 in 1947. The daily average was 12,546,000. The water level at Lake Gordon is seven inches below the crest of the spillway and at Lake Koon eight feet, seven inches below the crest.

in violation of the law.

"I told Mr. Wilson I had read and heard the advertisemens in the paper and on the radio inviting people to the Sunday night show. I told him that after all that transpired that this was in utter defiance of the law. Now, imagine my amazement to read in the paper that Mr. Baker states that he was not warned prior to his arrest.

"After the arrest Mr. Ryan telephoned and asked me about bond. I do not name the amount in the bond nor take the bond. That is within the province of the trial magistrate in cases of this kind. It was in this conversation that Mr. Ryan informed me that the theatre in Mt. Savage was operating and he demanded that the law be uniformly enforced.

Recalls Statute

"It is not my business to police the county and there are, no doubt, many violations of the law of which I am not aware. The constitution and statute provides the State's Attorney duties in the following language: 'The State's Attorney for each County and the City of Baltimore shall, in such County or City, prosecute and defend, on the part of the State, all cases in which the State may be interested.'

"It is not within my realm to make arrests or raids. The actual enforcement of the law is with the sheriff and his deputies, the constables, the State Police and the municipal police.

"Likewise the laws are made in Annapolis. Things will have come to a fine pass when the enforcement officers have to apologize for doing their sworn duty. Having spent all my life among the good people of Alegany County, I do not believe that will be necessary.

"If the law is changed, the legislature will meet for such purposes next January."

Faces Refuse Charge

Accused of dumping refuse on a public lot, Joseph Sirna, Virginia Avenue, yesterday posted $5 bond for a hearing today in Police Court. He was arrested by Officer Richard Lashley.

Authorities said Sirna was dumping discarded boxes and other junk on a lot across from the "Fisher woods," Oldtown Road.

Railroad Group Will Meet Here

Plans are being made for the biennial meeting of the legislative and political body of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen here next week, according to Benjamin W. O'Rourke, who has served as chairman of the group since 1940.

The five-day meeting, which will convene Monday, September 20, will be held at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, with daily sessions scheduled from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m.

O'Rourke, a member of the legislative board since 1932, said he will not seek re-election as chairman this year.

Election of officers will be held Friday, September 24, on the closing day of the meeting.

The group includes representatives ations in Maryland, including the Baltimore and Ohio, Western Maryland, Pennsylvania, Cumberland and Pennsylvania and the Baltimore and Back Creek Railroads.

Bruce To Take Oath As Judge Today

Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., local Trial Magistrate, will take the oath of office as Associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland at 10 a. m. today.

Judge Bruce, whose appointment was announced Friday, will fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Chief Judge William A. Huster, who reached the age of 70 Sunday.

The oath of office will be administered in Circuit courtroom by Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden, who will be administering the oath to a judge for the first time since he became clerk.

Police Recover Stolen Purse

A woman's purse stolen Saturday night from Miss Jean Taite, an employe of the Julian Goldman store, Baltimore Street, was recovered yesterday on Pershing Street, according to police.

Miss Taite told police she laid the purse down on a desk in the rear of the store Saturday and when she returned it was gone. Authorities said it was near a rear door where a passerby could have seen it and entered the store.

Police said $35 was missing from the purse when it was recovered.

John Hanley Injured While Unloading Wood

John Hanley, 41, 1000 Lafayette Street, was treated at Memorial Hospital for a laceration of the upper lip suffered when unloading wood from a truck and a piece of the wood flew up and hit him.

A 16-month-old baby was treated yesterday in the same hospital for a lacerated left cheek. Michael Loibel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Loibel, 412 Park Street, fell out of a bed at his home and struck his face on a rocking chair.

Keyser Man Fined In Assault Case

H. T. Aronholt, Keyser, W. Va., was fined $20 and costs after he was found guilty yesterday by Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle of assault and battery on Elmer Weasenforth, September 6.

Aronholt filed notice of an appeal to Mineral County Circuit Court through his attorney, Donald C. Hott. Weasenforth was represented by Howard P. Shores.

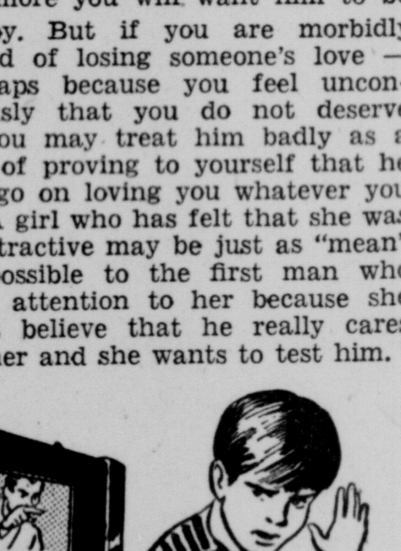
MIRROR Of Your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Can loving a person make you treat him badly?

Answer: Not directly, of course. For the more you love a person, the more you will want him to be happy. But if you are morbidly afraid of losing someone's love — perhaps because you feel unconsciously that you do not deserve it—you may treat him badly as a way of proving to yourself that he will go on loving you whatever you do. A girl who has felt that she was unattractive may be just as "mean" as possible to the first man who pays attention to her because she can't believe that he really cares for her and she wants to test him.



Does "Split Personality" Begin In Childhood?

Answer: Schizophrenia, often popularly called "split personality," is basically a retreat to mental attitudes that are quite normal in a baby, since a baby cannot easily distinguish between his own thoughts and feelings and what goes on in the world around him. Thus the schizophrenic may "split off' the part of himself that has come to feel intolerably guilty, and imagine he hears voices on the radio which accuse him of atrocious crimes, or that the doctors, nurses, and attendants are in a conspiracy against him.

Do We Sometimes Only "Think We're Thinking"?

Answer: Yes, if what you mean by thinking is honestly trying to understand our problems and find a solution for them. Lying awake at night brooding over your hard luck or picturing disasters by which you seem to be threatened is not thinking; it's either self-pity or self-torture, or a mixture of both. Really thinking about anything implies two basic questions: "What does it mean?" and "What can I do about it?" and if you're not concentrating on these, you had better put your troubles resolutely out of your mind.

Court Rules Mishap Release Is Valid

Chief Judge William A. Huster held in an opinion filed yesterday morning in Circuit Court that a release gven by a motorist to the operator of a motorcycle with which he had a collision was valid, and found in favor of the defendant in a damage suit.

William L. Messersmith, operator of the automobile, held an insurance policy with The Automobile Underwriters Corporation, co-plaintiff with him in a suit against Clyde Emerick, Hyndman, Pa., for damages of $505.

It was brought out in testimony that the plaintiff sought out Emerick in Pennsylvania to give a release in connection with the accident. Messersmith was paid $455 by the insurance company under terms of his collision policy and the insurance firm sought to recover from Emerick.

The case resulted from a crash April 13, 1947 near Corriganville. Testimony also showed that Messersmith obtained the release with the understanding that it would give both Emerick and him the right to operate their machines following accident and not cause the Motor Vehicle Commissioner to hold up their licenses in any way.

The court held that the release was valid and found in favor of Emerick.

James S. Getty and William R. Carscaden were attorneys for Messersmith while Earl E. Manges represented Emerick.

Brown Is Granted Right To Build In Johnson Heights

Zoning Board Had Dismissed Appeal

Chief Judge William A. Huster, in an opinion filed yesterday in Circuit Court, granted an appeal by which Angus W. Brown will be allowed a permit to erect a two-story building at the intersection of Warwick and Ridgewood Avenues to house a garage and five apartments.

The appeal, originally filed with the Board of Zoning Appeals several weeks ago, was dismissed by that group without a ruling.

The board refused to consider the case because under a ruling passed in December, 1947, it does not consider any appeals where the property involved is covered by deed restrictions.

In his opinion Judge Huster brought out that the lot on which the building is to be erected was purchased by Brown in 1941 for the purpose of expanding his business. He operates a painting business nearby and has been using the lot on which the new building will be erected to store and paint trucks.

Judge Huster stated that if Brown had bought the lot in 1941 for the purpose of expanding his business, then the present city ordinance on zoning does not apply as the ordinance was passed after the purchase of the lot.

In connection with the restrictions in the deed for the Johnson Heights property, Judge Huster ruled that all restrictions had been complied with as Brown had obtained written permission to start a business on Lot 18 of Block 27 at the intersection of the two streets.

The court also ruled that a property owned by Mrs. Adam Weber in the rear of the lot could not be considered as part of the lot, as it had been purchased in 1926 and was not intended to be included in the section under which the restrictions applied.

The lot adjoining the proposed site of the building housing the apartments and garage is owned by Willis Brown and he had given permission for the erection of the structure.

Angus W. Brown was represented by William L. Wilson, Jr., and the court based its opinion on testimony taken at a hearing during the July term of court.

The section where the new building will be erected is in a Residential B area and ordinarily would not allow such businesses to be started under terms of a city ordinance.

Hike In Outlying Water Rates Asked

Mayor Thomas S. Post recommended yesterday that water rates to out-of-city users be raised 50 per cent because of the costs of the new water line from Lake Gordon and resulting higher maintenance expense.

The mayor, in a statement before the Council, said that filtration facilities at the dam must be improved and the capacity increased at once. Currently, he said, the city uses 12,000,000 gallons a day, and that is capacity.

"We must prepare for an emergency now," he said, "instead of waiting for the new line to be completed.

The mayor, in asking for an increase in the out-of-city rates, said that other municipalities have started the practice and found it brings in more revenue. He also asked that Water Commissioner William J. Edwards have a survey made on the dam filtration looking to increasing the facilities.

Harold Clayton, Wills Creek Avenue, commented before the council that he has found where meters are used exclusively, the waste of water is less or practically nothing.

Mayor Post agreed, but said that the city has been forced to continue its flat rates because it is unable to get meters.

Members of council voiced individual recognition of the need for more filtration facilities. No definite action was taken, however.

Water consumption during the week was 87,823,000 gallons as compared to 85,300,000 in 1947. The daily average was 12,546,000. The water level at Lake Gordon is seven inches below the crest of the spillway and at Lake Koon eight feet, seven inches below the crest.

in violation of the law.

"I told Mr. Wilson I had read and heard the advertisemens in the paper and on the radio inviting people to the Sunday night show. I told him that after all that transpired that this was in utter defiance of the law. Now, imagine my amazement to read in the paper that Mr. Baker states that he was not warned prior to his arrest.

"After the arrest Mr. Ryan telephoned and asked me about bond. I do not name the amount in the bond nor take the bond. That is within the province of the trial magistrate in cases of this kind. It was in this conversation that Mr. Ryan informed me that the theatre in Mt. Savage was operating and he demanded that the law be uniformly enforced.

Recalls Statute

"It is not my business to police the county and there are, no doubt, many violations of the law of which I am not aware. The constitution and statute provides the State's Attorney duties in the following language: 'The State's Attorney for each County and the City of Baltimore shall, in such County or City, prosecute and defend, on the part of the State, all cases in which the State may be interested.'

"It is not within my realm to make arrests or raids. The actual enforcement of the law is with the sheriff and his deputies, the constables, the State Police and the municipal police.

"Likewise the laws are made in Annapolis. Things will have come to a fine pass when the enforcement officers have to apologize for doing their sworn duty. Having spent all my life among the good people of Alegany County, I do not believe that will be necessary.

"If the law is changed, the legislature will meet for such purposes next January."

Faces Refuse Charge

Accused of dumping refuse on a public lot, Joseph Sirna, Virginia Avenue, yesterday posted $5 bond for a hearing today in Police Court. He was arrested by Officer Richard Lashley.

Authorities said Sirna was dumping discarded boxes and other junk on a lot across from the "Fisher woods," Oldtown Road.

Railroad Group Will Meet Here

Plans are being made for the biennial meeting of the legislative and political body of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen here next week, according to Benjamin W. O'Rourke, who has served as chairman of the group since 1940.

The five-day meeting, which will convene Monday, September 20, will be held at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, with daily sessions scheduled from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m.

O'Rourke, a member of the legislative board since 1932, said he will not seek re-election as chairman this year.

Election of officers will be held Friday, September 24, on the closing day of the meeting.

The group includes representatives ations in Maryland, including the Baltimore and Ohio, Western Maryland, Pennsylvania, Cumberland and Pennsylvania and the Baltimore and Back Creek Railroads.

Bruce To Take Oath As Judge Today

Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., local Trial Magistrate, will take the oath of office as Associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland at 10 a. m. today.

Judge Bruce, whose appointment was announced Friday, will fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Chief Judge William A. Huster, who reached the age of 70 Sunday.

The oath of office will be administered in Circuit courtroom by Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden, who will be administering the oath to a judge for the first time since he became clerk.

Police Recover Stolen Purse

A woman's purse stolen Saturday night from Miss Jean Taite, an employe of the Julian Goldman store, Baltimore Street, was recovered yesterday on Pershing Street, according to police.

Miss Taite told police she laid the purse down on a desk in the rear of the store Saturday and when she returned it was gone. Authorities said it was near a rear door where a passerby could have seen it and entered the store.

Police said $35 was missing from the purse when it was recovered.

John Hanley Injured While Unloading Wood

John Hanley, 41, 1000 Lafayette Street, was treated at Memorial Hospital for a laceration of the upper lip suffered when unloading wood from a truck and a piece of the wood flew up and hit him.

A 16-month-old baby was treated yesterday in the same hospital for a lacerated left cheek. Michael Loibel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Loibel, 412 Park Street, fell out of a bed at his home and struck his face on a rocking chair.

Keyser Man Fined In Assault Case

H. T. Aronholt, Keyser, W. Va., was fined $20 and costs after he was found guilty yesterday by Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle of assault and battery on Elmer Weasenforth, September 6.

Aronholt filed notice of an appeal to Mineral County Circuit Court through his attorney, Donald C. Hott. Weasenforth was represented by Howard P. Shores.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Can loving a person make you treat him badly?

Answer: Not directly, of course. For the more you love a person, the more you will want him to be happy. But if you are morbidly afraid of losing someone's love — perhaps because you feel unconsciously that you do not deserve it—you may treat him badly as a way of proving to yourself that he will go on loving you whatever you do. A girl who has felt that she was unattractive may be just as "mean" as possible to the first man who pays attention to her because she can't believe that he really cares for her and she wants to test him.

Does "Split Personality" Begin In Childhood?

Answer: Schizophrenia, often popularly called "split personality," is basically a retreat to mental attitudes that are quite normal in a baby, since a baby cannot easily distinguish between his own thoughts and feelings and what goes on in the world around him. Thus the schizophrenic may "split off' the part of himself that has come to feel intolerably guilty, and imagine he hears voices on the radio which accuse him of atrocious crimes, or that the doctors, nurses, and attendants are in a conspiracy against him.

Do We Sometimes Only "Think We're Thinking"?

Answer: Yes, if what you mean by thinking is honestly trying to understand our problems and find a solution for them. Lying awake at night brooding over your hard luck or picturing disasters by which you seem to be threatened is not thinking; it's either self-pity or self-torture, or a mixture of both. Really thinking about anything implies two basic questions: "What does it mean?" and "What can I do about it?" and if you're not concentrating on these, you had better put your troubles resolutely out of your mind.

Ann Troxel To Become Bride Of D. L. Evans, Sat.

Rev. D. C. Watson To Perform Ceremony

MCiss Ann Troxell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Troxell, 223 Fayette Street, will become the bride of Donald L. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Evans, Portsmouth, O., Saturday.

The open church ceremony will be at 2 p. m., in Emmanuel Episcopal Church, with Rev. David C. Watson officiating.

Miss Elnora Troxell will be maid of honor and her sister's only attendant. Richard Evans, Portsmouth, will be best man for his brother. Ushers will be Robert Evans, Portsmouth, brother of the bridegroom, and John Lee Troxell, cousin of the bride-elect.

Preceding the wedding ceremony, Miss Rachel Twente, St. Louis, Mo., a former roommate of the bride, will sing, "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. W. H. Oswald will be the organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Troxell will entertain with a reception at their home immediately following the ceremony. They also will hold a buffet supper at their home, Friday night before the wedding rehearsal for members of the bridal party, families and out of town guests.

Miss Troxell is a graduate of Allegany High School and the University of Maryland, and has been employed at Ohio University, Athens. Mr. Evans is a graduate of Ohio University and is now employed as a reporter for the Portsmouth Times.

Ann's Washington "Pie"

- ¼ cup vegetable shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 2 tsps. Double Acting Rumford Baking Powder
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Beat in egg. Add Rumford Baking Powder (no alum) and other sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk and vanilla; beat thoroughly. Rumford gives you quicker, easier beating batter . . . and your cake stays fresh longer. Pour into two greased 8-inch layer pans. Bake in moderately hot oven (375°F.) for 25 minutes. Cut cooled layers crosswise making four layers. Fill layers with raspberry jam; dust top of cake with powdered sugar.

Flavor to set tongues atingle—nourishment that little folks need . . . serve Kellogg's Corn-Soya for a satisfying, stays-by-you breakfast at small cost. The protein value of one ounce of Corn-Soya (⅔ cup) in four ounces of milk equals that of one egg and three slices of bacon. Vitamins and minerals, too. Get some at your grocer's today.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 13 (INS)—I love the way Texas millionaire, Jack Wrather, already well known in Hollywood production circles, introduced himself when he called with a story. "I'm Bonita Granville's husband," he said modestly — and with all that money too.

Kay Williams

He told me that he has just formed Epic Pictures, Inc., along with James Edward Grant and John Wayne to make three big films starring John and written and directed by Grant.

Jacques Tourneur had a long distance call from his father, the veteran director Maurice Tourneur, now in France, with what sounds to me like an amazingly good idea. Tourneur Sr. has bought "The Fox of France," the life story of Georges Eugene Clemenceau. He wants his son to come to Paris to help him direct and produce it.

With political France in such a turmoil, this story would have great political significance. Clemenceau was a great soldier, and one of France's finest statesmen.

A little of the gold dust Bob Hope has collected during his years of hard work is rubbing off on 21-year-old Billy Farrell, who comes from Cleveland and went to the same school Hope attended.

Bob heard the boy sing in Cleveland and was so delighted with his voice that he has brought him to Hollywood under personal contract. He makes his debut on the Hope program.

Chit Chat: Never let it be said that millionaire Harry Cushing isn't going to the ultimate extreme to get Georgette Windsor to drop her divorce suit and come back to him.

He has offered her the starring role in his first Gibraltar production, an independent company, he has formed. A man who will put millions into movie production just to get his estranged and ambitious wife back, is really going some.

There is an epidemic of newcomers getting big breaks in Hollywood these days—or had you noticed? For years producers have been talking about "new faces," but now there is less hot air and more signing of contracts.

C. B. De Mille just gave a north Hollywood high school boy, Rusty Tamblyn, a top role in "Samson and Delilah." Sam Goldwyn stars Joan Evans in her first picture.

Harry "Pop" Sherman is launching a male Cinderella, Peter Thompson, in "Tennessee's Partner." Thompson is a 26-year-old Grinnell College athlete, big, blond and brawny who has never appeared on the screen. Pop heard about him through Vernon Clarke, soon to be his son-in-law, who met Pete when they were in the army in Germany.

When Arline Judge says she has no romance in her life, that's news, sister. But she is now in New York from a visit in Springfield with another brand of excitement.

She hurt her hand in an accident and it became infected. The only person around to treat it was the local mortician—undertaker to you. He was so excited during the X-ray that he photographed the contents of her pocketbook instead of her hand!

Arline says now that her two boys are in boarding school again, she may go to France to make two movies there.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Allen Jenkins, who is marrying Lillian Kinsella the 28th of this month, was at the Seacombers with her receiving congratulations.

Natalie Schafer will stick to acting from now on. She put some food in the oven, forgot it, and the kitchen caught on fire.

Adolph Spreckels and Kay Williams, acting like newlyweds, holding hands at the Beverly Tropics.

Lionel Barrymore, bless his heart, hosted sixty-five boys from a boys' home in Eagle Rock for an evening at the circus.

Albert Dodero, who made such a big splash in Cannes this summer, has reconciled with his wife. His girl friend, Carol McDonald, was seen everywhere with Steve Crane before he sailed for Europe.

It's reported that Al Lichtman was paid one million dollars for his contract at MGM—reported I said—I have no way of knowing whether it's the truth.

The pretty girl with Peter Lawford at the Ming Room was Joy Lansing, MGM starlet.

MGM is sending Frances Gifford to New York for two weeks to exploit "Luxury Liner" in which she stars. It's good news to all Frances' friends that she has completely recovered from her serious automobile accident and is more beautiful than ever.

That's all today.

● Yes, it is rather a grim prospect—the suggestion that you, or some member of your household, may be "laid-up" indefinitely by a lingering illness. But the best way to avoid that contingency is to watch early symptoms, act promptly and decisively to scotch them. Right now, if illness threatens, consult a Doctor. Dukes May Get Crusader

• • •

Sala To Receive $5,000

• — • — •

Kessel's Arm Goes Lame

• • •

Ted Beard Is Marylander

By C. V. BURNS

Bob Whip, Cumberland's professional basketball magnate, who is now rounding up talent for the Dukes of the All-American Professional Basketball League, informs us that Ken Haggerty, one of the stars of Holy Cross College's NCAA basketball champions, may play with the local aggregation this winter.

Whip is in receipt of a letter from Haggerty who states that he would like to play with the Dukes during the 1948-49 season but he will be available for only Friday, Saturday and Sunday contests here.

Haggerty advised Whip that he was offered a contract with the Washington Capitols but turned it down because he was unable to devote his full time to the sport. He is now taking up post-graduate work at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.

Ken is 6 feet, 5 inches in height and was a member of Coach "Doggie" Julian's Crusaders that won both the eastern sectional title and NCAA championship in 1947 by defeating CCNY and the University of Oklahoma. Last season Holy Cross took third place in the NCAA tourney (won by Kentucky) by defeating Kansas State.

Haggerty's home is in Boston.

One of the leading candidates for the player-coach job with the Dukes is Louis "Red" Klotz, according to Whip. A resident of Atlantic City, N. J., Klotz played with the Baltimore Bullets last season and is highly recommended.

Klotz played three years of basketball at Villanova College and after serving several years in the army he starred with the Philadelphia SPHAS and then "Bud" Jeannette's Bullets.

The salary asked by Klotz is just a little more than that offered by the Dukes but Whip believes the difference can be ironed out satisfactorily.

Nearly eighty freshmen football candidates reported to Coach Leonard Barnum yesterday at West Virginia University.

The squad includes John Zacot of Keyser and Don Post, the Morgantown lad who appeared in several amateur boxing matches here when the Zan A. C. team visited Cumberland during the 1946-47 season.

Coach Barnum's gridders open a 7-game schedule on October 6.

They'll battle the University of Maryland Freshmen at Fort Hill Stadium in a night game Thursday, November 18.

Wonder what has become of Peter J. "Bunny" Buntag, the Braddock (Pa.) building materials' magnate, who was a frequent visitor here? You should know by now that "Bunny" is the manager of two good pro fighters—Lee Sala and Tommy Yarosz.

Albert "Bunny" ached all over following that upset in Chicago recently when Yarosz lost to Sylvester Johnson, practically unknown in boxing circles. Perkins entered the ring a 4-1 underdog.

Buntag, however, should be in Cumberland soon because he'll get enough train fare out of Sala's fight with Charley (Zivic) Affif in Pittsburgh tomorrow night to make the trip. He's fighting Lee, winner of 41 consecutive bouts, 31 by knockouts, on percentage and the Donora, Pa., slugger will pull down over $5,000 as his share.

• — • — •

Look's like Marshall Yeider and "Ossie" Raines, the ageless righthander, will have to shoulder the brunt of the pitching for Moorefield in its championship series with the Cumberland American Legion in the Interstate Baseball League.

Dwight Kessel, promising young righthander, who won six and lost two for the West Virginians during the regular season, blew a gasket in his right arm recently and appears to be lost for the series.

Speaking of the venerable Mr. Raines brings to mind the one we heard about "Ossie" recently.

"How old is that guy anyway?" a fan inquired.

"He must be quite old," was the reply, "because I heard he carried mortar for the Natural Bridge in Virginia."

Many Marylanders have gained fame in the major leagues. Chief among them are Babe Ruth, Franklin "Home Run" Baker, Robert "Lefty" Grove, Jimmie Foxx and Charley Keller.

The latest player from the Old Line State to attract attention is Ted Beard, the outfielder Pittsburgh obtained from Indianapolis.

Beard hails from Woodsboro in Frederick County and was "discovered" at a Buccaneer baseball school held in Frederick in 1942. "Poke" Whalen, former Blue Ridge League catcher, and now a scout for the Pirates signed Beard when the latter finished school.

Ted was with five different minor league clubs before he was graduated to the Corairs. He played his first organized ball at Hornell, N. Y., and then moved to Harrisburg, Pa. After three years of service with Uncle Sam, Indianapolis landed Beard and sent him to Albany and then to York.

In his major league debut he slammed a pair of triples and has been doing nicely during the drive that skyrocketed the Free Booters into second place.

Will somebody please tell Dick Boyle, the furniture dealer who stands behind every bed he sells, if Nick Maddox ever pitched for Cumberland.

Nicholas Maddox pitched for Pittsburgh from 1907 through 1910, and he appeared in the second game of the 1909 world series, defeating Detroit, 8-6. The Pirates won four out of seven games from the Tigers.

We understand Maddox once pitched around Westernport but that's all we know about the oldtimer.

Five Allegany County Schools Retain Berths

Thompson, Middleton, Chaney To Officiate

Five Allegany county high schools have retained berths in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League which will launch its 20-game schedule on Friday, September 24 with Beall playing at Central and Barton at Bruce, it was announced last night by Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of pupil personnel for the Allegany County Board of Education.

The fifth team in the circuit is Agricultural High School of Flintstone. Beall High of Frostburg is the defending champion.

Ramey stated that the inter-county tournament will get under way November 1 and must be concluded by November 20. Competition will be in Class A, B, C, and D as last year.

Ed Thompson, Ray Middleton and Oberlin Chaney have been appointed soccer referees for the 1948 season.

The state will also sponsor field ball and hockey tournaments for girls and these sports will be discussed when the principals and coaches of girls' meet here Saturday morning at the board of education building.

Plans for the soccer season were formulated at a meeting Saturday. Principals and coaches in attendance were: Mrs. Elsie Hill Roland and William Saylor, Flintstone; Arthur W. Taylor and Edward Finzel, Beall; Raymond McCullough and John Meyers, Central; Alfred H. Benna and Paul L. Footen, Barton; John W. Fisher and John E Grindle, Bruce.

Other schools present discussed basketball. Action on a schedule, however, was deferred until a meeting Wednesday, September 29, at the local office. Allegany was represented by Ralph R. Webster, principal, Walter L. Bowers and Eugene Hopkins while Fort Hill representatives were Victor D. Heisey, principal, John J. Cavanaugh and William P. Hahn.

The soccer schedule:

Friday, Sept. 24—Beall at Central, Thompson; Barton at Bruce, Middleton

Tuesday, Sept. 28—Central at Flintstone, Chaney; Barton at Beall, Middleton

Friday, Oct. 1—Central at Barton, Middleton; Bruce at Flintstone, Chaney

Tuesday, Oct. 5—Beall at Bruce, Thompson; Flintstone at Barton, Middleton

Tuesday, Oct. 12—Flintstone at Beall, Chaney; Bruce at Central, Middleton

Friday, Oct. 15—Central at Beall, Middleton; Bruce at Barton, Thompson

Tuesday, Oct. 19—Flintstone at Central, Middleton; Beall at Barton, Thompson

Friday, Oct. 22—Barton at Central, Middleton; Flintstone at Bruce, Chaney

Tuesday, Oct. 26—Bruce at Beall, Thompson; Barton at Flintstone, Chaney

Friday, Oct. 29—Beall at Flintstone, Chaney; Central at Bruce, Middleton.

DON BLACK INJURED—Don Black, Cleveland Indians' pitcher, is shown with his hand to his head after being injured in the second inning of yesterday's Cleveland-St. Louis game. A "lumbar puncture" later was performed on the player's spine and fluid drawn out. Last night his condition was reported as critical. Black twisted his neck in hitting a foul ball. Coach Bill McKechnie is shown with Black, while Umpire Bill Summers stands nearby. Player No. 10 is Les Moss of the Browns.

Indians' Hurler Is Hospitalized With Neck Injury

Don Black's Condition Is Reported Critical

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—Don Black, Cleveland Indians' pitcher of no-hit fame, was in critical condition tonight after suffering a hemorrhage apparently resulting from a neck twist in today's game with St. Louis.

Physicians said the hemorrhage was near the brain and described it as a sub-arachnoid type. They said it resulted when an aneurysm, an unnatural growth between a vein and an artery, broke.

Black apparently twisted his neck when he hit a foul in the second inning and fell at the plate in pain. He was helped from the field and later lost consciousness. He was still unconscious tonight.

Dr. Edward Castle, team physician, said no surgery was contemplated. Earlier, a spinal puncture was performed to aid in the diagnosis.

Black came with the Indians in 1946, but won only one game and was sent to Milwaukee. He returned to Cleveland the following year and disclosed that he had joined Alcoholics Anonymous. On July 10 of that year, he pitched his no-hitter here against the Philadelphia Athletics.

He won 10 games and lost 12 in 1947, but had only a 2-2 record for this year. He had been bothered by injuries and had played in only 17 games.

For the two innings he pitched in today's game, he had allowed only two hits.

Evans, Steelers' Back, Undergoes Operation

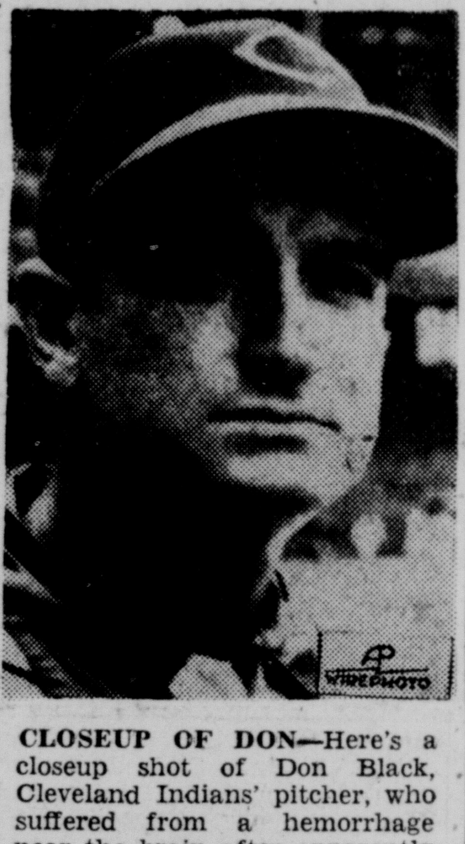
MCKEESPORT, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—Ray Evans, Pittsburgh Steeler halfback, today underwent an operation to reduce a fractured rib cartilage suffered in yesterday's football game with the Detroit Lions.

Dr. Ralph Daugherty, who performed the surgery, said the former University of Kansas star was "resting comfortably."

Mathias Is Honored

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (INS)—Bob Mathias, Olympic decathlon champion, was named the "Youth Of The Year" by the Sports Broadcasters Association at its fall meeting today.

Mathias, who hails from Tulare, Calif., is only 17. He is attending Kiski Prep in Western Pennsylvania.



CLOSEUP OF DON—Here's a closeup shot of Don Black, Cleveland Indians' pitcher, who suffered from a hemorrhage near the brain after apparently twisting his neck while swinging at a foul ball in a game at St. Louis yesterday.

First Flight Wins Belmont Feature

1946 Juvenile Champ Cops $22,650 Purse

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—C. V. Whitney's First Flight captured the 35th running of the $25,000-added Fall Highweight Handicap today as Belmont opened its fall season before 21,289 fans.

Ridden by Jockey Eddie Arcaro, First Flight charged past Mrs. Ellsworth Augustus' Big Story in the stretch, and finished the six furlongs down the Widener straightaway in 1:08 3-5, just 2-5 of a second off the track record. The winner paid $8.70, $5.50 and $4.30.

Big Story, an outsider in the betting in the bulky 17-horse field, was second, two lengths back and Greentree Stable's Blue Border was third another five lengths away. Blue Border took the show by a head over Dixiana's favored Spy Song.

First Flight, a four-year-old filly and the 1946 juvenile champion, earned $22,650.

V.F.W. Women Score Shuffleboard Victory

The women's shuffleboard team of Henry Hart Post, V.F.W., defeated the Loyal Order of Moose last night at the V.F.W. Home by the score of 96 to 83.

Mrs. Chloe Reynolds led the winners with 25 points while Mrs. Helen Pettie paced the Moose with 23 tallies.

Tom Brown Beats Aussie Net Star At Forest Hills

Defeats Colin Long In Straight Sets

By DAVIS J. WALSH

International News Service Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 13 (INS)—San Francisco's Tom Brown, Jr., officially given the sniff of disdain by the tournament committee, filed another urgent writ of demurrer in the national tennis championships today with a 6-2, 6-3, 6-4 sweep through Colin Long, Australia.

As a result, Brown went into the fourth round of the men's singles and the committee into a slight case of discomfiture, with dull, viscid flush beginning to mantle its raddled cheek.

Long consequently joined an extended queue of vanishing foreigners who have gone the way of all championship discards since the tournament started. But Australia's pudgy little gent — the perfect "stylish-stout"—didn't go alone.

Accompanying him within the hour was England's Joy Gannon, pert and pretty, who thus joined another English "looker," Betty Hilton, eliminated in the first round.

Miss Gannon's exit-line was the 6-3, 6-8, 6-3 defeat handed out by Nancy Chaffee, another of those puissant hander-outers from California.

Meantime, Louise Brough, the No. 1 of all Californians—and the world at large—was edifying a sparse stadium gallery with one of her better performances.

The national and Wimbledon champion had to be good, at that, to win from Mrs. Dorothy Bundy Cheney Santa Monica, in straight sets. But this she did by 6-4, 6-2—coming back off a 3-1 deficit in the first set.

The following incidents went into the official record:

Men's singles, third round—Gardnar Mulloy, Miami, defeated Sidney B. Wood, New York, 8-6, 6-4, 10-8; Bob Falkenburg, Wimbledon champion from Los Angeles, defeated fellow-townsman George Richards 6-4, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3; Billy Talbert, New York, defeated Eugene Garrett, Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Drobney, the Czech, defeated Bernard Bartzen, San Angelo, Tex., 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Felicisimo Ampon, Philippines, defeated Juan Weiss, Cuba, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Herb Flam, Los Angeles, defeated Enrique Morea, Argentina 6-3, 3-6, 6-1, 2-6, 6-0.

Vic Seixas, intercollegiate champion, defeated Sam Match, San Francisco, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4.

Cleveland's Flag Hopes Are Jolted By St. Louis Team

Pinch Hitter Schultz Breaks Up Game, 3 To 2

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—The sixth-place St. Louis Browns dealt a sharp blow to the Cleveland Indians' pennant hopes today by grabbing a 3-2 victory on pinchhitter Joe Schultz's ninth-inning single after two Tribe infield errors had helped to fill the bases.

The smallest crowd of the season, 7,008 fans, watched glumly as the Browns tied up the score at 2-2 in the eighth and went on to win, battering through four Indian hurlers in the final two frames.

Snaps Winning Streak

The defeat ended a Cleveland winning string of seven games and cost the home club a chance to gain on the idle Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees. The Tribe is now three games back of Boston and a game behind New York.

Pitcher Don Black, who kept the Brownies scoreless through the first two frames and gave up only two of their dozen hits, twisted his neck batting in the second inning. He fell to his knees at the plate and had to be helped from the field. Later at a hospital, team physician Edward Castle said the pitcher underwent a "lumbar puncture" of his spine and that his injury was "by no means superficial."

Thurman Tucker's double to right field, and Dick Kokos' wild throw to second on the play, enabled Tucker to bring in Cleveland's first run in the second inning when Walt Judnich lined to right field.

Second Baseman Joe Gordon increased the Tribe margin to 2-0 in the fourth when he hammered his 26th homer into the left field stands.

Double plays helped the Tribe over danger spots in the fifth and seventh innings. Then came the Browns' uprising in the eighth. A single by Bob Dillinger led off the inning, and after Al Zarilla flied out, Jerry Priddy doubled to left. Sam Zoldak then replaced Steve Gromek, the third Tribe hurler, and was slammed for a two-run single by Kokos.

Schultz Comes Through

In the ninth Paul Lehner started the fireworks by singling to right. Zoldak threw wild to first on Johnny Moss' sacrifice and the runners went to second and third. Lou Boudreau allowed Sam Dente to fill the bases by fumbling a grounder, then Schultz, batting for pitcher Karl Drews, shot the game-winning single to right.

The contest was a play-off of the nightcap of yesterday's doubleheader which was halted by darkness in the 12th inning with the score 3-3. Box:

MOTORCYCLIST SETS WORLD SPEED RECORD ON UTAH SALT FLATS

WENDOVER, Utah, Sept. 13 —(AP)—A stocky Hollywood service station operator rode a British-built machine at 150.855 miles per hour today to set a new world's motorcycle speed record.

Roland R. Free, 47, sent his two-cylinder cycle roaring along the same Bonneville Salt Flats course used a year ago by John Cobb of London to set a world's land speed record of 394.196 miles per hour.

The old record was 136.18 miles per hour, set by Joe Petrali at Daytona Beach, Fla., in 1937.

Monte Kennedy Tames Pirates, Giants Win, 5-2

Loss Drops Pittsburgh 3 1-2 Games Off Pace

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—The New York Giants dealt the pennant hopes of the second place Pittsburgh Pirates a jolt tonight as Lefty Monte Kennedy hurled the Giants to a 5-2 triumph over the Pirates. The loss dropped the Pirates three-and-one-half games behind the idle pace-setting Boston Braves.

By winning, the Giants moved into a fourth place tie with the idle St. Louis Cardinals. The loss ended a seven-game Pirate winning streak. Box:

O'Baker Hits Two Home Runs, Toler Fans Ten

Frank Toler and Charley O'Baker "stole the show" yesterday as Wellersburg defeated the Hyndman Firemen in the opening game of the County Softball League's playoff series by the score of 6 to 2 at Hyndman.

Toler let Hyndman down with five hits and struck out ten batsmen while O'Baker belted two home runs and a triple in four trips to the plate.

Sam Bittner and Bobby Miller of Hyndman gave up seven hits between them. Bittner fanned three and Miller two.

Ronald Schad and Jack Shaffer accounted for four of the five blows yielded by Toler.

The second game of the best-of-three-games series will be played Wednesday at 6 p. m. at Wellersburg.

Today at Pinto, the Narrows Park Cardinals and Potomac Valley Cubs will open their five-game series at 6 p. m.

Winners of the two series will clash for the championship. The score:

Manager Casey Thompson of Stoops' will pitch Dick Blank with Bob Tippen on the receiving end while Manager Ben Hughes will start either Jack Wilhelm or "Stony" Jackson on the rubber with Glenn Hughes behind the plate.

Diving Catch By Al Martin Ends Thriller

Sheetz Defeats Decker On Geatz's Hit, 2 To 1

Manager Frank Riehl's Cumberland Amvets drew first blood in the playoffs for the City Softball League championship by defeating Lacy's Delicatessen in a 2-1 thriller yesterday at Community Park.

Al Martin was the hero of the hectic battle when he made a sensational diving catch of "Bee" Orndorff's liner into left field in the last of the 7th with two out and two Delicatets on the paths. Had the ball gotten away from Martin two runs would have trickled over the platter and turned victory into defeat for the Amvets.

The Delicatets protested the catch, claiming Martin "trapped" the ball but Umpire George Rice ruled the catch legal and that was final.

Sheetz Beats Decker

Ed Decker and Allan Sheetz hooked up in a mound battle for the sixth time this season and the latter was returned the victor, notching his 29th triumph of the season. Al let the first half champions down with three hits — all singles — and struck out eight.

The Amvets scored first in the fourth inning. Martin singled and when Sheetz bunted Al raced to third base when the bag was not covered. Then Martin galloped home when "Pooch" Orndorff threw to third base.

Lacy's tied the score at 1-1 in the 5th when Hardy singled, advanced to third on a two-base error by Martin and came home on Lapp's single.

An infield single by Tommy Geatz with the bases full produced the Amvets' winning marker in the top of the 7th. Doyle George and Summers singled and Gerdeman's bunt advanced both runners. Lou Riehl was purposely passed, filling the bases, and Geatz's hit decided the issue.

Geatz with a double and single and Summers and Martin with two singles each accounted for six of the winners' nine hits.

A special collection taken up at the game for George Geatz, Amvets' player, who is hospitalized with pneumonia, netted $32.

Clash Again Friday

Charles Is Winner Over Jimmy Bivins

Ezzard Cops Decision In 10-Round Contest

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Ezzard Charles, who hopes to step into Joe Louis' job as heavyweight champion, took a long stride in that direction tonight by winning a well fought 10-round decision over Jimmy Bivins.

But there would have been boos no matter which way it went, for, although there was a lot of fancy boxing and some hard hitting, neither of the Ohio negro boys managed to score a knockdown.

The Associated Press score card gave six rounds to Charles, two to Bivins and two even but in none of these rounds was there any great margin of victory.

Appropriately, the best was saved for the last. The tenth round was a dilly. Charles, named by Louis as a possible successor to the title he is vacating, came out aiming for a knockout.

He cut loose with everything he had, which is plenty. But Bivins, hammered by potential haymakers from both the left and the right, managed to sneak in close for some damaging blows of his own.

It was a wild round, with a potential knockout riding on every punch.

In the long run, it was Charles' left that did it.

Referee Ray Bowen gave Charles six rounds, Bivins three and scored one even.

Judge Kilmartin scored five for Charles, three for Bivins and two even.

Judge Trigg gave Charles six, Bivins two and figured two even.

The fight drew 11,631 spectators, with the gross gate receipts $48,560, for a net of $37,162.

Dan Staley Will Lead Football Discussion

Dan Staley will lead the discussion at the regular meeting of the Western Maryland and Eastern West Virginia Football Officials' Association tonight at 8 o'clock at the Maryland Employment Service office, Union Street.

The chief topic will be "Highlights of Games Played During the Past Weekend."

John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh will preside.

Dukes May Get Crusader

Sala To Receive $5,000

Kessel's Arm Goes Lame

Ted Beard Is Marylander

By C. V. BURNS

Bob Whip, Cumberland's professional basketball magnate, who is now rounding up talent for the Dukes of the All-American Professional Basketball League, informs us that Ken Haggerty, one of the stars of Holy Cross College's NCAA basketball champions, may play with the local aggregation this winter.

Whip is in receipt of a letter from Haggerty who states that he would like to play with the Dukes during the 1948-49 season but he will be available for only Friday, Saturday and Sunday contests here.

Haggerty advised Whip that he was offered a contract with the Washington Capitols but turned it down because he was unable to devote his full time to the sport. He is now taking up post-graduate work at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.

Ken is 6 feet, 5 inches in height and was a member of Coach "Doggie" Julian's Crusaders that won both the eastern sectional title and NCAA championship in 1947 by defeating CCNY and the University of Oklahoma. Last season Holy Cross took third place in the NCAA tourney (won by Kentucky) by defeating Kansas State.

Haggerty's home is in Boston.

One of the leading candidates for the player-coach job with the Dukes is Louis "Red" Klotz, according to Whip. A resident of Atlantic City, N. J., Klotz played with the Baltimore Bullets last season and is highly recommended.

Klotz played three years of basketball at Villanova College and after serving several years in the army he starred with the Philadelphia SPHAS and then "Bud" Jeannette's Bullets.

The salary asked by Klotz is just a little more than that offered by the Dukes but Whip believes the difference can be ironed out satisfactorily.

Nearly eighty freshmen football candidates reported to Coach Leonard Barnum yesterday at West Virginia University.

The squad includes John Zacot of Keyser and Don Post, the Morgantown lad who appeared in several amateur boxing matches here when the Zan A. C. team visited Cumberland during the 1946-47 season.

Coach Barnum's gridders open a 7-game schedule on October 6.

They'll battle the University of Maryland Freshmen at Fort Hill Stadium in a night game Thursday, November 18.

Wonder what has become of Peter J. "Bunny" Buntag, the Braddock (Pa.) building materials' magnate, who was a frequent visitor here? You should know by now that "Bunny" is the manager of two good pro fighters—Lee Sala and Tommy Yarosz.

Albert "Bunny" ached all over following that upset in Chicago recently when Yarosz lost to Sylvester Johnson, practically unknown in boxing circles. Perkins entered the ring a 4-1 underdog.

Buntag, however, should be in Cumberland soon because he'll get enough train fare out of Sala's fight with Charley (Zivic) Affif in Pittsburgh tomorrow night to make the trip. He's fighting Lee, winner of 41 consecutive bouts, 31 by knockouts, on percentage and the Donora, Pa., slugger will pull down over $5,000 as his share.

Look's like Marshall Yeider and "Ossie" Raines, the ageless righthander, will have to shoulder the brunt of the pitching for Moorefield in its championship series with the Cumberland American Legion in the Interstate Baseball League.

Dwight Kessel, promising young righthander, who won six and lost two for the West Virginians during the regular season, blew a gasket in his right arm recently and appears to be lost for the series.

Speaking of the venerable Mr. Raines brings to mind the one we heard about "Ossie" recently.

"How old is that guy anyway?" a fan inquired.

"He must be quite old," was the reply, "because I heard he carried mortar for the Natural Bridge in Virginia."

Many Marylanders have gained fame in the major leagues. Chief among them are Babe Ruth, Franklin "Home Run" Baker, Robert "Lefty" Grove, Jimmie Foxx and Charley Keller.

The latest player from the Old Line State to attract attention is Ted Beard, the outfielder Pittsburgh obtained from Indianapolis.

Beard hails from Woodsboro in Frederick County and was "discovered" at a Buccaneer baseball school held in Frederick in 1942. "Poke" Whalen, former Blue Ridge League catcher, and now a scout for the Pirates signed Beard when the latter finished school.

Ted was with five different minor league clubs before he was graduated to the Corairs. He played his first organized ball at Hornell, N. Y., and then moved to Harrisburg, Pa. After three years of service with Uncle Sam, Indianapolis landed Beard and sent him to Albany and then to York.

In his major league debut he slammed a pair of triples and has been doing nicely during the drive that skyrocketed the Free Booters into second place.

Will somebody please tell Dick Boyle, the furniture dealer who stands behind every bed he sells, if Nick Maddox ever pitched for Cumberland.

Nicholas Maddox pitched for Pittsburgh from 1907 through 1910, and he appeared in the second game of the 1909 world series, defeating Detroit, 8-6. The Pirates won four out of seven games from the Tigers.

We understand Maddox once pitched around Westernport but that's all we know about the oldtimer.

Five Allegany County Schools Retain Berths

Thompson, Middleton, Chaney To Officiate

Five Allegany county high schools have retained berths in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League which will launch its 20-game schedule on Friday, September 24 with Beall playing at Central and Barton at Bruce, it was announced last night by Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of pupil personnel for the Allegany County Board of Education.

The fifth team in the circuit is Agricultural High School of Flintstone. Beall High of Frostburg is the defending champion.

Ramey stated that the inter-county tournament will get under way November 1 and must be concluded by November 20. Competition will be in Class A, B, C, and D as last year.

Ed Thompson, Ray Middleton and Oberlin Chaney have been appointed soccer referees for the 1948 season.

The state will also sponsor field ball and hockey tournaments for girls and these sports will be discussed when the principals and coaches of girls' meet here Saturday morning at the board of education building.

Plans for the soccer season were formulated at a meeting Saturday. Principals and coaches in attendance were: Mrs. Elsie Hill Roland and William Saylor, Flintstone; Arthur W. Taylor and Edward Finzel, Beall; Raymond McCullough and John Meyers, Central; Alfred H. Benna and Paul L. Footen, Barton; John W. Fisher and John E Grindle, Bruce.

Other schools present discussed basketball. Action on a schedule, however, was deferred until a meeting Wednesday, September 29, at the local office. Allegany was represented by Ralph R. Webster, principal, Walter L. Bowers and Eugene Hopkins while Fort Hill representatives were Victor D. Heisey, principal, John J. Cavanaugh and William P. Hahn.

The soccer schedule:

Friday, Sept. 24—Beall at Central, Thompson; Barton at Bruce, Middleton
Tuesday, Sept. 28—Central at Flintstone, Chaney; Barton at Beall, Middleton
Friday, Oct. 1—Central at Barton, Middleton; Bruce at Flintstone, Chaney
Tuesday, Oct. 5—Beall at Bruce, Thompson; Flintstone at Barton, Middleton
Tuesday, Oct. 12—Flintstone at Beall, Chaney; Bruce at Central, Middleton
Friday, Oct. 15—Central at Beall, Middleton; Bruce at Barton, Thompson
Tuesday, Oct. 19—Flintstone at Central, Middleton; Beall at Barton, Thompson
Friday, Oct. 22—Barton at Central, Middleton; Flintstone at Bruce, Chaney
Tuesday, Oct. 26—Bruce at Beall, Thompson; Barton at Flintstone, Chaney
Friday, Oct. 29—Beall at Flintstone, Chaney; Central at Bruce, Middleton.

Mrs. Hodges Advances To CCC Semi-Finals

Mrs. W. Royce Hodges, Jr., advanced to the semi-finals in the championship flight of the women's fall golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club by defeating Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie yesterday, 3 and 2.

In a second round match Mrs. Richard Trevaskis, won over Mrs. Robert Lacy, 6 and 5.

Three matches were played in the men's fall tournament with the following results:

Sixth Flight—George Hankins defeated J. Truke, 2 and 1, and Cy Bowers won from M. Kelly, 6 and 5. Fourth Flight—R. Leonard defeated Charles Zembower, 1 up on the 21st hole.

Pairings for the consolation round of the women's tourney are:

First Flight—Miss Louise Glick drew bye; Mrs. F. W. Eiler vs. Mrs. Elizabeth Dixon. Second Flight—Miss Helen Stitzler vs. opponent to be named; Mrs. H. Eliason vs. Mrs. Josephine Mackey.

Mesdames Richard Sitzler, John B. Waugh, H. Givens and W. F. McFarland drew byes in the third flight.

Grace Methodist Wins, Reaches Playoff Finals

Grace Methodist advanced to the finals in the South Cumberland Church Softball League playoffs by defeating United Brethren yesterday by the score of 7-3.

Jim Wright limited the U. B. batsmen to six well spaced hits. Bob Doman of Grace and V. Wharton of U. B. led the hitters with two blows each. The score:

GRACE	000 034 0—7	10	3
U. B.	001 002 0—3	6	1

J. Wright and F. Henry. G. Smith, K. Turner (5) and V. Green.

Kegg Is Toastmaster

J. Suter Kegg, sports editor of the Evening and Sunday Times, will be the toastmaster at the banquet of the Tri-State Umpires' Association on Friday at 8 p. m. at the Bowman's Addition Fire Company's hall.

DON BLACK INJURED—Don Black, Cleveland Indians' pitcher, is shown with his hand to his head after being injured in the second inning of yesterday's Cleveland-St. Louis game. A "lumbar puncture" later was performed on the player's spine and fluid drawn out. Last night his condition was reported as critical. Black twisted his neck in hitting a foul ball. Coach Bill McKechnie is shown with Black, while Umpire Bill Summers stands nearby. Player No. 10 is Les Moss of the Browns.

Indians' Hurler Is Hospitalized With Neck Injury

Don Black's Condition Is Reported Critical

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—Don Black, Cleveland Indians' pitcher of no-hit fame, was in critical condition tonight after suffering a hemorrhage apparently resulting from a neck twist in today's game with St. Louis.

Physicians said the hemorrhage was near the brain and described it as a sub-arachnoid type. They said it resulted when an aneurysm, an unnatural growth between a vein and an artery, broke.

Black apparently twisted his neck when he hit a foul in the second inning and fell at the plate in pain. He was helped from the field and later lost consciousness. He was still unconscious tonight.

Dr. Edward Castle, team physician, said no surgery was contemplated. Earlier, a spinal puncture was performed to aid in the diagnosis.

Black came with the Indians in 1946, but won only one game and was sent to Milwaukee. He returned to Cleveland the following year and disclosed that he had joined Alcoholics Anonymous. On July 10 of that year, he pitched his no-hitter here against the Philadelphia Athletics.

He won 10 games and lost 12 in 1947, but had only a 2-2 record for this year. He had been bothered by injuries and had played in only 17 games.

For the two innings he pitched in today's game, he had allowed only two hits.

Evans, Steelers' Back, Undergoes Operation

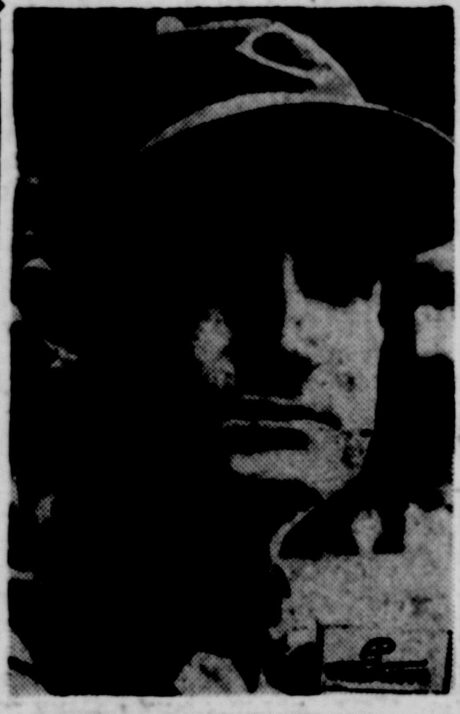
MCKEESPORT, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—Ray Evans, Pittsburgh Steeler halfback, today underwent an operation to reduce a fractured rib cartilage suffered in yesterday's football game with the Detroit Lions.

Dr. Ralph Daugherty, who performed the surgery, said the former University of Kansas star was "resting comfortably."

Mathias Is Honored

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (INS)—Bob Mathias, Olympic decathlon champion, was named the "Youth Of The Year" by the Sports Broadcasters Association at its fall meeting today.

Mathias, who hails from Tulare, Calif., is only 17. He is attending Kiski Prep in Western Pennsylvania.



CLOSEUP OF DON—Here's a closeup shot of Don Black, Cleveland Indians' pitcher, who suffered from a hemorrhage near the brain after apparently twisting his neck while swinging at a foul ball in a game at St. Louis yesterday.

First Flight Wins Belmont Feature

1946 Juvenile Champ Cops $22,650 Purse

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—C. V. Whitney's First Flight captured the 35th running of the $25,000-added Fall Highweight Handicap today as Belmont opened its fall season before 21,289 fans.

Ridden by Jockey Eddie Arcaro, First Flight charged past Mrs. Ellsworth Augustus' Big Story in the stretch, and finished the six furlongs down the Widener straightaway in 1:08 3-5, just 2-5 of a second off the track record. The winner paid $8.70, $5.50 and $4.30.

Big Story, an outsider in the betting in the bulky 17-horse field, was second, two lengths back and Greentree Stable's Blue Border was third another five lengths away. Blue Border took the show by a head over Dixiana's favored Spy Song.

First Flight, a four-year-old filly and the 1946 juvenile champion, earned $22,650.

V.F.W. Women Score Shuffleboard Victory

The women's shuffleboard team of Henry Hart Post, V.F.W., defeated the Loyal Order of Moose last night at the V.F.W. Home by the score of 96 to 83.

Mrs. Chloe Reynolds led the winners with 25 points while Mrs. Helen Pettie paced the Moose with 23 tallies.

Tom Brown Beats Aussie Net Star At Forest Hills

Defeats Colin Long In Straight Sets

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 13 (INS)—San Francisco's Tom Brown, Jr., officially given the sniff of disdain by the tournament committee, filed another urgent writ of demurrer in the national tennis championships today with a 6-2, 6-3, 6-4 sweep through Colin Long, Australia.

As a result, Brown went into the fourth round of the men's singles and the committee into a slight case of discomfiture, with dull, viscid flush beginning to mantle its raddled cheek.

Long consequently joined an extended queue of vanishing foreigners who have gone the way of all championship discards since the tournament started. But Australia's pudgy little gent — the perfect "stylish-stout"—didn't go alone.

Accompanying him within the hour was England's Joy Gannon, pert and pretty, who thus joined another English "looker," Betty Hilton, eliminated in the first round.

Miss Gannon's exit-line was the 6-3, 6-8, 6-3 defeat handed out by Nancy Chaffee, another of those puissant hander-outers from California.

Meantime, Louise Brough, the No. 1 of all Californians—and the world at large—was edifying a sparse stadium gallery with one of her better performances.

The national and Wimbledon champion had to be good, at that, to win from Mrs. Dorothy Bundy Cheney Santa Monica, in straight sets. But this she did by 6-4, 6-2—coming back off a 3-1 deficit in the first set.

The following incidents went into the official record:

Men's singles, third round—Gardnar Mulloy, Miami, defeated Sidney B. Wood, New York, 8-6, 6-4, 10-8; Bob Falkenburg, Wimbledon champion from Los Angeles, defeated fellow-townsman George Richards 6-4, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3; Billy Talbert, New York, defeated Eugene Garrett, Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Drobney, the Czech, defeated Bernard Bartzen, San Angelo, Tex., 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Felicisimo Ampon, Philippines, defeated Juan Weiss, Cuba, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Herb Flam, Los Angeles, defeated Enrique Morea, Argentina 6-3, 3-6, 6-1, 2-6, 6-0.

Vic Seixas, intercollegiate champion, defeated Sam Match, San Francisco, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4.

Cleveland's Flag Hopes Are Jolted By St. Louis Team

Pinch Hitter Schultz Breaks Up Game, 3 To 2

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—The sixth-place St. Louis Browns dealt a sharp blow to the Cleveland Indians' pennant hopes today by grabbing a 3-2 victory on pinchhitter Joe Schultz's ninth-inning single after two Tribe infield errors had helped to fill the bases.

The smallest crowd of the season, 7,008 fans, watched glumly as the Browns tied up the score at 2-2 in the eighth and went on to win, battering through four Indian hurlers in the final two frames.

Snaps Winning Streak

The defeat ended a Cleveland winning string of seven games and cost the home club a chance to gain on the idle Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees. The Tribe is now three games back of Boston and a game behind New York.

Pitcher Don Black, who kept the Brownies scoreless through the first two frames and gave up only two of their dozen hits, twisted his neck batting in the second inning. He fell to his knees at the plate and had to be helped from the field. Later at a hospital, team physician Edward Castle said the pitcher underwent a "lumbar puncture" of his spine and that his injury was "by no means superficial."

Thurman Tucker's double to right field, and Dick Kokos' wild throw to second on the play, enabled Tucker to bring in Cleveland's first run in the second inning when Walt Judnich lined to right field.

Second Baseman Joe Gordon increased the Tribe margin to 2-0 in the fourth when he hammered his 26th homer into the left field stands.

Double plays helped the Tribe over danger spots in the fifth and seventh innings. Then came the Browns' uprising in the eighth. A single by Bob Dillinger led off the inning, and after Al Zarilla flied out, Jerry Priddy doubled to left. Sam Zoldak then replaced Steve Gromek, the third Tribe hurler, and was slammed for a two-run single by Kokos.

Schultz Comes Through

In the ninth Paul Lehner started the fireworks by singling to right. Zoldak threw wild to first on Johnny Moss' sacrifice and the runners went to second and third. Lou Boudreau allowed Sam Dente to fill the bases by fumbling a grounder, then Schultz, batting for pitcher Karl Drews, shot the game-winning single to right.

The contest was a play-off of the nightcap of yesterday's doubleheader which was halted by darkness in the 12th inning with the score 3-3. Box:

MOTORCYCLIST SETS WORLD SPEED RECORD ON UTAH SALT FLATS

WENDOVER, Utah, Sept. 13 —(AP)—A stocky Hollywood service station operator rode a British-built machine at 150.855 miles per hour today to set a new world's motorcycle speed record.

Roland R. Free, 47, sent his two-cylinder cycle roaring along the same Bonneville Salt Flats course used a year ago by John Cobb of London to set a world's land speed record of 394.196 miles per hour.

The old record was 136.18 miles per hour, set by Joe Petrali at Daytona Beach, Fla., in 1937.

Monte Kennedy Tames Pirates, Giants Win, 5-2

Loss Drops Pittsburgh 3 1-2 Games Off Pace

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—The New York Giants dealt the pennant hopes of the second place Pittsburgh Pirates a jolt tonight as Lefty Monte Kennedy hurled the Giants to a 5-2 triumph over the Pirates. The loss dropped the Pirates three-and-one-half games behind the idle pace-setting Boston Braves.

By winning, the Giants moved into a fourth place tie with the idle St. Louis Cardinals. The loss ended a seven-game Pirate winning streak. Box:

O'Baker Hits Two Home Runs, Toler Fans Ten

Frank Toler and Charley O'Baker "stole the show" yesterday as Wellersburg defeated the Hyndman Firemen in the opening game of the County Softball League's playoff series by the score of 6 to 2 at Hyndman.

Toler let Hyndman down with five hits and struck out ten batsmen while O'Baker belted two home runs and a triple in four trips to the plate.

Sam Bittner and Bobby Miller of Hyndman gave up seven hits between them. Bittner fanned three and Miller two.

Ronald Schad and Jack Shaffer accounted for four of the five blows yielded by Toler.

The second game of the best-of-three-games series will be played Wednesday at 6 p. m. at Wellersburg.

Today at Pinto, the Narrows Park Cardinals and Potomac Valley Cubs will open their five-game series at 6 p. m.

Winners of the two series will clash for the championship. The score:

Manager Casey Thompson of Stoops' will pitch Dick Blank with Bob Tippen on the receiving end while Manager Ben Hughes will start either Jack Wilhelm or "Stony" Jackson on the rubber with Glenn Hughes behind the plate.

Diving Catch By Al Martin Ends Thriller

Sheetz Defeats Decker On Geatz's Hit, 2 To 1

Manager Frank Riehl's Cumberland Amvets drew first blood in the playoffs for the City Softball League championship by defeating Lacy's Delicatets in a 2-1 thriller yesterday at Community Park.

Al Martin was the hero of the hectic battle when he made a sensational diving catch of "Bee" Orndorff's liner into left field in the last of the 7th with two out and two Delicatets on the paths. Had the ball gotten away from Martin two runs would have trickled over the platter and turned victory into defeat for the Amvets.

The Delicatets protested the catch, claiming Martin "trapped" the ball but Umpire George Rice ruled the catch legal and that was final.

Sheetz Beats Decker

Ed Decker and Allan Sheetz hooked up in a mound battle for the sixth time this season and the latter was returned the victor, notching his 29th triumph of the season. Al let the first half champions down with three hits — all singles — and struck out eight.

The Amvets scored first in the fourth inning. Martin singled and when Sheetz bunted Al raced to third base when the bag was not covered. Then Martin galloped home when "Pooch" Orndorff threw to third base.

Lacy's tied the score at 1-1 in the 5th when Hardy singled, advanced to third on a two-base error by Martin and came home on Lapp's single.

An infield single by Tommy Geatz with the bases full produced the Amvets' winning marker in the top of the 7th. Doyle George and Summers singled and Gerdeman's bunt advanced both runners. Lou Riehl was purposely passed, filling the bases, and Geatz's hit decided the issue.

Geatz with a double and single and Summers and Martin with two singles each accounted for six of the winners' nine hits.

A special collection taken up at the game for George Geatz, Amvets' player, who is hospitalized with pneumonia, netted $32.

Clash Again Friday

The second game of the Amvets-Lacy's series is scheduled for Friday at 6 p. m. at Community Park. Box score:

Charles Is Winner Over Jimmy Bivins

Ezzard Cops Decision In 10-Round Contest

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Ezzard Charles, who hopes to step into Joe Louis' job as heavyweight champion, took a long stride in that direction tonight by winning a well fought 10-round decision over Jimmy Bivins.

But there would have been boos no matter which way it went, for, although there was a lot of fancy boxing and some hard hitting, neither of the Ohio negro boys managed to score a knockdown.

The Associated Press score card gave six rounds to Charles, two to Bivins and two even but in none of these rounds was there any great margin of victory.

Appropriately, the best was saved for the last. The tenth round was a dilly. Charles, named by Louis as a possible successor to the title he is vacating, came out aiming for a knockout.

He cut loose with everything he had, which is plenty. But Bivins, hammered by potential haymakers from both the left and the right, managed to sneak in close for some damaging blows of his own.

It was a wild round, with a potential knockout riding on every punch.

In the long run, it was Charles' left that did it.

Referee Ray Bowen gave Charles six rounds, Bivins three and scored one even.

Judge Kilmartin scored five for Charles, three for Bivins and two even.

Judge Trigg gave Charles six, Bivins two and figured two even.

The fight drew 11,631 spectators, with the gross gate receipts $48,560, for a net of $37,162.

Dan Staley Will Lead Football Discussion

Dan Staley will lead the discussion at the regular meeting of the Western Maryland and Eastern West Virginia Football Officials' Association tonight at 8 o'clock at the Maryland Employment Service office, Union Street.

The chief topic will be "Highlights of Games Played During the Past Weekend."

John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh will preside.

FROSTBURG — NEWS FROM THE TRI-STATE AREA — KEYSER

Frostburg Group Plans Leadership Training School

Rev. Watson Holley To Serve As Dean

FROSTBURG—An interdenominational "leadership training school" will be held at First Methodist Church October 27-29 and November 3-5, according to plans made yesterday at a meeting of the Frostburg Ministerial Association at the Methodist parsonage.

Rev. Watson E. Holley, president, presided.

Dean of the training school will be Rev. Holley, who is pastor of the host church. Rev. John Cameron Taylor, pastor of First Presbyterian Church and secretary-treasurer of the Ministerial Association, will assist in the arrangements.

The staff of teachers will include Dr. W. W. Delaplain of Baltimore.

Arrangements were also made at the meeting for the annual union Thanksgiving Day service, to be held at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church on November 25 at 10:30 a. m.

Rev. Harold R. Stoudt, newly installed pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will deliver the sermon at that time. Rev. George L. Wehler, pastor of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, will conduct the service.

The offering received at the service will be used for purchasing equipment for Miners Hospital, according to the annual custom.

By unanimous vote, the association decided to co-operate with the Cumberland Ministerial Association in forming a countywide organization of ministers to give Protestantism in Allegany County a united voice.

Next meeting of the Frostburg association will be held Monday, October 4, at 10 a. m. in the Lutheran parsonage.

ATOMIC FILM TO BE SHOWN IN FROSTBURG

FROSTBURG — "God of the Atom," a full-color scientific film depicting the atomic bomb problem, will be shown today at 8 p. m. in First English Baptist Church, East Main Street, according to Rev. Donald A. Vosseler, pastor.

In the 45-minute movie, recently produced by Dr. Irwin A. Moon in Lost Angeles laboratories of Moody Institute of Science, scientific apparatus and diagrams are used to demonstrate the theory of atomic power. Then actual on-the-spot film records of the Nagasaki and Bikini blast show the atomic bomb in action.

"God of the Atom" is being shown by a special Moody film representative, K. C. Carman.

An exclusive feature of the film is a sequence portraying the giant 184-inch cyclotron at the University of California. Concrete walls have now been built around the interior of the cyclotron, which has become dangerously radioactive.

Helping Dr. Moon in the narration of the film will be Larry Johnston, young physicist who aided in atomic development at Los Alamos and photographed all three wartime bombs as they exploded.

"God of the Atom" is second in a series of religious-scientific movies produced by the Moody Institute of Science, a branch of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

Postman's Holiday

ROMNEY—Sgt. H. R. Shields, supervisor of Romney barracks, West Virginia State Police had a "postman's holiday" Sunday to mark his 20th wedding anniversary.

He was summoned Sunday afternoon to investigate a two-car collision in Romney in which three persons were slightly injured.

Sgt. Shields said a 1948 sedan driven by Anthony McDevitt, Birmingham, Ala., ran through a stop sign in Romney to collide with a Cumberland bound car driven by Thomas F. Stouffer, Broadway, Va. Occupants of the Stouffer car were treated by a Romney physician, and McDevitt forfeited $15 bond yesterday on a charge of failing to stop for a stop sign.

Sgt. Shields, who has been in charge of the Romney barracks since August, 1947, was married to Miss Noval Hazel Marshall, Beckley, W. Va., in that city in 1928. They have one daughter, Miss Jo Anne Shields, 19. "This is a terrible way to celebrate my 20th wedding anniversary," he ruefully remarked following the accident.

Bids Will Be Received For Wippel Property

Buyer Must Remove Front Of Building

KEYSER, W. Va.—Sealed bids for the right to purchase 50 feet of land on Mineral Street, and the building thereon, known as the Wippel property, extending back 103 feet to Cherry Alley, will be received by the West Virginia State Roads Commission until 10 a. m. September 24, it was announced Monday by Harry R. Taylor, district right of way agent for the State Roads Commission.

Taylor indicated that the purchaser of the land and property will be required to remove the front portion of the building which is located on the site of the proposed Keyser-McCoole overhead bridge.

The Wippel building, now occupied by D-D Cleaners, is only one of the row of properties along North Mineral Street to be affected by the construction of the bridge.

However, Taylor said that agreements have either been reached or are in the process of negotiations with all other property owners, both on North Mineral Street and Heskett Street, north of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks.

The Wippel property was bought outright by the State Roads Commission and is now being offered for sale, the agent said.

State Roads officials indicated yesterday that "it will not bt long" before bids on the construction of the bridge, which is estimated to cost nera $1,000,000, will be asked. Preliminary work, such as surveys, drainings and the like, has all been completed, Taylor said, adding that steel for the pilings under the bridge arrived here sometime ago and that work in sinking the pilings can get underway immediately after the contract is let.

Lonaconing Man Arrives In Scotland Two Days Before Death Of Mother

LONACONING — It was a long trip to a sad end when Robert Spiers arrived at Blantyre, Scotland, August 19, after an absence of 25 years.

Two days after the Lonaconing Celanese employe arrived to spend a holiday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Spiers, 152 Glasgow Road, his mother died August 22.

She had been ill for a short time.

A Scotland newspaper had this to say about Mrs. Speirs:

"Mrs. Spiers was a native of Hamilton but came to Blantyre early in life. In view of her long connection with the town she was known to many, and her friendly and unassuming manner earned her the respect of everyone with whom she became acquainted. Her death, at the age of 77, is one which removed from our midst a respected and loveable citizen."

Mrs. Spiers was a member and one-time treasurer of the Central Cooperative Women's Guild. She also belonged to the Order of the Eastern Star, Priority Chapter; Shrine No. 13, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, and the Burleigh Memorial Church.

She is survived by her husband, three sons, David, James and Robert, and three daughters, Agnes, Jean and Cecelia.

A funeral service was held August 24 at the home with Rev. James G. Ritchie, M. A., pastor of Burleigh Memorial Church, officiating. Burial was in High Blantyre Cemetery.

Kalbaugh Memorial Dedicated Sunday Night

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—The new stage erected in the recreation hall of Trinity Methodist Church on Jones Street with funds provided by the late Mrs. Katherine Kalbaugh, Ashfield Street, in memory of her late husband, Dr. Z. T. Kalbaugh, was dedicated Sunday night.

The presentation address was delivered by Arthur Arnold who briefly reviewed the life of Dr. Kalbaugh. The memorial stage was accepted by Vernon L. Frye, chairman of the board of trustees of the church.

The gift was dedicated by Rev. Raymond L. Moore, pastor.

Romney Man Jailed On Hit-Run Charge

ROMNEY — Roy William Dean, Romney, was committed to Hampshire County jail for 10 days yesterday in default of a $25 fine imposed by Magistrate A. L. Russell yesterday morning on a hit and run charge.

West Virginia State Police said Dean struck and slightly damaged a car owned by G. P. Timbrook, Kirby, W. Va., as it was parked at a filling station one mile east of Romney Saturday night. He was apprehended by state troopers shortly after the accident.

225 Freshmen Given College Placement Tests

KEYSER, W. Va.—An estimated 225 freshmen reported for English placement tests at Potomac State School yesterday morning, according to college officials, who indicated that the enrollment will be as large as that of last year.

Psychological examinations will be given this morning under the direction of John O. Maiden, head of the psychology department. Registration of freshmen whose last names begin with A to G inclusive, will be held this afternoon beginning at 1:30. Freshmen whose last names begin with H to Z will register tomorrow at 8 a. m.

A mix for all students will be held tonight in the gymnasium under the direction of Mrs. Madge Nuce, head of the girl's physical education department. She will be assisted by Mr. Nuzum.

A capacity crowd of freshmen students and their parents attended the convocation held in the auditorium of the administration building at the school Sunday afternoon. The meeting opened with an invocation by Rev. H. S. Myerly, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, followed by an address of welcome by Dean K. S. McKee.

Leonard G. Withers, head of the music department, led the group in singing, accompanied at the piano by Miss Frances Sarullo, new member of the music department.

The group was addressed by Dr. E. E. Church, president of the school, who used as his topic "A Report From the Minority." Dr. Church pointed out to the students that they are the minority, inasmuch as it is a minority of people who choose to attend college.

Vesper services were held later in the dining room of Davis Hall under the direction of Paul Iverson, member of the faculty. Group singing was again led by Mrs. Withers with Mrs. E. E. Church as accompanist. She also accompanied Miss Sarullo in singing, "But the Lord Is Mindful of His Own." Rev. John C. B. McLaughlin, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, was speaker.

Members of the student council and representatives of other campus organizations were on hand Sunday to greet the incoming students and to assist the faculty.

The 1948-49 school term of the college officialy opened Saturday afternoon when members of the faculty and Dr. Church held a meeting.

Frostburg Group Plans Leadership Training School

Rev. Watson Holley To Serve As Dean

FROSTBURG—An interdenominational "leadership training school" will be held at First Methodist Church October 27-29 and November 3-5, according to plans made yesterday at a meeting of the Frostburg Ministerial Association at the Methodist parsonage.

Rev. Watson E. Holley, president, presided.

Dean of the training school will be Rev. Holley, who is pastor of the host church. Rev. John Cameron Taylor, pastor of First Presbyterian Church and secretary-treasurer of the Ministerial Association, will assist in the arrangements.

The staff of teachers will include Dr. W. W. Delaplain of Baltimore.

Arrangements were also made at the meeting for the annual union Thanksgiving Day service, to be held at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church on November 25 at 10:30 a. m.

Rev. Harold R. Stoudt, newly installed pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will deliver the sermon at that time. Rev. George L. Wehler, pastor of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, will conduct the service.

The offering received at the service will be used for purchasing equipment for Miners Hospital, according to the annual custom.

By unanimous vote, the association decided to co-operate with the Cumberland Ministerial Association in forming a countywide organization of ministers to give Protestantism in Allegany County a united voice.

Next meeting of the Frostburg association will be held Monday, October 4, at 10 a. m. in the Lutheran parsonage.

ATOMIC FILM TO BE SHOWN IN FROSTBURG

FROSTBURG — "God of the Atom," a full-color scientific film depicting the atomic bomb problem, will be shown today at 8 p. m. in First English Baptist Church, East Main Street, according to Rev. Donald A. Vosseler, pastor.

In the 45-minute movie, recently produced by Dr. Irwin A. Moon in Lost Angeles laboratories of Moody Institute of Science, scientific apparatus and diagrams are used to demonstrate the theory of atomic power. Then actual on-the-spot film records of the Nagasaki and Bikini blast show the atomic bomb in action.

"God of the Atom" is being shown by a special Moody film representative, K. C. Carman.

An exclusive feature of the film is a sequence portraying the giant 184-inch cyclotron at the University of California. Concrete walls have now been built around the interior of the cyclotron, which has become dangerously radioactive.

Helping Dr. Moon in the narration of the film will be Larry Johuston, young physicist who aided in atomic development at Los Alamos and photographed all three wartime bombs as they exploded.

"God of the Atom" is second in a series of religious-scientific movies produced by the Moody Institute of Science, a branch of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

Postman's Holiday

ROMNEY—Sgt. H. R. Shields, supervisor of Romney barracks, West Virginia State Police had a "postman's holiday" Sunday to mark his 20th wedding anniversary.

He was summoned Sunday afternoon to investigate a two-car collision in Romney in which three persons were slightly injured.

Sgt. Shields said a 1948 sedan driven by Anthony McDevitt, Birmingham, Ala., ran through a stop sign in Romney to collide with a Cumberland bound car driven by Thomas F. Stouffer, Broadway, Va. Occupants of the Stouffer car were treated by a Romney physician, and McDevitt forfeited $15 bond yesterday on a charge of failing to stop for a stop sign.

Sgt. Shields, who has been in charge of the Romney barracks since August, 1947, was married to Miss Noval Hazel Marshall, Beckley, W. Va., in that city in 1928. They have one daughter, Miss Jo Anne Shields, 19. "This is a terrible way to celebrate my 20th wedding anniversary," he ruefully remarked following the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Huff announce the birth of a daughter Thursday in Hazel McGilvery Hospital, Meyersdale, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller and Noah Miller, Canton, Ohio, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Folk. Mrs. Noah Miller and son, who spent the past two weeks visiting relatives and friends here, returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Himler, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Himler, Pittsburgh, Pa., were recent guests of Mrs. Barbara Younkin and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glotfelty.

Grantsville WSCS Holds Meeting

GRANTSVILLE — The September meeting of the W.S.C.S. of Zion Church, Long Stretch, Route 40, Garrett County was held last week at the home of Mrs. Glenn Durst with Mrs. Cecil Michael, assistant hostess.

The theme of the meeting, "For Whom the Whole Family is Named," was discussed by Mrs. Wilford Warne, Miss Leanna Layman, Mrs. Glenn Durst, Mrs. Scott Layman, Rev. D. J. Combs and Mrs. Herbert Pope. Following the business meeting, the birthdays of Mrs. W. S. Layman and Mrs. Ella Michael were observed. Twenty members were present and Miss LaVerne Van Ryan, Florida, was a guest.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Forest Michael with Mrs. Earl Michael as assistant hostess.

Tri-Towns Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Broadwater have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gross, Akron, Ohio; Stanley Gross and son, Charles, Meyersdale, Pa.; Charles Sponseller, Hagerstown, and Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Daniels, Water Street, Piedmont, left on a motor trip to New York and Canada.

Bids Will Be Received For Wippel Property

Buyer Must Remove Front Of Building

KEYSER, W. Va.—Sealed bids for the right to purchase 50 feet of land on Mineral Street, and the building thereon, known as the Wippel property, extending back 103 feet to Cherry Alley, will be received by the West Virginia State Roads Commission until 10 a. m. September 24, it was announced Monday by Harry R. Taylor, district right of way agent for the State Roads Commission.

Taylor indicated that the purchaser of the land and property will be required to remove the front portion of the building which is located on the site of the proposed Keyser-McCoole overhead bridge.

The Wippel building, now occupied by D-D Cleaners, is only one of the row of properties along North Mineral Street to be affected by the construction of the bridge.

However, Taylor said that agreements have either been reached or are in the process of negotiations with all other property owners, both on North Mineral Street and Heskett Street, north of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks.

The Wippel property was bought outright by the State Roads Commission and is now being offered for sale, the agent said.

State Roads officials indicated yesterday that "it will not bt long" before bids on the construction of the bridge, which is estimated to cost nera $1,000,000, will be asked. Preliminary work, such as surveys, drainings and the like, has all been completed, Taylor said, adding that steel for the pilings under the bridge arrived here sometime ago and that work in sinking the pilings can get underway immediately after the contract is let.

Lonaconing Woman To Visit England

LONACONING — Mrs. Miriam Moore Walters, wife of Harold Walters, Lonaconing, will visit her parents in England for the first time since coming here three years ago.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. —Advertisement

Lonaconing Man Arrives In Scotland Two Days Before Death Of Mother

LONACONING — It was a long trip to a sad end when Robert Spiers arrived at Blantyre, Scotland, August 19, after an absence of 25 years.

Two days after the Lonaconing Celanese employe arrived to spend a holiday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Spiers, 152 Glasgow Road, his mother died August 22.

She had been ill for a short time.

A Scotland newspaper had this to say about Mrs. Speirs:

"Mrs. Spiers was a native of Hamilton but came to Blantyre early in life. In view of her long connection with the town she was known to many, and her friendly and unassuming manner earned her the respect of everyone with whom she became acquainted. Her death, at the age of 77, is one which removed from our midst a respected and loveable citizen."

Mrs. Spiers was a member and one-time treasurer of the Central Cooperative Women's Guild. She also belonged to the Order of the Eastern Star, Priority Chapter; Shrine No. 13, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, and the Burleigh Memorial Church.

She is survived by her husband, three sons, David, James and Robert, and three daughters, Agnes, Jean and Cecelia.

A funeral service was held August 24 at the home with Rev. James G. Ritchie, M. A., pastor of Burleigh Memorial Church, officiating. Burial was in High Blantyre Cemetery.

Kalbaugh Memorial Dedicated Sunday Night

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—The new stage erected in the recreation hall of Trinity Methodist Church on Jones Street with funds provided by the late Mrs. Katherine Kalbaugh, Ashfield Street, in memory of her late husband, Dr. Z. T. Kalbaugh, was dedicated Sunday night.

The presentation address was delivered by Arthur Arnold who briefly reviewed the life of Dr. Kalbaugh. The memorial stage was accepted by Vernon L. Frye, chairman of the board of trustees of the church.

The gift was dedicated by Rev. Raymond L. Moore, pastor.

Romney Man Jailed On Hit-Run Charge

ROMNEY — Roy William Dean, Romney, was committed to Hampshire County jail for 10 days yesterday in default of a $25 fine imposed by Magistrate A. L. Russell yesterday morning on a hit and run charge.

West Virginia State Police said Dean struck and slightly damaged a car owned by G. P. Timbrook, Kirby, W. Va., as it was parked at a filling station one mile east of Romney Saturday night. He was apprehended by state troopers shortly after the accident.

225 Freshmen Given College Placement Tests

KEYSER, W. Va.—An estimated 225 freshmen reported for English placement tests at Potomac State School yesterday morning, according to college officials, who indicated that the enrollment will be as large as that of last year.

Psychological examinations will be given this morning under the direction of John O. Maiden, head of the psychology department. Registration of freshmen whose last names begin with A to G inclusive, will be held this afternoon beginning at 1:30. Freshmen whose last names begin with H to Z will register tomorrow at 8 a. m.

A mix for all students will be held tonight in the gymnasium under the direction of Mrs. Madge Nuce, head of the girl's physical education department. She will be assisted by Mr. Nuzum.

A capacity crowd of freshmen students and their parents attended the convocation held in the auditorium of the administration building at the school Sunday afternoon. The meeting opened with an invocation by Rev. H. S. Myerly, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, followed by an address of welcome by Dean K. S. McKee.

Leonard G. Withers, head of the music department, led the group in singing, accompanied at the piano by Miss Frances Sarullo, new member of the music department.

The group was addressed by Dr. E. E. Church, president of the school, who used as his topic "A Report From the Minority." Dr. Church pointed out to the students that they are the minority, inasmuch as it is a minority of people who choose to attend college.

Vesper services were held later in the dining room of Davis Hall under the direction of Paul Iverson, member of the faculty. Group singing was again led by Mrs. Withers with Mrs. E. E. Church as accompanist. She also accompanied Miss Sarullo in singing, "But the Lord Is Mindful of His Own." Rev. John C. B. McLaughlin, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, was speaker.

Members of the student council and representatives of other campus organizations were on hand Sunday to greet the incoming students and to assist the faculty.

The 1948-49 school term of the college officialy opened Saturday afternoon when members of the faculty and Dr. Church held a meeting.

Bob Hope And 'Big Town' Returning To Radio Tonight

NEW YORK, Sept. 13—It is Bob Hope who is coming back Tuesday. So is Big Town.

But there's more to it than that. Hope will be at the new time of an hour earlier than heretofore, 9 o'clock. Big Town takes his old 10 o'clock time. Both are on NBC.

Reason these shifts are possible is to be found in the fact Amos and Andy, formerly at 9, are to move back to CBS when they return in October. Big Town was on CBS up to its summer vacation.

Jack McElroy becomes the new MC of Breakfast in Hollywood on ABC at 11 a. m. He succeeds Garry Moore, who in turn took over last May upon the death of Tom Breneman. Moore, however, was anxious to give up this broadcast because the strain on his health. He is continuing his NBC once a week Take It or Leave It.

America's Town meeting of ABC at 8:30 p. m. stopping at Washington for its weekly debate, will argue about "What Hope for Man." Four scientists are to make up the panel.

Radio in Review

By JOHN CROSBY

Sobstricken History

Radio Playhouse, a fairly new operation on CBS at 10 p. m. E. D. T. Thursdays, is upper-class soap opera, a description that may offend its sponsors more than is intended. What I mean is that the stories dramatized on Radio Playhouse deal rather too extensively with love and tears, nobility and villainy, and, above all, suffering. However, these dramas are derived from very well known novels, plays and movies ("Cimarron," "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," "To Mary With Love"), are written with authority and are extremely well acted by spectacular movie names. Since I am of untearful nature, Radio Playhouse isn't my dish of tea but I predict great popularity for it and I'm somewhat surprised that no one ever thought of specializing in heavy, sentimental drama before.

John Crosby

The Playhouse is presided over by James Hilton, the shy Elinor Glyn of Great Britain—no mean tear jerker in his own right—who selects the stories and introduces them with well modulated, British enthusiasm. "Cimarron" is perhaps the best example of what they're doing over there at Radio Playhouse. Edna Ferber's enormously popular novel of the pioneer days of Oklahoma was described by Mr. Hilton as "a window opening on the great theater of an expanding America." Well, that's one way of putting it. Another, more astringent critic, whose sympathies are more akin to my own, once said of Miss Ferber that she liked to "take an epoch and go roll in it," an exceedingly apt description of "Cimarron."

"Cimarron," you'll recall, is the story of a young bride who plunges into untamed Oklahoma and tames it almost single-handed, keeping her chin up in the face of unspeakable tribulations. Meanwhile her husband, who can't stand a town the minute it gets running water, heads westward, ever westward, like a two-legged Union Pacific Railroad, a sort of symbol of expanding America.

The decades roll by. Railroads are built. (Toot toot.) Alexander Graham Bell invents the telephone. Oil gushes. Buildings shoot up like mushrooms. People rush into the streets from time to time shouting "President Cleveland has issued a proclamation opening the Cherokee strip." During it all, the young bride raises the children, fights off bad men with hatpins and writes editorials about the sanetity of the American home. The editorials, incidentally, so incense the unsanctimonious riffraff of Cimarron that they burn down her house, possibly the most outspoken protest against the American home in all literature.

That synopsis is, of course, not at all fair to Miss Ferber, an enormously skillful hand at this type of story and a girl who could still teach the younger novelists a lot of tricks; it is merely intended to demonstrate the sort of story they like on Radio Playhouse.

All these radio dramas are heavily freighted with the sound of sobbing and most of them, curiously enough, deal in decades, crawling with history. "To Mary With Love," which, I'm told, was quite a good movie, is a minor league "Cavalcade" in which a married couple go through hell and high water together during the gay '20s, the grim '30s, and right up to the battle-scarred '40s. They are just as miserable in the good times as in the bad, so the history swirling about them doesn't make much difference. The dialogue in this one, though voiced with somewhat more moderation than you find in soap opera, doesn't differ much from it:

"Why are you looking at me like that?"

"Don't, Jock, don't!"

"Well! If you've reached the point where you don't trust me . . ."

"It's always the baby that cements the family together."

"Please don't spoil things. We've been friends such a long time."

"There's been an accident! It wasn't my fault. I blew my horn."

A last observation: Miss Ferber once ascribed the success of her novels to the fact that they dealt in the elemental facts of life—birth, marriages, sickness, death. Radio Playhouse is sponsored by the Hallmark greeting card company, which deals in the same commodities and apparently feels warmly toward authors who, like Miss Ferber, dwell lovingly on those occasions where a card is in order.

East And West Meet

SINGAPORE—(AP)—East is East and West is West. But in Singapore the twain meet.

Two Dutch brothers, G. Ruyg and S. Ruyg, chief officers respectively of the freighters 'Annenkerk' and 'Molenkerk', headed in opposite directions around the world, disproved the old saw recently by meeting in this port and enjoying an unexpected reunion.

"There's been an accident! It wasn't my fault. I blew my horn."

A last observation: Miss Ferber once ascribed the success of her novels to the fact that they dealt in the elemental facts of life—birth, marriages, sickness, death. Radio Playhouse is sponsored by the Hallmark greeting card company, which deals in the same commodities and apparently feels warmly toward authors who, like Miss Ferber, dwell lovingly on those occasions where a card is in order.

East And West Meet

SINGAPORE—(AP)—East is East and West is West. But in Singapore the twain meet.

Two Dutch brothers, G. Ruyg and S. Ruyg, chief officers respectively of the freighters 'Annenkerk' and 'Molenkerk', headed in opposite directions around the world, disproved the old saw recently by meeting in this port and enjoying an unexpected reunion.

Scalloped Beauty

SIZES
12—20

Marian Martin

Sweep the buttons across and down for a line most bewitching! Here's the scalloped beauty you have been waiting for. You'll catch compliments galore with this. Easy sewing and ironing.

Pattern 9204, sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 16, 3¾ yards 39-inch.

This easy-to-use pattern gives perfect fit. Complete, illustrated sew chart shows you every step.

Send TWENTY-FIVE cents in coins for this pattern to The Cumberland News, 39 Pattern Department, 232 West 18th Street, New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly NAME, ADDRESS with ZONE, SIZE and STYLE NUMBER.

DO YOU KNOW the three new silhouettes? Find them in the MARIAN MARTIN Fall and Winter Pattern Book! Sewing dollars make fashion sense with these wearable livable styles. Christmas gifts too; and FREE pattern for new shoulder pad printed in the book. 15 cents more brings this book to you!

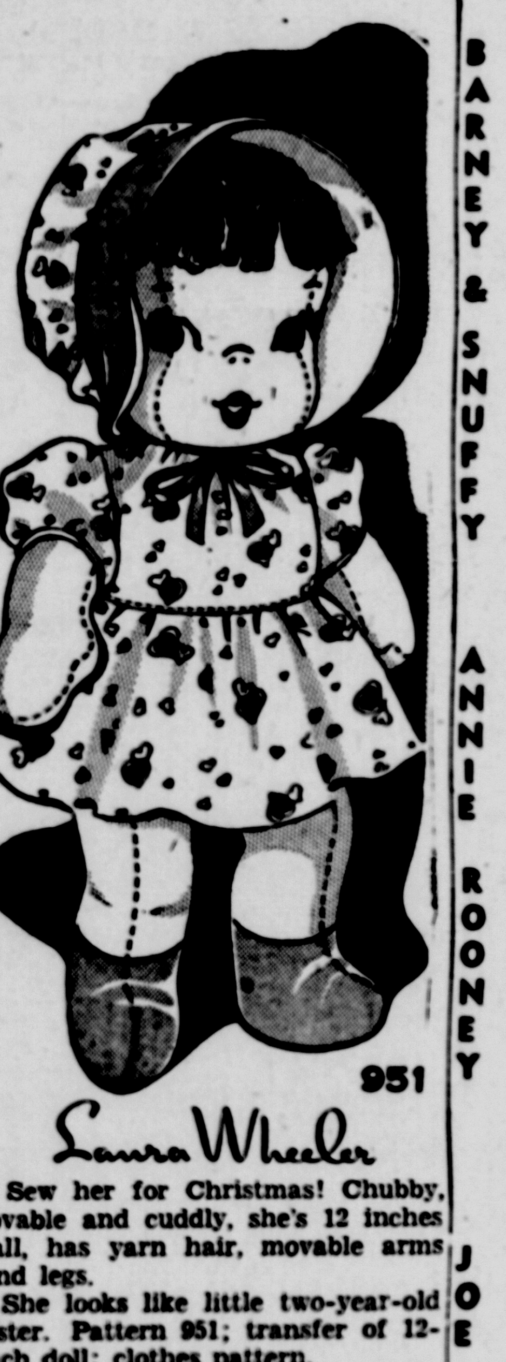
Cherub Doll



951

Laura Wheeler

Sew her for Christmas! Chubby, lovable and cuddly, she's 12 inches tall, has yarn hair, movable arms and legs.

She looks like little two-year-old sister. Pattern 951; transfer of 12-inch doll; clothes pattern.

Laura Wheeler's improved pattern makes needlework so simple with its charts, photos and concise directions.

Send TWENTY CENTS in coins for this pattern to The Cumberland News, 39 Needlecraft Department, P. O. Box 13, Flatbush Station, Brooklyn 26, N. Y. Print plainly PATTERN NUMBER, your NAME, ADDRESS and ZONE.

It's NEW! It's wonderful — our Laura Wheeler Needlecraft Catalog. Send 15 cents for 108 illustrations of newest designs that beginners find easy, experts prefer . . . crochet, knitting, embroidery, toys, dolls, household and personal accessories. Free scrap quilt pattern printed in book.

"Love Lotteries" persisted during the Middle Ages in many European countries. The French allotted couples one year to get married or part company.

Card of Thanks

We are taking this means to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the illness and bereavement of our husband and father, Mr. Joseph T. Ryan, Ocean, Md. We also wish to thank those who offered floral tributes and donated cars to the funeral.
Wife and Family.

We take this means of thanking all our friends and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful at the re-burial of our beloved son and brother, Pfc. Ralph E. Folk, killed in action on Leyte, in the Phillipines, Oct. 26, 1944. We express sincere thanks to Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion and John R. Fairgrieve Post No. 2462, V.F.W. and all those who assisted. We also wish to express appreciation for the floral tribute and the use of cars.
Mr. & Mrs. Edward Folk
& Son, Charles, Frostburg.

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to all our friends and relatives for the kindness shown us in our bereavement, the death of our beloved wife and mother. We wish to extend special thanks to Rev. Wm. Albright, the choir of Patterson's Creek, the pallbearers, and flower girls — all who donated cars and sent floral tributes.
The Flora Family and
Mrs. Wanda Shaner.

INSULATION
INFORMATION
If you are not interested in a complete insulation job but want to enjoy the comfort and economy of insulation .. We would suggest insulating the attic. This would give you the most for your money and if it is an open attic you cannot get a better insulating material than ZONOLITE — It Pours!

We also have FIBERGLAS WOOL INSULATION. It comes in rolls, you unroll it between joists, studs and rafters. Fiberglas Wool is an excellent insulating material and is practical in many installations.

For further information . . . have our representative call.

Card of Thanks

We are taking this means to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the illness and bereavement of our husband and father, Mr. Joseph T. Ryan, Ocean, Md. We also wish to thank those who offered floral tributes and donated cars to the funeral.
Wife and Family.

We take this means of thanking all our friends and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful at the re-burial of our beloved son and brother, Pfc. Ralph E. Polk, killed in action on Leyte, in the Phillipines, Oct. 26, 1944. We express sincere thanks to Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion and John R. Fairgrieve Post No. 2462, V.F.W. and all those who assisted. We also wish to express appreciation for the floral tribute and the use of cars.
Mr. & Mrs. Edward Polk
& Son, Charles, Frostburg.

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to all our friends and relatives for the kindness shown us in our bereavement, the death of our beloved wife and mother. We wish to extend special thanks to Rev. Wm. Albright, the choir of Patterson's Creek, the pallbearers, and flower girls — all who donated cars and sent floral tributes.
The Flora Family and
Mrs. Wanda Shaner.

INSULATION
INFORMATION
If you are not interested in a complete insulation job but want to enjoy the comfort and economy of insulation .. We would suggest insulating the attic. This would give you the most for your money and if it is an open attic you cannot get a better insulating material than ZONOLITE — It Pours!

We also have FIBERGLAS WOOL INSULATION. It comes in rolls, you unroll it between joists, studs and rafters. Fiberglas Wool is an excellent insulating material and is practical in many installations.

For further information . . . have our representative call.

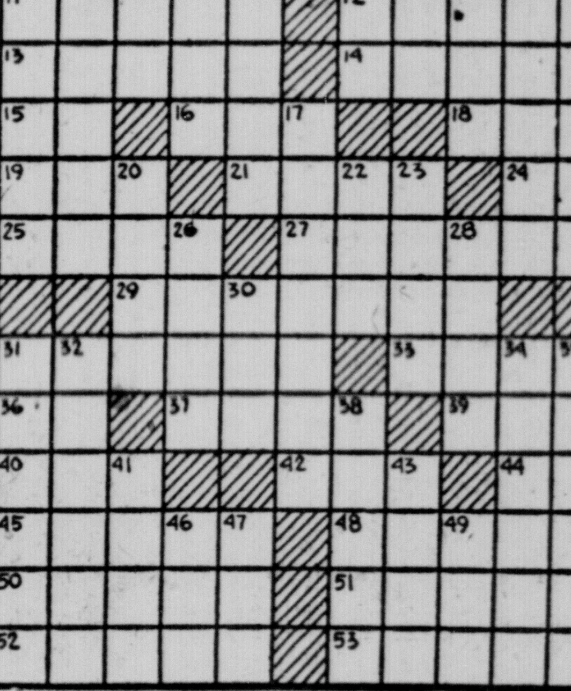
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

T A V L A T, F N W V T E E W W K A T H - W G K D O L H K M W K A L, O W G U V O E V B A O W G T K A D R R V T V F V O N A J S A — U V T - E H V D.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: THE MORE A MAN DENIES HIMSELF, THE MORE WILL HE OBTAIN FROM THE GODS—HORACE.

Market List Hits Lowest Point In Month As Weakness Persists

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Persistent weakness in the stock market today carried the list to the lowest point in nearly a month.

Only rails and utilities tried at any time to move against the current, but they soon gave way.

As measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, the market was down .5 of a point to close at 67.5, the lowest level since August 16. Industrials edged off by the widest margin, .5 of a point, and rails lost .4 and utilities .3 of a point.

United States Steel, Bethlehem and Republic all were off three-eighth, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube lost 1½ at 80. Chrysler lost a point at 58¼, and General Motors and Studebaker dropped five-eighth.

Rails off a point or more included Rock Island, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Great Northern preferred, and Atlantic Coast Line. Edging up fractionally were Chesapeake and Ohio and Union Pacific.

Metals as a group showed especial weakness with Kennecott off 1⅞ at 56, Phelps Dodge down 2¼ at 51¾, and American Smelting off 1¼. Cerro de Pasco, however, kept on the plus side all day and ended up 1¼ at 24½.

Other losers included Goodyear, Deere, Schenley, General Electric, American Tobacco, Richfield Oil, and Gulf Oil.

Western Union and American Telephone and Telegraph, each up one-fourth, were among utilities gaining fractions. Other leaders in that group were unchanged to slightly lower.

A few of the favorites moved a point either way but the bond market generally dawdled along with price changes in a narrow range.

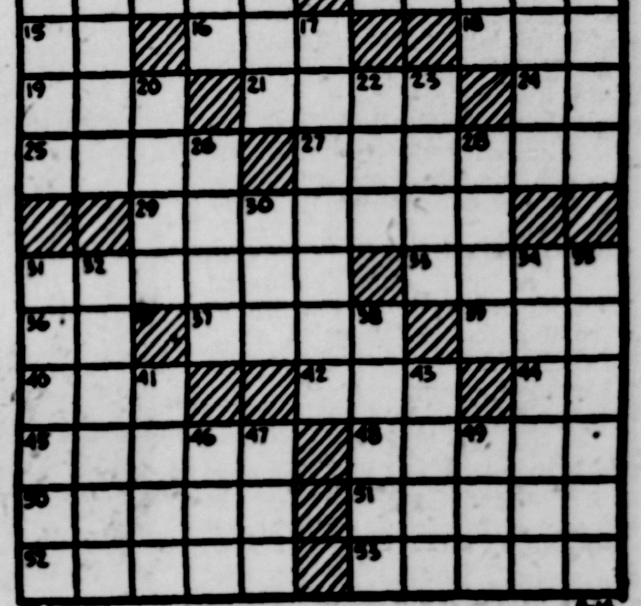
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Market List Hits Lowest Point In Month As Weakness Persists

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Persistent weakness in the stock market today carried the list to the lowest point in nearly a month.

Only rails and utilities tried at any time to move against the current, but they soon gave way.

As measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, the market was down .5 of a point to close at 67.5, the lowest level since August 16. Industrials edged off by the widest margin, .5 of a point, and rails lost .4 and utilities .3 of a point.

United States Steel, Bethlehem and Republic all were off three-eighth, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube lost 1½ at 80. Chrysler lost a point at 58¼, and General Motors and Studebaker dropped five-eighth.

Rails off a point or more included Rock Island, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Great Northern preferred, and Atlantic Coast Line. Edging up fractionally were Chesapeake and Ohio and Union Pacific.

Metals as a group showed especial weakness with Kennecott off 1⅞ at 56, Phelps Dodge down 2¼ at 51⅞, and American Smelting off 1⅛. Cerro de Pasco, however, kept on the plus side all day and ended up 1¼ at 24½.

Other losers included Goodyear, Deere, Schenley, General Electric, American Tobacco, Richfield Oil, and Gulf Oil.

Western Union and American Telephone and Telegraph, each up one-fourth, were among utilities gaining fractions. Other leaders in that group were unchanged to slightly lower.

A few of the favorites moved a point either way but the bond market generally dawdled along with price changes in a narrow range.

Movie Ban Warning Was Given, Harris Declares

Statement Made By State's Attorney

Representatives of the Potomac Drive-In Theatre were warned in advance that Sunday operation would be a violation, State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris said yesterday in a statement to the press.

The open air movie theatre, located on Winchester Road, was ordered closed as far as Sunday operation is concerned prior to Sunday, county laws prohibiting Sunday September 5, in accordance with movies in unincorporated communities, Harris said.

Explaining that local theater operators had complained to his office that the Potomac Drive-In Theater was operating on Sunday hours in violation of the law, Harris declares he then referred the matter to enforcement officers.

In his statement Harris also explains the complaint which brought about closing the Majestic Theater in Mt. Savage, came from E. J. Ryan, attorney for the Drive-In officials. Harris said action was taken on the Mt. Savage Theater after Ryan suggested uniform enforcement of the law.

Harris does not argue merits or demerits of the Sunday movie ban, saying this is a matter for the State Legislature. He explains the duties of the state's attorney as such, and declares enforcement officers should not be placed in a position where they must apologize for enforcement of laws as they exist on the statue books.

The text of Harris' statement follows:

"After several days absence from the county, I returned to find in the local papers that quite an issue had been fomented because two motion picture theatres could not operate on the Sabbath in violation of existing laws.

"Because of the picture as painted in several recent issues of the local press a clear, concise and accurate statement from me would be in order.

Cites Enabling Act

"Prior to the year 1933, motion pictures could not be exhibited in Allegany County on Sunday. The Maryland General Assembly at its session in that year passed an enabling act permitting the several municipalities in the county to permit, prohibit or regulate by ordinance the operation of motion picture theatres on Sunday.

"This statute did not change the existing law in areas outside of the municipalities. Therefore, theatres that are not located within the boundaries of municipal corporations cannot legally operate on Sunday. Whether the law is good or evil, consistent or inconsistent is not for me to say.

"Pursuant to the terms and powers of the statute the city and town governments passed ordinances regulating the hours when Sunday movies would be permitted and in some, if not all, instances placed a special municipal tax on admissions and providing penalties for violation of the ordinances.

"Several weeks ago Kenneth R. Baker, G. Roy Sutherland and the Baland Corporation, trading as Potomac Drive-in Theatre, began the operation of an open air theatre in an area located outside the confines of any municipality. To the best of my knowledge, I have never seen and do not know any people connected with this enterprise. I have no feeling for nor against them.

"On Sunday afternoon, August 22nd, Mr. Kenneth R. Baker telephoned me at my home and requested a hurried conference with me regarding the operation of his theatre.

I suggested he confer with his own lawyer. It occurs to me that any group of business men would not invest a substantial sum of money in a business without first knowing whether they could legally operate the business six or seven days a week. It is certainly not good management to invest your money and then inquire.

Operators Complained

"However, I heard nothing more of the matter until the week of August 30th. Then certain theatre operators in Cumberland complained that the Potomac Drive-In Theatre was operating after Saturday midnight into the early hours on Sunday morning. They intimated they should have the same privilege. They also complained this theatre did not have any legal right to operate at any time on Sunday.

"Competition in business of this kind is keen and can lead to strange limits. The Drive-In Theatre is located out in the country. It paid no Sunday admissions tax, such as competing theatres located in town. If permitted to operate on Sunday, it was not subject to any limitation in hours such as the theatres located within corporate limits. I could see that this was not a complaint to be ignored, otherwise, it would lead to a complete breakdown of the Sunday moving picture law.

"I sent T. J. Boyle, county investigator, and Deputy Sheriff Edgar Lewis out to the Drive-In Theatre in inform the management that he could not operate on Sunday. They informed the man who said he was the manager in charge. This was on Thursday the 2nd day of September.

On Saturday, September 4th, Edward J. Ryan called and said he represented the Drive-In Theatre. He inquired about the law regulating Sunday motion pictures. I referred him to the statute and informed him the Sunday operation of the theatre would be a violation. On Sunday afternoon, September 5th, I talked with William L. Wilson who is associated with Mr. Ryan in representing this firm. He asked me about the status of the case and he was told the sheriff would not permit the operation of this theatre

The Weather

Surprise, surprise, it's summer again. Yesterday's 90 degree high was reminiscent of the heat wave a couple of weeks ago. The overnight low was 51, but last night showed 69, a little higher than the night before. More of the same is predicted for today.

School Day Will Be Observed By County Students

Early Closing Set For Freedom Train

Special patriotic programs designed to stress Americans' great heritage of freedom will be held in Allegany County Schools next Tuesday, which will be celebrated as "School Day" of the Rededication Week being held here in connection with the coming of the Freedom Train here next Wednesday, Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of Allegany County Schools, announced.

School officials also announced that junior and senior high schools will be dismissed at 2 p. m. next Wednesday to allow students to visit the Freedom Train.

Kopp said it was a "decided privilege to have the day set aside for schools to point out in a special way to students, the heritage of freedom which has come to us out of the past."

Suggested activities for "School Day" includes discussions of aspects of our heritage, stories and poems dramatizing aspects of citizenship, school assemblies and historical exhibits.

Must Join Line

Although elementary schools will not dismiss early, sixth grade students who bring written notes from their parents may be excused at 2 p. m., Kopp said. Students below the sixth grade may leave early only if their parents call for them.

Since no specific time can be set aside for visits to the Freedom Train, student groups will have to line up in the order of their coming, he added.

The Freedom Train will be parked on the B. and O. siding at Williams Street when it visits Cumberland Wednesday, September 22, C. S. Catherman, Jr., train committee chairman, announced after a conference with local railroad officials.

The train will arrive from Johnstown, Pa.. in the early morning and will be opened to the public at 10 a. m.

City Police have made arrangements to close Williams Street to vehicular traffic between Park Street and the railroad to accommodate crowds expected to view the train. The Williams Street crossing will also be blocked.

Dedication Planned

Persons wishing to view the train must do so on a "first come, first served" basis, Catherman said. No groups will be given special privilege.

Brief dedication ceremonies will be held between 9 and 10 a. m. at which Mayor Thomas S. Post will "accept" the train from the train director.

Pedestrian traffic through the train will be one-way, entering from Williams Street and exiting out Spring Street to Maryland Avenue.

Children 12 years of age or over, or who have attained the Sixth Grade in elementary school, will be permitted aboard the train. Under that age, children must be accompanied by an adult.

The Red Cross will maintain a first-aid booth during the exhibition hours.

Ex-Con Arrested In Bedford On Car Theft Charge

An ex-convict who served time in Texas and California appeared on his way back to prison yesterday after being apprehended in Bedford Sunday on charges of stealing a car in California and driving it to Bedford.

Police said Troy W. Abbott, 32, Oakland, Calif., who was freed from Texas State Prison July 30, yesterday was arraigned in Pittsburgh Federal Court on the Dyer Act.

"His suspicious appearance," caused Pennsylvania State Police to stop Abbott in Bedford Sunday, according to the Bedford baracks commander, who added he was accompanied by a runaway Pittsburgh boy.

Abbott admitted he had stolen the car in California and was immediately turned over to a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent and transported to Pittsburgh for a preliminary hearing.

The prisoner told authorities he served time in San Quentin Prison, Calif., after being convicted on a grand larceny charge. Shortly after being freed he was arrested and convicted on a concealed weapon charge and sentenced to Folsom Prison, Calif. After serving two years he was paroled.

Then, arested on a stolen automobile charge, Abbott was returned to Folsom on the parole violation and shortly after he finished his time he was again arested and sentenced to Texas State Prison, Huntsville, Tex., on a grand larceny charge.

It was from the Texas Prison that he was freed little more than a month before he entered on the present escapade.

Authorities said the runaway boy M. Lee Kidder, 17, was returned to his parents in Pittsburgh yesterday at the same time Abbott was transported there for the preliminary hearing.

The stolen car was not damaged, Pennsylvania State Police said.

Lilya To Address Optimist Club

Lt. Edwin R. Lilya, new head of the City Police Department Traffic Division, will address the Optimist Club of Cumberland at 6:15 p. m. tomorrow at Central YMCA.

The committee in charge of distribution of the gum ball machines in the city has reported that $61.95 has been received from the machines to date.

REGISTERING EXHIBITS-- Registering and classifying exhibits for the Greater Cumberland Fair beginning today kept registrars busy in the main hall at Fairgo yesterday. (Left to right) Miss Gloria E. Bohn, assistant county home demonstration agent; Mrs. Joseph Coleman, 205 Fayette Street, former leader of the Cumberland 4-H Club, and Miss Regina Ferguson, Union Grove, assistant leader of her club and 4-H All Star, help the lines of people trying for the prizes to be awarded this week. Waiting to put their handicrafts among the correct exhibits are (left to right) Mrs. John C. AFL Unions Halt American Store Contract Talks

Manager Questions Bargaining Rights

Officials of Local 322, Meat Cutters Union, and Local 886, Retail Clerks Union, both AFL, announced yesterday there are discontinuing contract negotiations with the American Stores Company, Inc., pending settlement of a decertification petition which has been filed with the National Labor Relations Board.

C. E. Stutzman, acting business agent for the Clerks Union, said the NLRB has notified the locals that the decertification petition was filed by Freeda Smith, manager of the Everett, Pa., store, who points out a question of representation has arisen.

The unions, which represent American Store workers in Cumberland, Frostburg, Hyndman, Meyersdale, Lonaconing, Mt. Savage, Piedmont, Keyser and Westernport, recently won by four votes a NLRB union security election for the some 125 workers.

The union said William C. Humphreys, field examiner of the Baltimore regional NLRB office, has notified the unions that he will arrive here in the near future to arrange a preliminary hearing on the charge.

If upheld, the petition would require the NLRB to hold another election to determine the bargaining agent for the workers.

Workers recently turned down a contract offer of the firm which would have granted an approximate $2.25 weekly wage boost. The present contract will expire October 3.

The petition marks the first such case in this area since the passage of the Taft-Hartley Law. Uncontested union security elections have been won by Local 1874, TWUA, CIO, at the Celanese plant and at plants at Keyser and Lonaconing, Retail Clerks and Meat Cutters at the A. and P. Super Market here, local Bakery Workers and at the Luke and Williamsburg plants of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Companies.

Cresaptown FOE To Be Instituted

John T. Corrigan, deputy grand auditor of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, will arrive here Saturday to check the charter list of the new Cresaptown Aerie, Herman L. Myers, Cresaptown organizer for the Eagles, announced last night.

Myers said Corrigan will institute the order Monday night. State president John F. Miller and State Past President C. William H. Baer will attend, the organizer said.

Baer will be in charge of the degree team of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, which will conduct the initiation, Myers said.

Delegations will attend from Baltimore, Hagerstown, Cumberland, Frederick, Brunswick and Frostburg, Myers said.

Myers said that committees selected from the charter signers at Cresaptown are "working hard" on the present campaign to have more than 100 charter signers ready for the institution Monday night.

Headquarters for the Cresaptown Aerie have been established at Keister's Garage Myers said, adding that new members will be accepted until the night of institution.

Potomac Park Group To Meet Tonight

An outline of the fall program of the Potomac Park Improvement Association will be presented at the regular meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Potomac Park United Brethren Evangelical Church, J. Milton Dick, president, announced last night.

Dick said a discussion on plans to attempt to secure fire hydrants at Potomac Park would take place.

Mrs. Oscar Varner, chairman of the entertainment committee, will outline plans for a series of dances and other entertainment.

Local High School Youth Describes Advantages Of YMCA Membership

"Fall Maneuvers" Officially Open

A local high school boy who has been a member of Central YMCA for eight years was guest speaker last night at the kickoff dinner of the YMCA's "membership emphasis" program.

The program is designed to interpert to the community the meaning of membership in the YMCA, and to enroll 500 new members.

James Alderton, 17-year-old senior at Fort Hill who has belonged to the "Y" since he was nine years old, described in his own words what advantages such membership holds for young people.

He pointed out that new friends are gained through after-school recreational programs at the "Y" and that boys and girls learn "sportsmanship and common courtesy" as well as how to get along with others.

"I believe that boys and girls who are members will be better citizens of our community when they grow older, because of their membership in the community," young Alderton declared.

J. Goodloe Jackson, membership chairman and chief of staff of the "YMCA fall maneuvers," said that one of the main aims of the program is to spread information about the wide range of YMCA activities throughout the community.

Winfield H. Adam, acting general secretary and liaison officer for the program, explained that new memberships will be sought among all age groups with no emphasis on any one group.

The 65 persons attending the dinner received information kits and other supplies.

"Membership emphasis week" is scheduled from September 17 to September 24. There will be only one report meeting, in the form of a victory dinner September 24 at 6:29 p. m. in the "green room" at Central YMCA.

Adolf Blunk, YMCA president, presided at the meeting. Adam introduced the guest speaker. Rev. W. R. Keefe, Jr., pastor of Grace Baptist Church, gave the invocation.

Grocery Contract Sought By Union

Drivers and warehousemen of two local wholesale grocery firms will meet here Sunday at 10 a. m. to take strike action if a satisfactory contract agreement is not reached by that time, C. E. Stutzman, business agent for Local 453, Teamsters Union, which represents the workers, reported yesterday.

He said James A. Holden, federal conciliator, is in Cumberland attempting to arrange another meeting between the C. D. Kenny and Kenneweg Wholesale Grocery firms and the unions today or tomorrow.

Stutzman said the workers want a 10 cent an hour wage boost. They have rejected a company offer which would extend the contract until January 31, 1949, for an additional week's holiday paid as a bonus.

Stutzman said the Kenny firm has offered a 10 cent increase in Baltimore and 7½ cents in Richmond.

The 1947 contract, which expired July 1, provided a 10 cent boost to bring rates to $44 for a 40 hour week, the union said.

Hunters Form Late Rush For Licenses

County hunters formed a late rush to obtain licenses at the Court House yesterday, and even more are expected to get their hunting licenses today, Court House attaches said, as the annual 15-day squirrel season opens tomorrow.

A total of 4,411 licenses have been issued to date, and yesterday was reported the busiest day this year for hunting licenses with over 600 being issued.

Deputy clerks reported issuing 3,020 county licenses and 1,391 state-wide hunting permits to date. Yesterday, 130 state-wide licenses and 500 county permits were issued.

Four non-resident licenses were issued and three anglers obtained fishing licenses.

Mrs. Ethel Leary Fatally Injured In Auto Accident

Husband Admitted To Memorial Hospital

A Bean's Cove, Pa., woman, Mrs. Ethel Leary, 47, was killed and her husband, Thomas Leary, 48 who operates Leary's Tavern, was seriously injured at 7:15 p. m. yesterday when the car in which they were riding failed to negotiate a curve on Bean's Cove Road.

Mrs. Leary, who with her husband was returning to the tavern from a visit to Bedford, Pa., was pronouned dead at Memorial Hospital upon arrival at 7:45 p. m.

Attaches said Leary's condition was "fair," and described his injuries as abrasions of the lower lip, left shoulder, knee and elbow. He was admitted.

Maryland State Police were first summoned to the accident, but later learned that the scene was on the Pennsylvania side of Bean's Cove road and notified Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford Barracks.

Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, Maryland State Police said he learned that Leary failed to negotiate a curve within 300 yards of the tavern to which he was returning, but explained he had no details of the accident.

Hospital attaches, however, quoted Leary, as saying a car was parked on the curve and he was unable to pass it, therefore was forced off the road.

First police reports indicated that the Leary car was the vehicle involved in the accident. Pennsylvania police went to the hospital last night where they questioned Leary and then were reported en route to the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Leary was the former Ethel Eleanora Foreman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Foreman 1101 Lexington Avenue. Besides her parents and husband she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy O'Neal, Frindscove, Pa., one son, Thomas Leary, Jr., Baltimore, one sister, Mrs. Margaret Davidson, Baltimore and one brother.

Attorneys To Honor Judge W. A. Huster

Approximately 75 attorneys from Garrett, Allegany and Washington Counties will honor retiring Judge William A. Huster at a testimonial dinner at Ali Ghan Country Club tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

Judge Huster, who has been chief judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, retired Sunday on his 70th birthday. The dinner tonight is sponsored by members of the bar of the three counties. Clarence Lippel, president of the Allegany Association will present Judge Huster with a gift.

Lawler Will Head Holy Name Society

Thomas C. Lawler, 214 Fayette Street, was elected president of the Holy Name Society of SS. Peter and Paul Church at a meeting of the group held Sunday night.

Other officers are Edward Dressman, vice president, and John W. Kreidler, recording secretary. Rev. Antonine Vukmanovich, O. F. M. Cap., was re-elected treasurer and spiritual director.

A social hour and reception of new members wil be held after evening devotions Sunday, October 10. Some 177 men of the parish are members of the society.

Legion To Complete Picnic Plans Tonight

Final plans for the annual Legion picnic will be made at a meeting of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 tonight at 8 o'clock at the post home, Commander Paul C. Weisenmiller announced.

Weisenmiller added that Clyde Kuhns, picnic committee chairman, has also called a meeting of the entire picnic committee for 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Record Exhibits Entered In Annual County Fair

Five-Day Event Opens At Fairgo Today

Cumberland's mountain-locked fairground swarmed with 4-H Club members, Future Farmers of America, farmers and homemakers rushing to get their exhbiits set up before the 6 p. m. deadline yesterday in readiness for the five-day Cumberland Fair opening today.

Registrars from county farm groups worked steadily in the main hall classifying the vegetable, handiwork, canned goods, baked goods and other articles.

In addition to the traditional fair exhibits, 4-H members have entered individual and group notebooks for judging and a fire prevention display in the far corner of the hall.

Championship wares will be shown to Cumberland. John H. Lindner and sons have arranged their prize-winning honey in cathedral-like tiers. They are fresh from the State Fair at Timonium where they captured 40 ribbons, eight of them blue, first place awards.

Purebred Pig Show

The Kiwanis Club will be able to see the result of their purebred pig project begun in July, 1946. At that time the club gave the Future Farmers of America one Berkshire and one Hampshire sow.

Today Earl Twigg will show Mary Ellen, II, daughter of the original Berkshire. In the next stall, is her daughter, Mary Ellen, 17th, owned by Robert Haislip, Beall High School, Frostburg.

The stipulation made with the original gift of the sows was that one from each litter must be given back to the organization to be raised by another FFA member.

The Hampshires are doing well, too. James Browning, Flintstone, is exhibiting an offspring of the original sow and her ten-week-old piglets. One of this litter has already been given to Thomas Santymire, Oldtown.

Many Prize Winners

Miss Patty Fisher, Narrows Park, is giving Cumberland a chance to see the dress she made which was judged best in the county and won second prize at the Maryland 4-H Club style show at the University in August.

Beef cattle and milk cows fill two stalls. County 4-H Club members have entered some purebred animals which they have raised themselves. Ralph Porterfield, University of Maryland, will judge the cattle Wednesday.

The sheep have been having their wool trimmed and the prize egg layers are in their pens. Fred Miltenberger, Ridgeley, W. Va., proudly displayed his two white leghorn hens who lay about 180 eggs a year. Fred is also president of the Allegany County 4-H Cattle Club and is showing some Holsteins of his own.

Modern Wonder Girl, a Duroc sow owned by George Lechlider, Laytonsville, will parade her 900 pounds for visitors. The three-year-old pig has never been defeated by any other in her class. She has won more than 10 blue ribbons.

Races Start Tomorrow

The carnival scheduled to be in operation last night, will not open until 7 p. m. tonight. However, the fair itself will open this afternoon as announced.

Harness racing will begin tomorrow afternoon with the "Free For All Trot." Purses for each of the three races Wednesday to Friday will be $405.

Program Set For Training Center Commissioning

Adm. Ainsworth Is Principal Speaker

Commissioning ceremonies for the new Naval and Marine Training Center on McKaig's Hill will be opened Saturday at 3 p. m. by Congressman J. Glenn Beall (R-Allegany) Lt. Cmdr. William H. Geppert, chairman of the Naval Reserve Advisory committee, announced yesterday.

The entire program will be broadcast by Station WCUM, he said.

Following Congressman Beall's opening remarks, Chaplain Garner, USNR, Bedford, Pa., will give the invocation. The Allegany County representative will then speak further, welcoming the guests of honor.

He will introduce Captain V. Havard, Jr. USN, director of the Naval Reserve Fifth District, who will speak on the Naval Reserve Program. He will be followed by Col. L. A. Brown, USMC, director of the Fifth Marine Corps Reserve, who will give a similar talk on the Marine Reserve program.

The principal speaker will be Admiral W. L. Ainsworth, commandant, Fifth Naval District, who will commission the center.

Adm. Ainsworth will place a United States flag in the hands of a color guard comprised of two members of each of the Reserve units. The guard will raise the colors on the flagpole in front of the Armory as the Quantico Marine Base Band, flown to Cumberland for the afternoon, plays "The Star Spangled Banner."

As soon as the commissioning ceremony is over a 24-man watch, 12 from each unit, will be stationed in the Center which will then be open for public inspection.

The entrance to the Naval Reserve section of the building will serve as a speaker's stand. Lt. Cmdr. Geppert said that bleachers on either side of the Center will be built to seat spectators.

The two local Reserve units will form in front of the Training Center on either side of the flagpole. The combined personnel of the divisions totals about 460 men.

The Marine Band will present an informal concert from about 2:15 p. m. as the crowd is assembling for the event.

Lt. Cmdr. Charles B. Gray, instructor-inspector of the Naval Reserve, announced that the two units will have a joint drill Wednesday night in preparation for Saturday's activities.

Pollution Officer To Confer With City Officials

An official of the Maryland Water Pollution Control Comission will visit Cumberland this week to confer with city officials on methods of financing a sewage disposal project, Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday.

Mayor Post made this announcement at a meeting of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

At its August meeting, the local commission recommended a study of Congressional legislation setting up a water pollution control fund of $22,500,000 a year for five years to aid municipalities throughout the United States in financing municipal sewage treatment.

The mayor said Paul W. McKee, Annapolis, executive secretary of the Maryland Water Pollution Control Commission, would come here for a conference with the Mayor and Council on the subject.

Arrangements for the conference were made between the mayor and McKee at the seventh annual meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin, held in Hagerstown last week.

In this connection, Mayor Post also announced that the Interstate Commission may meet in Cumberland next April, which would be the first time the group has convened in this city.

The next session of that commission will be held in Washington in December.

Most of yesterday's session of the Planning and Zoning Commission was devoted to discussion of Cumberland's traffic problem, which Chairman James Alfred Avirett termed the city's "No. 1 project."

The commission went on record as commending the Mayor and Council and Police Commissioner William V. Keegan for establishing the new Traffic Division in the Cumberland Police Department.

The division was formally organized September 7, headed by Lt. Edwin R. Lilya.

Recommendation that an overall traffic survey be conducted in Cumberland to aid the Traffic Division in its work was also included in the statement of commendation.

Mayor Post said he noted beneficial effects of Hagerstown's traffic survey during his visit to that city last week.

With regard to the problem of obtaining a municipal parking area for the city, Mayor Post said R. A. J. Morrison, superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, has informed him he is willing to hold another conference regarding possible use of railroad property on North George Street for a parking area.

Avirett suggested that Albert S. Paye, liaison engineer for the Cumberland flood control project, be invited to attend the commission's October meeting to discuss possible use of land to be salvaged in flood work.

Year-Round Plan For Tuberculosis Work Proposed

Organization of a year-round program of tuberculosis work in Allegany County will be discussed at a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in City Hall, Water Commissioner William J. Edwards announced yesterday.

Edwards has been serving since 1943 as chairman of the annual Christmas Seal campaigns to raise funds for tuberculosis work.

Mrs. Theresa K. Longwell, this city, is scheduled to be appointed full-time executive secretary for the program, Edwards said.

Mrs. Ruth K. Graham, Baltimore, director of county organization for the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, will also attend tonight's meeting.

She visited the county last May for conferences with Edwards and Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, regarding the plan.

A board of directors will be elected, and plans will be discussed for an educational program in the schools, Edwards said. In addition, location of headquarters for the new organization will be considered.

Edwards pointed out that appointment of a secretary would provide a 12-month program of tuberculosis work, as compared to only two or three months during the annual fund-raising campaigns.

In counties which have no executive secretary, Edwards explained, 70 per cent of funds raised are retained for local use, while 25 per cent goes to the state and the remaining five per cent to national headquarters. Of that five per cent, 1/20 is used for tuberculosis research work.

However, with appointment of an

BIRTHS

Allegany Hospital announced the following births yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Thomas 415 South Street, twin sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blacka, 404 Central Avenue, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brando, Deer Park, a son.

Memorial Hospital announced the following births yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pennell, Route 2, Williams Road, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Moody, 400 Bond Street, a son.

Movie Ban Warning Was Given, Harris Declares

Statement Made By State's Attorney

Representatives of the Potomac Drive-In Theatre were warned in advance that Sunday operation would be a violation, State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris said yesterday in a statement to the press.

The open air movie theatre, located on Winchester Road, was ordered closed as far as Sunday operation is concerned prior to Sunday, county laws prohibiting Sunday September 5, in accordance with movies in unincorporated communities, Harris said.

Explaining that local theater operators had complained to his office that the Potomac Drive-In Theater was operating on Sunday hours in violation of the law, Harris declares he then referred the matter to enforcement officers.

In his statement Harris also explains the complaint which brought about closing the Majestic Theater in Mt. Savage, came from E. J. Ryan, attorney for the Drive-In officials. Harris said action was taken on the Mt. Savage Theater after Ryan suggested uniform enforcement of the law.

Harris does not argue merits or demerits of the Sunday movie ban, saying this is a matter for the State Legislature. He explains the duties of the state's attorney as such, and declares enforcement officers should not be placed in a position where they must apologize for enforcement of laws as they exist on the statue books.

The text of Harris' statement follows:

"After several days absence from the county, I returned to find in the local papers that quite an issue had been fomented because two motion picture theatres could not operate on the Sabbath in violation of existing laws.

"Because of the picture as painted in several recent issues of the local press a clear, concise and accurate statement from me would be in order.

Cites Enabling Act

"Prior to the year 1933, motion pictures could not be exhibited in Allegany County on Sunday. The Maryland General Assembly at its session in that year passed an enabling act permitting the several municipalities in the county to permit, prohibit or regulate by ordinance the operation of motion picture theatres on Sunday.

"This statute did not change the existing law in areas outside of the municipalities. Therefore, theatres that are not located within the boundaries of municipal corporations cannot legally operate on Sunday. Whether the law is good or evil, consistent or inconsistent is not for me to say.

"Pursuant to the terms and powers of the statute the city and town governments passed ordinances regulating the hours when Sunday movies would be permitted and in some, if not all, instances placed a special municipal tax on admissions and providing penalties for violation of the ordinances.

"Several weeks ago Kenneth R. Baker, G. Roy Sutherland and the Baland Corporation, trading as Potomac Drive-in Theatre, began the operation of an open air theatre in an area located outside the confines of any municipality. To the best of my knowledge, I have never seen and do not know any people connected with this enterprise. I have no feeling for nor against them.

"On Sunday afternoon, August 22nd, Mr. Kenneth R. Baker telephoned me at my home and requested a hurried conference with me regarding the operation of his theatre.

I suggested he confer with his own lawyer. It occurs to me that any group of business men would not invest a substantial sum of money in a business without first knowing whether they could legally operate the business six or seven days a week. It is certainly not good management to invest your money and then inquire.

Operators Complained

"However, I heard nothing more of the matter until the week of August 30th. Then certain theatre operators in Cumberland complained that the Potomac Drive-In Theatre was operating after Saturday midnight into the early hours on Sunday morning. They intimated they should have the same privilege. They also complained this theatre did not have any legal right to operate at any time on Sunday.

"Competition in business of this kind is keen and can lead to strange limits. The Drive-In Theatre is located out in the country. It paid no Sunday admissions tax, such as competing theatres located in town. If permitted to operate on Sunday, it was not subject to any limitation in hours such as the theatres located within corporate limits. I could see that this was not a complaint to be ignored, otherwise, it would lead to a complete break*down of the Sunday moving picture* law.

"I sent T. J. Boyle, county investigator, and Deputy Sheriff Edgar Lewis out to the Drive-In Theatre in inform the management that he could not operate on Sunday. They informed the man who said he was the manager in charge. This was on Thursday the 2nd day of September.

On Saturday, September 4th, Edward J. Ryan called and said he represented the Drive-In Theatre. He inquired about the law regulating Sunday motion pictures. I referred him to the statute and informed him the Sunday operation of the theatre would be a violation. On Sunday afternoon, September 5th, I talked with William L. Wilson who is associated with Mr. Ryan in representing this firm. He asked me about the status of the case and he was told the sheriff would not permit the operation of this theatre

The Weather

Surprise, surprise, it's summer again. Yesterday's 90 degree high was reminiscent of the heat wave a couple of weeks ago. The overnight low was 51, but last night showed 60, a little higher than the night before. More of the same is predicted for today.

School Day Will Be Observed By County Students

Early Closing Set For Freedom Train

Special patriotic programs designed to stress Americans' great heritage of freedom will be held in Allegany County Schools next Tuesday, which will be celebrated as "School Day" of the Rededication Week being held here in connection with the coming of the Freedom Train here next Wednesday, Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of Allegany County Schools, announced.

School officials also announced that junior and senior high schools will be dismissed at 2 p. m. next Wednesday to allow students to visit the Freedom Train.

Kopp said it was a "decided privilege to have the day set aside for schools to point out in a special way to students, the heritage of freedom which has come to us out of the past."

Suggested activities for "School Day" includes discussions of aspects of our heritage, stories and poems dramatizing aspects of citizenship, school assemblies and historical exhibits.

Must Join Line

Although elementary schools will not dismiss early, sixth grade students who bring written notes from their parents may be excused at 2 p. m., Kopp said. Students below the sixth grade may leave early only if their parents call for them.

Since no specific time can be set aside for visits to the Freedom Train, student groups will have to line up in the order of their coming, he added.

The Freedom Train will be parked on the B. and O. siding at Williams Street when it visits Cumberland Wednesday, September 22, C. S. Catherman, Jr., train committee chairman, announced after a conference with local railroad officials.

The train will arrive from Johnstown, Pa., in the early morning and will be opened to the public at 10 a. m.

City Police have made arrangements to close Williams Street to vehicular traffic between Park Street and the railroad to accommodate crowds expected to view the train. The Williams Street crossing will also be blocked.

Dedication Planned

Persons wishing to view the train must do so on a "first come, first served" basis, Catherman said. No groups will be given special privilege.

Brief dedication ceremonies will be held between 9 and 10 a. m. at which Mayor Thomas S. Post will "accept" the train from the train director.

Pedestrian traffic through the train will be one-way, entering from Williams Street and exiting out Spring Street to Maryland Avenue.

Children 12 years of age or over, or who have attained the Sixth Grade in elementary school, will be permitted aboard the train. Under that age, children must be accompanied by an adult.

The Red Cross will maintain a first-aid booth during the exhibition hours.

Ex-Con Arrested In Bedford On Car Theft Charge

An ex-convict who served time in Texas and California appeared on his way back to prison yesterday after being apprehended in Bedford Sunday on charges of stealing a car in California and driving it to Bedford.

Police said Troy W. Abbott, 32, Oakland, Calif., who was freed from Texas State Prison July 30, yesterday was arraigned in Pittsburgh Federal Court on the Dyer Act.

"His suspicious appearance," caused Pennsylvania State Police to stop Abbott in Bedford Sunday, according to the Bedford baracks commander, who added he was accompanied by a runaway Pittsburgh boy.

Abbott admitted he had stolen the car in California and was immediately turned over to a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent and transported to Pittsburgh for a preliminary hearing.

The prisoner told authorities he served time in San Quentin Prison, Calif., after being convicted on a grand larceny charge. Shortly after *being freed he was arested and con*victed on a concealed weapon charge and sentenced to Folsom Prison, Calif. After serving two years he was paroled.

Then, arested on a stolen automobile charge, Abbott was returned to Folsom on the parole violation and shortly after he finished his time he was again arested and sentenced to Texas State Prison, Huntsville, Tex., on a grand larceny charge.

It was from the Texas Prison that he was freed little more than a month before he entered on the present escapade.

Authorities said the runaway boy M. Lee Kidder, 17, was returned to his parents in Pittsburgh yesterday at the same time Abbott was transported there for the preliminary hearing.

The stolen car was not damaged, Pennsylvania State Police said.

Lilya To Address Optimist Club

Lt. Edwin R. Lilya, new head of the City Police Department Traffic Division, will address the Optimist Club of Cumberland at 6:15 p. m. tomorrow at Central YMCA.

The committee in charge of distribution of the gum ball machines in the city has reported that $61.95 has been received from the machines to date.

REGISTERING EXHIBITS--Registering and classifying exhibits for the Greater Cumberland Fair beginning today kept registrars busy in the main hall at Fairgo yesterday. (Left to right) Miss Gloria E. Bohn, assistant county home demonstration agent; Mrs. Joseph Coleman, 205 Fayette Street, former leader of the Cumberland 4-H Club, and Miss Regina Ferguson, Union Grove, assistant leader of her club and 4-H All Star, help the lines of people trying for the prizes to be awarded this week. Waiting to put their handicrafts among the correct exhibits are (left to right) Mrs. John C. AFL Unions Halt American Store Contract Talks

Manager Questions Bargaining Rights

Officials of Local 322, Meat Cutters Union, and Local 886, Retail Clerks Union, both AFL, announced yesterday there are discontinuing contract negotiations with the American Stores Company, Inc., pending settlement of a decertification petition which has been filed with the National Labor Relations Board.

C. E. Stutzman, acting business agent for the Clerks Union, said the NLRB has notified the locals that the decertification petition was filed by Freeda Smith, manager of the Everett, Pa., store, who points out a question of representation has arisen.

The unions, which represent American Store workers in Cumberland, Frostburg, Hyndman, Meyersdale, Lonaconing, Mt. Savage, Piedmont, Keyser and Westernport, recently won by four votes a NLRB union security election for the some 125 workers.

The union said William C. Humphreys, field examiner of the Baltimore regional NLRB office, has notified the unions that he will arrive here in the near future to arrange a preliminary hearing on the charge.

If upheld, the petition would require the NLRB to hold another election to determine the bargaining agent for the workers.

Workers recently turned down a contract offer of the firm which would have granted an approximate $2.25 weekly wage boost. The present contract will expire October 3.

The petition marks the first such case in this area since the passage of the Taft-Hartley Law. Uncontested union security elections have been won by Local 1874, TWUA, CIO, at the Celanese plant and at plants at Keyser and Lonaconing, Retail Clerks and Meat Cutters at the A. and P. Super Market here, local Bakery Workers and at the Luke and Williamsburg plants of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Companies.

Cresaptown FOE To Be Instituted

John T. Corrigan, deputy grand auditor of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, will arrive here Saturday to check the charter list of the new Cresaptown Aerie, Herman L. Myers, Cresaptown organizer for the Eagles, announced last night.

Myers said Corrigan will institute the order Monday night. State president John F. Miller and State Past President C. William H. Baer will attend, the organizer said.

Baer will be in charge of the degree team of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, which will conduct the initiation, Myers said.

Delegations will attend from Baltimore, Hagerstown, Cumberland, Frederick, Brunswick and Frostburg, Myers said.

Myers said that committees selected from the charter signers at Cresaptown are "working hard" on the present campaign to have more than 100 charter signers ready for the institution Monday night.

Headquarters for the Cresaptown Aerie have been established at Keister's Garage Myers said, adding that new members will be accepted until the night of institution.

Potomac Park Group To Meet Tonight

An outline of the fall program of the Potomac Park Improvement Association will be presented at the regular meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Potomac Park United Brethren Evangelical Church, J. Milton Dick, president, announced last night.

Dick said a discussion on plans to attempt to secure fire hydrants at Potomac Park would take place.

Mrs. Oscar Varner, chairman of the entertainment committee, will outline plans for a series of dances and other entertainment.

Local High School Youth Describes Advantages Of YMCA Membership

"Fall Maneuvers" Officially Open

A local high school boy who has been a member of Central YMCA for eight years was guest speaker last night at the kickoff dinner of the YMCA's "membership emphasis" program.

The program is designed to interpert to the community the meaning of membership in the YMCA, and to enroll 500 new members.

James Alderton, 17-year-old senior at Fort Hill who has belonged to the "Y" since he was nine years old, described in his own words what advantages such membership holds for young people.

He pointed out that new friends are gained through after-school recreational programs at the "Y" and that boys and girls learn "sportsmanship and common courtesy" as well as how to get along with others.

"I believe that boys and girls who are members will be better citizens of our community when they grow older, because of their membership in the community," young Alderton declared.

J. Goodloe Jackson, membership chairman and chief of staff of the "YMCA fall maneuvers," said that one of the main aims of the program is to spread information about the wide range of YMCA activities throughout the community.

Winfield H. Adam, acting general secretary and liaison officer for the program, explained that new memberships will be sought among all age groups with no emphasis on any one group.

The 65 persons attending the dinner received information kits and other supplies.

"Membership emphasis week" is scheduled from September 17 to September 24. There will be only one report meeting, in the form of a victory dinner September 24 at 6:29 p. m. in the "green room" at Central YMCA.

Adolf Blunk, YMCA president, presided at the meeting. Adam introduced the guest speaker. Rev. W. R. Keefe, Jr., pastor of Grace Baptist Church, gave the invocation.

Grocery Contract Sought By Union

Drivers and warehousemen of two local wholesale grocery firms will meet here Sunday at 10 a. m. to take strike action if a satisfactory contract agreement is not reached by that time, C. E. Stutzman, business agent for Local 453, Teamsters Union, which represents the workers, reported yesterday.

He said James A. Holden, federal conciliator, is in Cumberland attempting to arrange another meeting between the C. D. Kenny and Kenneweg Wholesale Grocery firms and the unions today or tomorrow.

Stutzman said the workers want a 10 cent an hour wage boost. They have rejected a company offer which would extend the contract until January 31, 1949, for an additional week's holiday paid as a bonus.

Stutzman said the Kenny firm has offered a 10 cent increase in Baltimore and 7½ cents in Richmond.

The 1947 contract, which expired July 1, provided a 10 cent boost to bring rates to $44 for a 40 hour week, the union said.

Hunters Form Late Rush For Licenses

County hunters formed a late rush to obtain licenses at the Court House yesterday, and even more are expected to get their hunting licenses today, Court House attaches said, as the annual 15-day squirrel season opens tomorrow.

A total of 4,411 licenses have been issued to date, and yesterday was reported the busiest day this year for hunting licenses with over 600 being issued.

Deputy clerks reported issuing 3,020 county licenses and 1,391 state-wide hunting permits to date. Yesterday, 130 state-wide licenses and 500 county permits were issued.

Four non-resident licenses were issued and three anglers obtained fishing licenses.

Mrs. Ethel Leary Fatally Injured In Auto Accident

Husband Admitted To Memorial Hospital

A Bean's Cove, Pa., woman, Mrs. Ethel Leary, 47, was killed and her husband, Thomas Leary, 48, who operates Leary's Tavern, was seriously injured at 7:15 p. m. yesterday when the car in which they were riding failed to negotiate a curve on Bean's Cove Road.

Mrs. Leary, who with her husband was returning to the tavern from a visit to Bedford, Pa., was pronounced dead at Memorial Hospital upon arrival at 7:45 p. m.

Attaches said Leary's condition was "fair," and described his injuries as abrasions of the lower lip, left shoulder, knee and elbow. He was admitted.

Maryland State Police were first summoned to the accident, but later learned that the scene was on the Pennsylvania side of Bean's Cove road and notified Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford Barracks.

Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, Maryland State Police said he learned that Leary failed to negotiate a curve within 300 yards of the tavern to which he was returning, but explained he had no details of the accident.

Hospital attaches, however, quoted Leary, as saying a car was parked on the curve and he was unable to pass it, therefore was forced off the road.

First police reports indicated that the Leary car was the vehicle involved in the accident. Pennsylvania police went to the hospital last night where they questioned Leary and then were reported en route to the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Leary was the former Ethel Eleanora Foreman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Foreman 1101 Lexington Avenue. Besides her parents and husband she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy O'Neal, Frindscove, Pa., one son, Thomas Leary, Jr., Baltimore, one sister, Mrs. Margaret Davidson, Baltimore and one brother.

Attorneys To Honor Judge W. A. Huster

Approximately 75 attorneys from Garrett, Allegany and Washington Counties will honor retiring Judge William A. Huster at a testimonial dinner at Ali Ghan Country Club tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

Judge Huster, who has been chief judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, retired Sunday on his 70th birthday. The dinner tonight is sponsored by members of the bar of the three counties. Clarence Lippel, president of the Allegany Association will present Judge Huster with a gift.

Lawler Will Head Holy Name Society

Thomas C. Lawler, 214 Fayette Street, was elected president of the Holy Name Society of SS. Peter and Paul Church at a meeting of the group held Sunday night.

Other officers are Edward Dressman, vice president, and John W. Kreidler, recording secretary. Rev. Antonine Vukmanovich, O. F. M. Cap., was re-elected treasurer and spiritual director.

A social hour and reception of new members wil be held after evening devotions Sunday, October 10. Some 177 men of the parish are members of the society.

Legion To Complete Picnic Plans Tonight

Final plans for the annual Legion picnic will be made at a meeting of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 tonight at 8 o'clock at the post home, Commander Paul C. Weisenmiller announced.

Weisenmiller added that Clyde Kuhns, picnic committee chairman, has also called a meeting of the entire picnic committee for 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Record Exhibits Entered In Annual County Fair

Program Set For Training Center Commissioning

Adm. Ainsworth Is Principal Speaker

Commissioning ceremonies for the new Naval and Marine Training Center on McKaig's Hill will be opened Saturday at 3 p. m. by Congressman J. Glenn Beall (R-Allegany) Lt. Cmdr. William H. Geppert, chairman of the Naval Reserve Advisory committee, announced yesterday.

The entire program will be broadcast by Station WCUM, he said.

Following Congressman Beall's opening remarks, Chaplain Garner, USNR, Bedford, Pa., will give the invocation. The Allegany County representative will then speak further, welcoming the guests of honor.

He will introduce Captain V. Havard, Jr. USN, director of the Naval Reserve Fifth District, who will speak on the Naval Reserve Program. He will be followed by Col. L. A. Brown, USMC, director of the Fifth Marine Corps Reserve, who will give a similar talk on the Marine Reserve program.

The principal speaker will be Admiral W. L. Ainsworth, commandant, Fifth Naval District, who will commission the center.

Adm. Ainsworth will place a United States flag in the hands of a color guard comprised of two members of each of the Reserve units. The guard will raise the colors on the flagpole in front of the Armory as the Quantico Marine Base Band, flown to Cumberland for the afternoon, plays "The Star Spangled Banner."

As soon as the commissioning ceremony is over a 24-man watch, 12 from each unit, will be stationed in the Center which will then be open for public inspection.

The entrance to the Naval Reserve section of the building will serve as a speaker's stand. Lt. Cmdr. Geppert said that bleachers on either side of the Center will be built to seat spectators.

The two local Reserve units will form in front of the Training Center on either side of the flagpole. The combined personnel of the divisions totals about 460 men.

The Marine Band will present an informal concert from about 2:15 p. m. as the crowd is assembling for the event.

Lt. Cmdr. Charles B. Gray, instructor-inspector of the Naval Reserve, announced that the two units will have a joint drill Wednesday night in preparation for Saturday's activities.

Pollution Officer To Confer With City Officials

An official of the Maryland Water Pollution Control Comission will visit Cumberland this week to confer with city officials on methods of financing a sewage disposal project, Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday.

Mayor Post made this announcement at a meeting of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

At its August meeting, the local commission recommended a study of Congressional legislation setting up a water pollution control fund of $22,500,000 a year for five years to aid municipalities throughout the United States in financing municipal sewage treatment.

The mayor said Paul W. McKee, Annapolis, executive secretary of the Maryland Water Pollution Control Commission, would come here for a conference with the Mayor and Council on the subject.

Arrangements for the conference were made between the mayor and McKee at the seventh annual meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin, held in Hagerstown last week.

In this connection, Mayor Post also announced that the Interstate Commission may meet in Cumberland next April, which would be the first time the group has convened in this city.

The next session of that commission will be held in Washington in December.

Most of yesterday's session of the Planning and Zoning Commission was devoted to discussion of Cumberland's traffic problem, which Chairman James Alfred Avirett termed the city's "No. 1 project."

The commission went on record as commending the Mayor and Council and Police Commissioner William V. Keegan for establishing the new Traffic Division in the Cumberland Police Department.

The division was formally organized September 7, headed by Lt. Edwin R. Lilya.

Recommendation that an overall traffic survey be conducted in Cumberland to aid the Traffic Division in its work was also included in the statement of commendation.

Mayor Post said he noted beneficial effects of Hagerstown's traffic survey during his visit to that city last week.

With regard to the problem of obtaining a municipal parking area for the city, Mayor Post said R. A. J. Morrison, superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, has informed him he is willing to hold another conference regarding possible use of railroad property on North George Street for a parking area.

Avirett suggested that Albert S. Paye, liaison engineer for the Cumberland flood control project, be invited to attend the commission's October meeting to discuss possible use of land to be salvaged in flood work.

Five-Day Event Opens At Fairgo Today

Cumberland's mountain-locked fairground swarmed with 4-H Club members, Future Farmers of America, farmers and homemakers rushing to get their exhbiits set up before the 6 p. m. deadline yesterday in readiness for the five-day Cumberland Fair opening today.

Registrars from county farm groups worked steadily in the main hall classifying the vegetable, handiwork, canned goods, baked goods and other articles.

In addition to the traditional fair exhibits, 4-H members have entered individual and group notebooks for judging and a fire prevention display in the far corner of the hall.

Championship wares will be shown to Cumberland. John H. Lindner and sons have arranged their prize-winning honey in cathedral-like tiers. They are fresh from the State Fair at Timonium where they captured 40 ribbons, eight of them blue, first place awards.

Purebred Pig Show

The Kiwanis Club will be able to see the result of their purebred pig project begun in July, 1946. At that time the club gave the Future Farmers of America one Berkshire and one Hampshire sow.

Today Earl Twigg will show Mary Ellen, II, daughter of the original Berkshire. In the next stall, is her daughter, Mary Ellen, 17th, owned by Robert Haislip, Beall High School, Frostburg.

The stipulation made with the original gift of the sows was that one from each litter must be given back to the organization to be raised by another FFA member.

The Hampshires are doing well, too. James Browning, Flintstone, is exhibiting an offspring of the original sow and her ten-week-old piglets. One of this litter has already been given to Thomas Santymire, Oldtown.

Many Prize Winners

Miss Patty Fisher, Narrows Park, is giving Cumberland a chance to see the dress she made which was judged best in the county and won second prize at the Maryland 4-H Club style show at the University in August.

Beef cattle and milk cows fill two stalls. County 4-H Club members have entered some purebred animals which they have raised themselves. Ralph Porterfield, University of Maryland, will judge the cattle Wednesday.

The sheep have been having their wool trimmed and the prize egg layers are in their pens. Fred Miltenberger, Ridgeley, W. Va., proudly displayed his two white leghorn hens who lay about 180 eggs a year. Fred is also president of the Allegany County 4-H Cattle Club and is showing some Holsteins of his own.

Modern Wonder Girl, a Duroc sow owned by George Lechlider, Laytonsville, will parade her 900 pounds for visitors. The three-year-old pig has never been defeated by any other in her class. She has won more than 10 blue ribbons.

Races Start Tomorrow

The carnival scheduled to be in operation last night, will not open until 7 p. m. tonight. However, the fair itself will open this afternoon as announced.

Harness racing will begin tomorrow afternoon with the "Free For All Trot." Purses for each of the three races Wednesday to Friday will be $405.

Year-Round Plan For Tuberculosis Work Proposed

Organization of a year-round program of tuberculosis work in Allegany County will be discussed at a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in City Hall, Water Commissioner William J. Edwards announced yesterday.

Edwards has been serving since 1943 as chairman of the annual Christmas Seal campaigns to raise funds for tuberculosis work.

Mrs. Theresa K. Longwell, this city, is scheduled to be appointed full-time executive secretary for the program, Edwards said.

Mrs. Ruth K. Graham, Baltimore, director of county organization for the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, will also attend tonight's meeting.

She visited the county last May for conferences with Edwards and Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, regarding the plan.

A board of directors will be elected and plans will be discussed for an educational program in the schools, Edwards said. In addition, location of headquarters for the new organization will be considered.

Edwards pointed out that appointment of a secretary would provide a 12-month program of tuberculosis work, as compared to only two or three months during the annual fund-raising campaigns.

In counties which have no executive secretary, Edwards explained, 70 per cent of funds raised are retained for local use, while 25 per cent goes to the state and the remaining five per cent to national headquarters. Of that five per cent, 1/20 is used for tuberculosis research work.

However, with appointment of an
